Era of Excellence
Continues at Comcast Center

- Maryland is the only program to advance to the NCAA Elite Eight in each of the past two seasons.
- The Terps are one of just seven schools to appear in each of nine straight NCAA Tournaments since 1994.
- Maryland has won at least 25 games in each of the past four seasons.
- Maryland is 54-5 at home since 1999 (13-1, 15-1, 11-3, 15-0).
- Maryland played its final game at Cole Field House while clinching the ACC regular season title and completing an undefeated home schedule.
- Win streaks that are carried into Comcast Center: 18 straight home wins; 10 straight ACC home wins; 84 consecutive non-conference home wins is the longest such streak in the country.

Fourth In The Nation

CoSIDA

The 2001-02 Maryland men's basketball media guide was selected as the fourth-best media guide in the country last season, as chosen by the College Sports Information Directors of America. One of 16 such citations by the Terps' media relations office last year, the men's basketball guide by Kevin Messenger and Jason Yellin received merit as the best guide in District 2 for the second consecutive year.

COMCAST CENTER

Maryland's new student activities building and home of Maryland Athletics was completed in fall 2002. The Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball, and will serve as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

The Terrapins' first public event for basketball was its annual Midnight Madness celebration, followed by exhibition and regular season opening games for the men's and women's teams during November.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly-700 student-athletes on 25 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gym serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, large meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

Twenty suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans. Maryland's student seating capacity accommodates 4,000, with students ringing the first 10 rows around the floor and a majority of seats on the arena's west wall.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors will learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

Among University and State officials on hand for the arena's grand opening on Oct. 10 were Athletics Director Deborah Yow, University President C.D. Mote, Jr., Maryland Governor Parris Glendening and Maryland State Senator Mike Miller. Testudo helped the dignitaries and invited guests while opening the building with a formal ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Men's and women's basketball locker rooms are decked with individual lockers, a meeting room, a team lounge, coaches locker rooms and adjoining training facilities.

Spacious concourses on two levels provide ample room for comfort, including 37 restrooms and 12 concession stands.

comcast center

A fully-stocked merchandise store greets visitors in Comcast Center's main lobby, directly opposite the Walk of Fame and History.

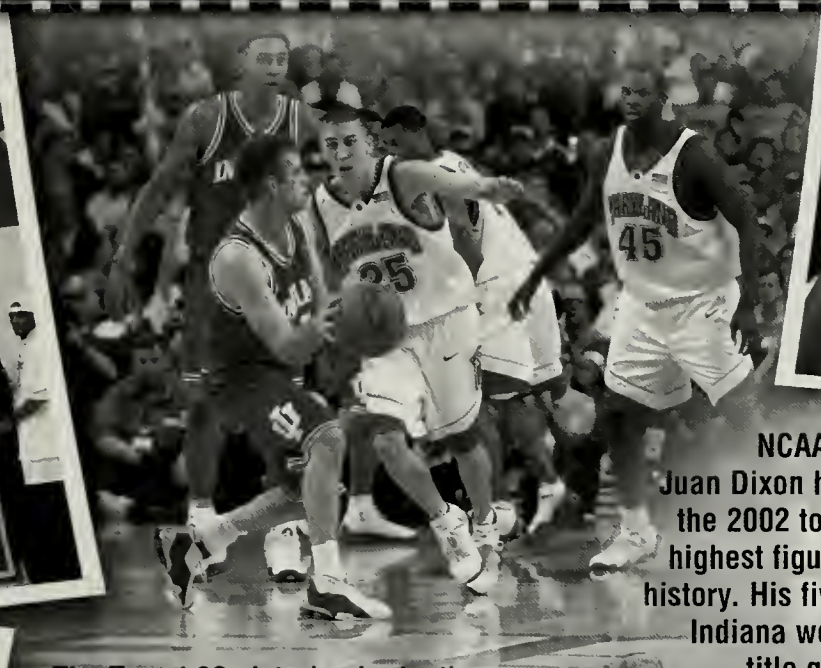
The title was Maryland's first in men's basketball. Maryland is just the fourth Division I institution and the first from the ACC to claim an NCAA championship in basketball and a first-place finish in an AP football poll.



NCAA Final Four MVP Juan Dixon had 155 points in the 2002 tourney, the ninth-highest figure in tournament history. His five steals against Indiana were the most in a title game since 1990.

The Terps' 32 victories broke the Maryland record for wins in a season. The Terps became the 15th team in ACC history to win 30 games.

Maryland's Baxter & Dixon duo is the highest-scoring tandem (4,127 points) in NCAA history to win a national championship. They are the 12th-highest scoring duo of all time.

BASKETBALL ALUMNI

Former men's basketball players are among the most devoted followers of the Maryland basketball program, and continue their involvement each year through various events including an alumni game and banquet during Midnight Madness festivities and a golf outing with Gary Williams.

Among the participants who returned for the 2001 and 2002 Midnight Madness celebrations were: Mike Anderson, Jeff Baxter, Adrian Branch, Neil Brayton, Wayne Bristol, Laron Cephas, Bob Cutler, Dave Dickerson, Max Etienne, Norman Fields, Ernie Graham, Jerry Greenspan, Joe Harrington, Mo Howard, Speedy Jones, Donny Judd, Matt Kaluzienski, Mitch Kasoff, Matt Kovarik, Cedric Lewis, Tom McMillen, Dutch Morley, Jim O'Brien, Tom Roy, Kurtis Shultz, Duane Simpkins, Jim Spiro, Terrell Stokes, Stan Swetnam, Mike Thibeault, Jap Trimble and Lubo Zizakovic.

The Terps basketball staff and former Maryland All-Americans Len Elmore and Tom McMillen helped celebrate Gary Williams' acceptance of the Winged Foot Award as presented by the New York Athletic Club in May 2002.

FRANCIS LENDS A HAND

In 1999, University of Maryland students slept in sleeping bags around the floors of Cole Field House in order to get tickets to watch Steve Francis and his Terrapin teammates play college basketball.

Two years later, many of those same students were temporarily without a home following the Sept. 24, 2001, tornado that swept through the Maryland campus, but Francis was on hand to lend a helping hand.

Francis, a college All-American in 1999 and the NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in 2000, was on campus that Monday afternoon at the time the tornado ripped the College Park campus. He was on the floor at Cole Field House playing pick-up basketball with several members of the Maryland basketball team, when at 5:20 p.m. the twister roared past Cole and through the northwest quadrant of the campus.

Three days later, the Houston Rockets point guard did his part to aid in local relief efforts by offering a free meal to the approximately 700 students who reside in the University Courtyard apartments, which had been rendered as unsafe after the disaster. Residents of the Courtyards, essentially homeless for that period, were living in hotels; on cots at the Campus Recreation Center; with family; or on floors or couches belonging to other friends and students. Most of the students, juniors and seniors, were Maryland students while Francis led the Terps as high as a No. 2 ranking in 1998-99.

About 110 students got word of Francis' dinner and were in attendance at the UM Golf Course banquet facility. They were treated to a full-course meal with barbeque chicken as the entrée, and ice cream sundaes for dessert. Francis, who joined the group for dinner, said in a few remarks that he remembered people supporting him while he was a Maryland student and it was a small way that he could give back to those who helped him.

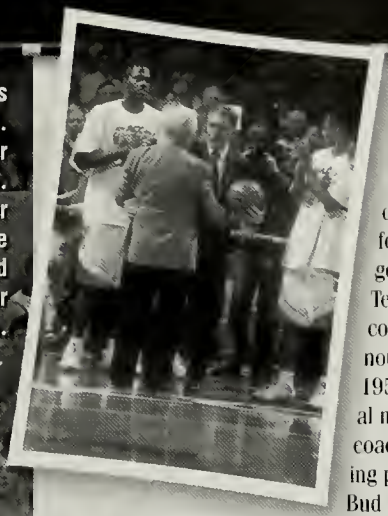
Francis continues to be an annual contributor at the Gary Williams Basketball Camp, and last year returned to Cole Field House prior to the Maryland vs. Duke game to have his jersey honored.

An annual alumni game at Midnight Madness showcases some of Maryland's greatest stars of the past. Jumping for the opening tip at Comcast Center in October were Tom McMillen and Ernie Graham. Current assistant coaches and former players Matt Kovarik and Dave Dickerson are sandwiched around early '70s star Jim O'Brien.



PAST AND PRESENT

Alums and longtime friends of the program are often found coming back to the university, whether for games or celebrations, or for the annual summer golf outings hosted by Gary Williams and his staff. A Terrapin alum himself, Williams has frequently welcomed former teammates and coaches. Among the notable participants at the 2002 golf outings were 1950s All-American and former NBA coach and general manager Gene Shue; former Maryland player and coach Billy Hahn; former Williams teammate and coaching partner Joe Harrington; and former Williams coach Bud Millikan.

Many of those same alums and former All-Americans played a large part in the closing ceremony of Cole Field House last March. Millikan was one of the special guests for the evening, re-uniting the former 17-year head coach of the Terps with his prized student, Gary Williams. Millikan's teams opened Cole during the 1950s. The Williams-Millikan combination helped close the old building in style, with the basketball family surrounding them.

COMMITMENT TO EDUCATION

Three of Maryland's four seniors in 2002 were on track to graduate while participating in NBA camps during spring and summer. The fourth, Earl Badu, has been accepted to law school. Juan Dixon, Lonny Baxter and Byron Mouton all are within two semesters of graduation.

Two of three Maryland seniors walked through graduation ceremonies in May 2001, and the third, Terence Morris, was on track to graduate after being drafted in the second round of the NBA draft last June.

From 1999 to 2001, the Terps have had eight players complete their college eligibility. Four have graduated (LaRon Cephas, Matt Hahn, Mike Mardesich, Laron Profit), a fifth (Obinna Ekezie) is pursuing a double major in engineering and business while playing the past two seasons in the NBA, and two others from the Terps' 1999 Sweet Sixteen squad – Steve Francis and Terrell Stokes – were enrolled in classes during summer 2001 and 2002 to complete their degrees.

Maryland student-athletes all work toward completion of their college degrees with the assistance of academic counselor Melvin Robinson and the Academic Support and Career Development Unit.

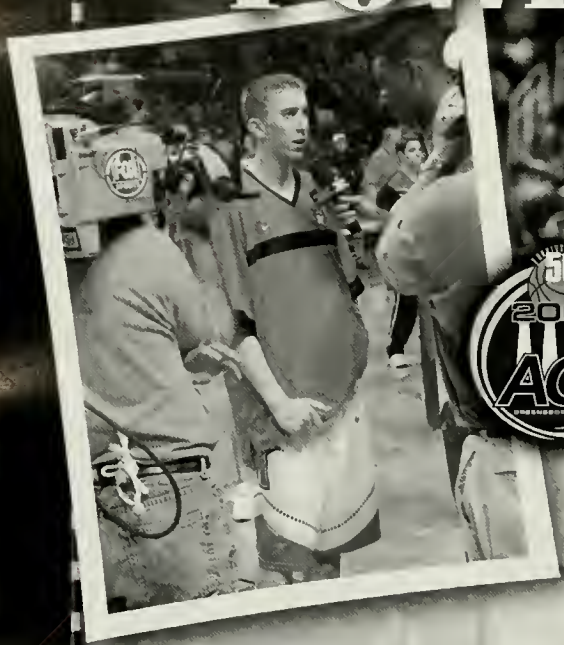
BASKETBALL TRAVEL

The Maryland basketball team flies charter airplanes to nearly every game on its schedule. Pictured is a 50-passenger aircraft which transports the Terps from city to city throughout the season. This regional jet features two-by-two seating with no middle seats, and is the quietest flying jet in the world. It can cruise at 530 mph and up to 41,000 feet

Charter flights make getting to, and coming back from, any destination easy and comfortable. This type of travel allows the Terps to be on campus and in class as much as possible, and overnight stays are minimized. The convenience and comfort of charter airplane travel allows for convenient, efficient, frequent service as well as maximized practice and study time.

THE POWER OF THE ACC

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE



ACC AND THE RPI REPORT

The ACC has been the top rated conference in four of the past seven years according to the RPI Rating. After ranking first for three consecutive seasons (1996-98) the ACC ranked second in 1999, third in 2000 and second in 2002.

ACC NO. 1 IN THE ASSOCIATED PRESS POLL

There have been 834 Associated Press polls since the first on Jan. 20, 1949. The ACC, despite annually having the country's smallest membership total, is the most ranked conference in the nation with 2,420 listings.

AP POLL REFLECTS ACC STRENGTH

Over the last five seasons, the ACC is the only conference in the nation to have each of its teams ranked at least once in the weekly Associated Press poll. ACC teams ranked since 1998: Duke (92 of 92 polls), Maryland (84), North Carolina (67), Wake Forest (40), Virginia (34), Clemson (17), Florida State (8), NC State (3), Georgia Tech (2).

With Maryland's No. 1 ranking in the final USA Today/ESPN poll in 2002, the ACC became the first conference in history to have two different teams finish the season ranked No. 1 in the two major polls.

ACC UNPRECEDENTED IN THE ASSOCIATED PRESS POLL

The ACC became the first conference in history to have seven teams in the Associated Press poll during two consecutive weeks during the 1997-98 season. Maryland, North Carolina, Duke, Florida State, Clemson, Wake Forest and Georgia Tech were each ranked in the AP polls of Dec. 1 and 8.

The ACC reached unprecedented success in the AP poll in 2000-01, with five different teams ranked in the Top 25 from start-to-finish: Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia and Wake Forest.

The ACC has had at least three teams ranked in the final AP poll in 20 of the last 23 years.

ACC IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

In terms of success, the ACC is unrivaled in the history of the NCAA Tournament. The nine current league teams have posted an NCAA Tournament mark of 296-150, for a winning percentage of .664.

- The ACC is the only Division I conference where each member institution has a winning record in NCAA Tournament competition.
- Since 1985 when the NCAA Tournament field was expanded to accommodate 64 teams, the ACC is the only conference to have each of its schools reach at least one Sweet Sixteen.
- The ACC has had a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament a record 21 times.
- ACC teams have defeated a record 22 No. 1 seeds including Maryland's 87-73 win over Stanford in 2001, and its 97-88 win over Kansas in 2002.
- ACC teams have captured five of the last 12 NCAA titles and seven of the last 21.
- Over the last 15 years, ACC teams have made more Final Four appearances than any other conference. Since 1988, the ACC has made 17 Final Four appearances while the Big Ten is second with 12 Final Four teams.
- The ACC is the only conference to have had at least one team in the Final Four in each of the last six years.
- The ACC has had at least one team in the Final Four in 14 of the last 15 years. Over that span, the Big Ten has had a Final Four team eight times while the SEC is third with a Final Four team seven times.
- The ACC has had at least two teams win a minimum of one NCAA Tournament game in 13 straight years, and in 17 of the last 18 NCAA Tournaments.
- The ACC has placed at least one team in a regional final for 23 consecutive years and 29 of the last 31 years. The ACC has twice had three teams in regional finals during the same year, and two teams 13 times.
- Since 1985, ACC teams have accomplished the following in NCAA Tournament play:
  - — Most NCAA Tournament victories (184)
  - — Most Sweet Sixteen appearances (51)
  - — Most regional final appearances (29)
  - — Most Final Four appearances (18)
  - — Most NCAA titles (5)

ACC Television

- An all-time high 154 televised games involving Atlantic Coast Conference teams headline the league's 2002-03 men's basketball schedule. The schedule boasts a record-high 231 TV appearances by ACC teams and marks the eighth straight year that the league has had more than 200 television appearances.
- The ACC boasts an all-time high 135 appearances on national television networks in 2002-03, including 52 appearances on ESPN, 33 on Fox Sports Net, 29 on ESPN2, 11 on CBS and 10 on ABC.
- Seventy of the league's 72 regular season conference games this season, including 42 on national television networks are scheduled to be televised.
- For the second straight year, Fox Sports Net will televise 19 games on a national basis this season, on 15 consecutive Sundays starting on December 1.
- Three of the regional sports networks headquartered in the ACC region - Comcast SportsNet, Fox Sport Net South and the Sunshine Network - will broadcast another 29 games, including 10 conference match-ups.
- In 1998-99, the ACC became the first conference in collegiate basketball history to have its entire conference-game package televised either regionally or nationally.

No Better PLACE TO BE!

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's – and the country's – best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate rankings, University of Maryland's business school was rated 16th nationally while the engineering school was ranked 26th. In graduate school rankings, the A. James Clark School of Engineering, the School of Public Affairs, the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences, the College of Computer, Mathematical and Physical Sciences, and the College of Education all ranked in the top 25, according to U.S. News & World Report.

High tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in close proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

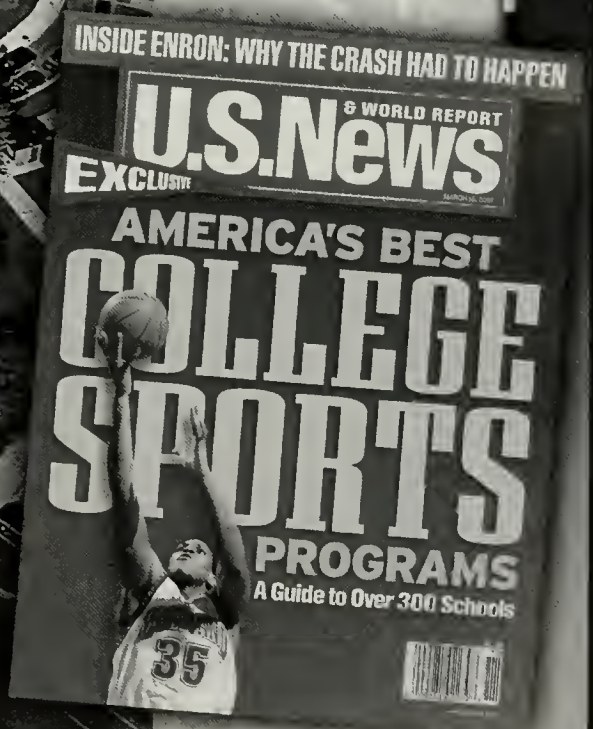
U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT GIVES TERP ATHLETICS HIGH MARKS

In its first-ever ranking of intercollegiate athletic programs, U.S. News & World Report named the University of Maryland's athletic program to its Top 20 Honor Roll last March. The Honor Roll was compiled based on an evaluation of data from all 321 NCAA Division I institutions for the 2000-2001 academic year.

The Honor Roll recognizes institutions that did well across several categories, including NCAA compliance, commitment to gender equity, overall win/loss records, total number of sports offered, and graduation rates.



So Much...So Close!

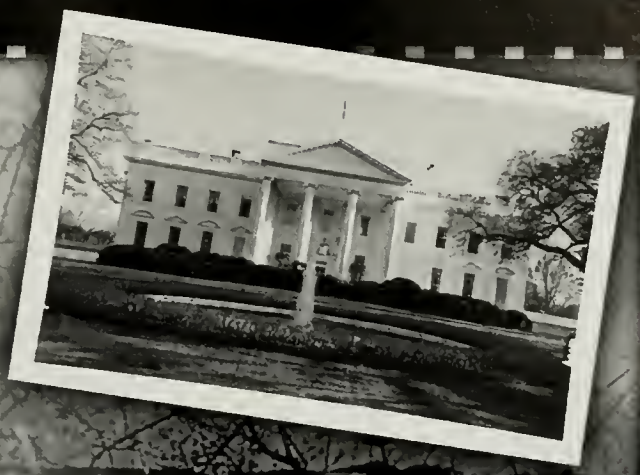
BALTIMORE • WASHINGTON, D.C. • ANNAPOLIS

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.

It's All Here Beyond the University of Maryland Campus

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of Comcast Center. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.



BALTIMORE

The 12th largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS

The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

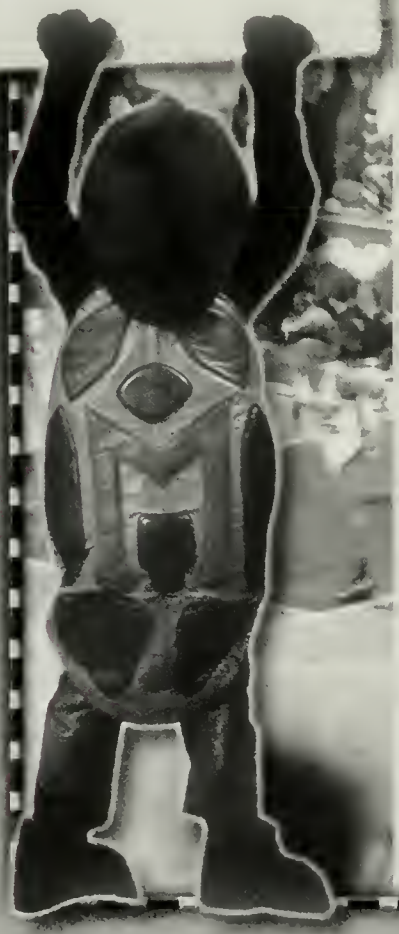
GAMEDAY!

Maryland basketball games have become a loud and boisterous experience with capacity crowds since Gary Williams took over as head coach for the 1989-90 season. The Terrapins boast one of the most active and enthusiastic crowds in the country, which has helped carry the Maryland program to back-to-back Final Four appearances and a national championship.

15-0



- Maryland has ranked in the Top 20 among national attendance leaders for five straight seasons. After averaging 13,377 fans and ranking 20th in the country in 1998, the Terps set a school record with a 14,474 average in 1999 while ranking 15th nationally. Last year, Maryland continued to draw capacity numbers by averaging 14,166 fans and ranking 17th. The Terps drew 14,058 fans and ranked 18th in 2001.
- For the past three seasons, the Terps have set school records and ranked in the top 10 nationally in overall attendance, home and away. Maryland has eclipsed its own overall record in three straight seasons, and played before at least 400,000 fans in five consecutive seasons.
- Last season's national championship squad finished second in the country by playing in front of 623,898 fans overall – an average of better than 17,300 per game. In 2001, the Terps ranked seventh nationally by playing in front of 528,916 fans overall. That figure was up from a No. 10 ranking when the Terps played before a record 503,648 fans in 2000.
- Maryland's school-record home attendance average in 1999 included 14 sellouts (all but one regular season game) and 15 games with crowds over 13,500. Maryland played to 99.8 percent capacity for the entire season in the 14,500 seat Cole Field House.
- Maryland has combined to play at over 95 percent capacity at Cole Field House since the 1993-94 season.
- Over 1.79 million people have watched men's basketball in College Park over the last nine seasons (13,793 average in 130 games) as the Terps have forged the longest non-conference home winning streak in the nation (84 games). The Terps have a 114-16 home record (87.7 winning percentage) in the last nine seasons with perfect marks in 2002 (15-0) and 1995 (16-0).
- During Gary Williams' tenure as head coach, the Terps have won at least 10 home games, 12 times in 13 seasons.

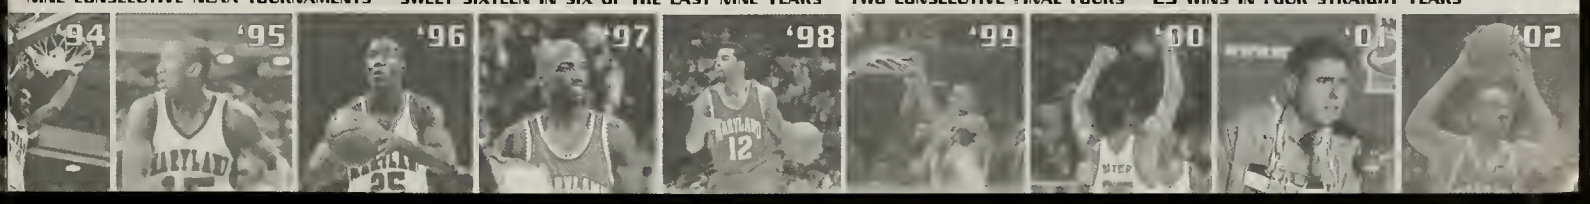
NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS



Season Outlook

When the Maryland Terrapins take the floor of Comcast Center to open the 2002-03 men's basketball season, it will not be the same team that captured the NCAA Final Four with wins over Kansas and Indiana last March in Atlanta. That is true.

Gone are four starters and the team's top four scorers. That is what critics and prognosticators will say when they evaluate the 2002-03 Terrapins without looking any further than last season's final stat sheet.

What is important, however, is a look at who does return. And who joins them. And the program which has been built since 1989-90 by the alum-turned-coach who lifted Maryland from the depths of NCAA sanctions through a series of NCAA Tournament appearances over each of the last nine straight seasons.

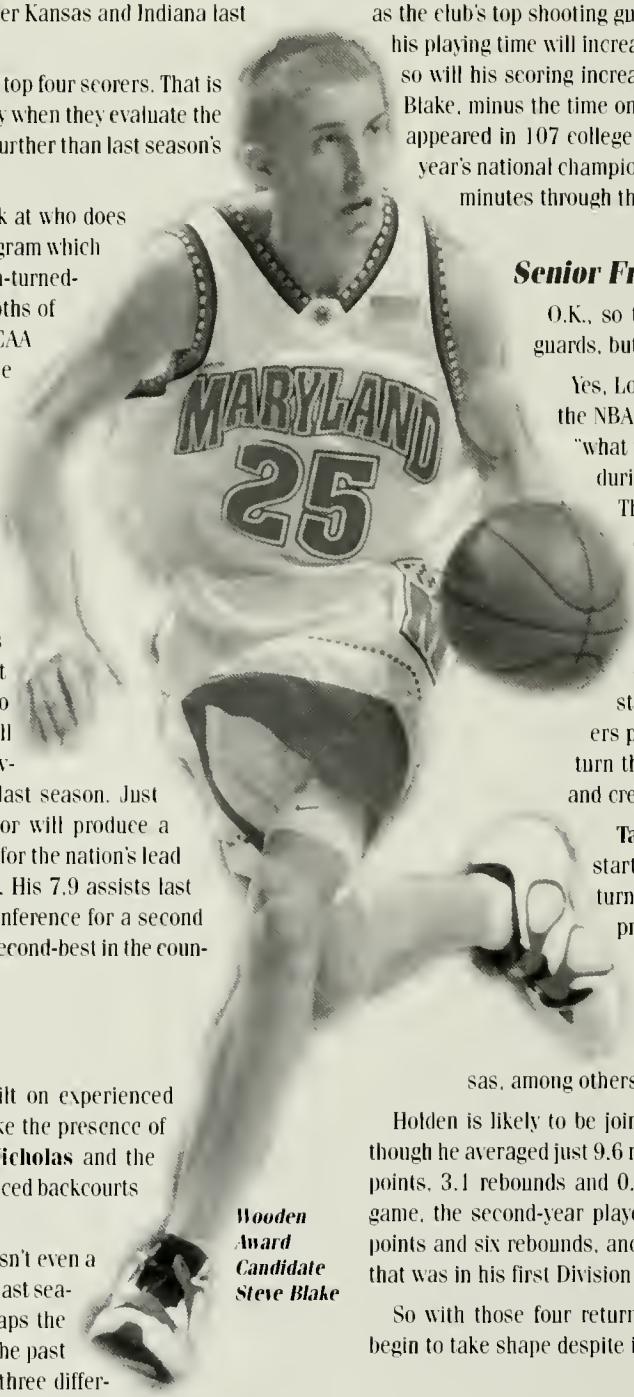
All-America Candidate

Maryland returns one of the nation's premier playmakers in senior point guard Steve Blake. Blake, with 107 games and 105 starts under his belt including 13 NCAA Tournament games, is an average season from becoming just the fourth player in NCAA history to eclipse 1,000 assists. Again, critics will point to his lack of scoring. Blake, however, averaged eight points per game last season. Just one more bucket per game as a senior will produce a double-figure scorer who will challenge for the nation's lead in assists for a second straight season. His 7.9 assists last year were tops in the Atlantic Coast Conference for a second straight year, a new school record, and second-best in the country.

Experienced Backcourt

And aren't most championships built on experienced guard play? Or so they say? Add to Blake the presence of multi-talented shooting guard Drew Nicholas and the Terrapins boast one of the most experienced backcourts in the country.

Critics will say, too, that Nicholas wasn't even a starter. And he only averaged 7.1 points last season. But a closer look will reveal perhaps the Terps' most deadly long-range shooter the past two seasons and a player who juggled three different roles while rotating behind Blake, Juan Dixon and Byron Mouton as the team's most versatile player. So, this season, with Nicholas likely entrenched as the club's top shooting guard and still available to rotate as a swingman, his playing time will increase from its 20.3 minutes as a junior – and thus so will his scoring increase. His experience is virtually equal to that of Blake, minus the time on the floor at the opening tip. Nicholas also has appeared in 107 college games and 13 NCAA Tournament games. Last year's national championship was won while Nicholas contributed 21.5 minutes through the NCAA Tournament.



Wooden Award Candidate Steve Blake

Senior Frontcourt, Too

O.K., so the Terps may actually be well-stocked at the guards, but "how about the post," the critics will ask?

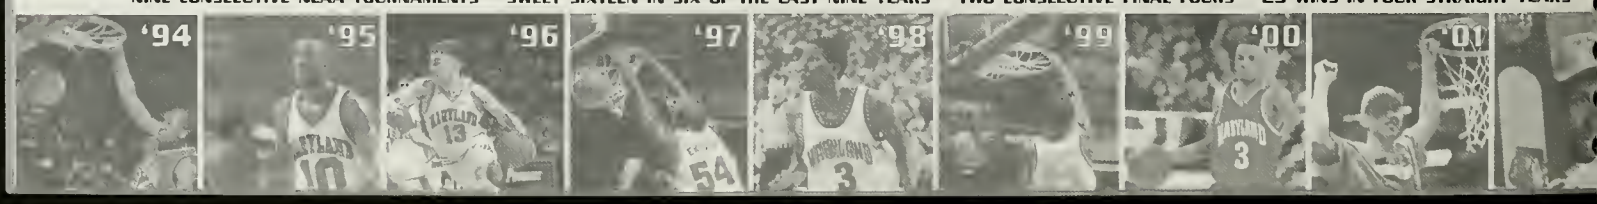
Yes, Lonny Baxter and Chris Wilcox have departed for the NBA. But those same experts must ask themselves, "what was probably been the Terps' greatest strength during their NCAA runs of the past two seasons?" The answer— depth in the post. And no, it's not all gone.

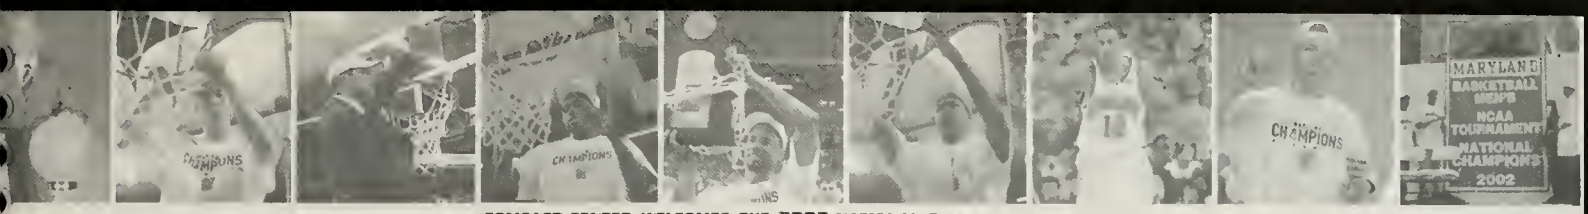
Maryland has employed a physical, brutish, talented front line of four rotating bodies each of the last two seasons. And while this season's cast may not carry the same national acclaim to start the season, the returning pair of post players plus the incoming group of players may well return that rotation to the same status as years past – and create concern and havoc for opposing coaches.

Tahj Holden was a part-time starter as a junior, starting 10 straight games before Chris Wilcox returned to the lineup to begin play in the ACC. Holden presents an interesting contrast – the team's biggest and most physical force defensively, he also shoots a 3-point ball with 45 percent accuracy for his career. And his best play has come in Maryland's biggest games (Stanford and Kansas, among others).

Holden is likely to be joined by a fourth senior, Ryan Randle, who, although he averaged just 9.6 minutes last season, he also had averages of 3.8 points, 3.1 rebounds and 0.5 blocks. You do the math. Over a 20-minute game, the second-year player would easily have combined for over seven points and six rebounds, and at least one blocked shot in every game. And that was in his first Division I season.

So with those four returning seniors, a formidable starting lineup can begin to take shape despite its critics.





COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Depth Development

Maryland's depth the past two seasons has steadied Williams and the Terrapins for another run at an ACC title in 2002-03, but its biggest question obviously does surround the development of its youth. Depth won't be what it has been without that development. And defense of an ACC and NCAA title will be difficult without that depth.

"I don't think anybody in the country lost more than we did," said Williams while assessing his team's future following last season's championship. "All four of our guys that we lost were great players here. But you don't replace them immediately. It takes time."

The question is, "how much time?"

Maryland's 2002-03 squad may face, in fact, a similar test as what its 1999-00 club encountered just three seasons ago. Facing the loss of three NBA draft picks including NBA co-rookie of the year Steve Francis, the Terps regrouped behind Williams to win nine straight ACC games in one stretch, advance to the ACC final and finish 25-10.

Said Williams about comparisons with his club of 2000, "Steve Blake had to start as a freshman point guard. We still had a great player in Terence Morris, but you couldn't put high expectations on that team because we were called unproven. Just like this year, even though we have a title under our belt. But we won 25 games and got to the Sweet Sixteen that year. Who knows for this year? We'll just have to see how hard we'll want to work. That usually decides it."

If hard work is the determining factor and Williams can mold his club the same as in years past, why not make a run at another ACC title? Or add a 10th straight NCAA Tournament bid and by that point, hope to defend a national title?

In fact, despite five NBA draft picks between 1997 and 2001, Maryland still finished among the top three teams of the nation's most powerful basketball conference in each of five straight seasons. So why not a sixth?

BREAKDOWN: Guards

A quick guard and able ballhandler, 5-9 sophomore Andre Collins has exhibited a knack for putting the ball in the basket and can shoot the 3-pointer. He could see reserve time at either a "1" or "2" position depending on needs.

Collins, local product Chris McCray, and two-time Virginia prep player of the year John Gilchrist, will look to ease their way into a rotation. All three players, plus returning 6-6 sophomore Mike Grinnon, could see backup duty for Nicholas as a shooting guard.

McCray is perhaps the most natural shooting guard among Maryland's incoming class. A Washington Post All-Met selection with fellow D.C.-area prepster and Terrapin freshman Travis Garrison, his role is more clearly defined.

Like Collins, Gilchrist may well be groomed for either guard position. A highly sought-after prospect with excellent size and potential, he comes into the program with hopes of making an immediate impact – though development and learning the Maryland system will be his first order of business.

Assessing his guards, Williams said, "We have good veteran leadership in each of the '1' and '2' positions. What's going to be the key in the backcourt is really the same as in the frontcourt, the ability of McCray and Gilchrist to develop their game quick enough where they can really help us."

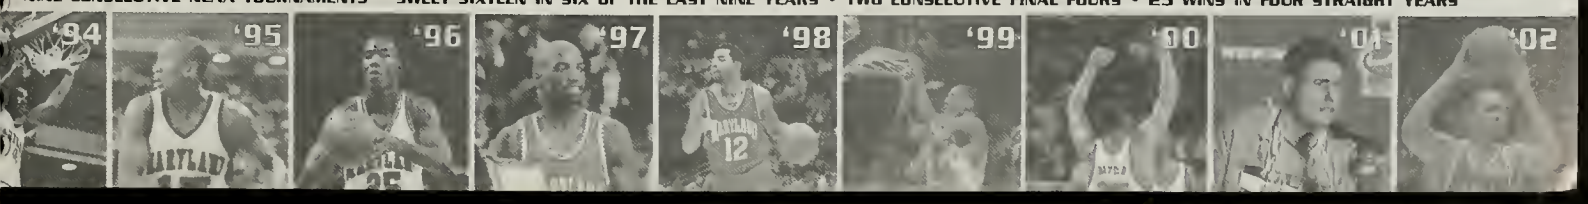
BREAKDOWN: Forwards

The "wild card" is the small forward or swing position. The "3" spot was held the past two seasons almost exclusively by Mouton and Nicholas. With Mouton gone, though, and Nicholas likely to see most of his time as a shooting guard, youth could ease into the lineup at this position.

Options are plentiful, including Nicholas still seeing time at this slot, and even some play from fourth-year senior Calvin McCall who has seen just spot duty during his career. McCall, however, saw action in 19 games as a junior and since his earlier "double-duty" stint between football and basketball in his first two seasons, he now will concentrate on basketball alone, for a second straight year. Joining McCall as leading candidates to play the small forward are Grinnon and 6-8 freshman Nik Caner-Medley, and even Garrison or 6-9 transfer Jamar Smith.

All-ACC Candidate Drew Nicholas

NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS



Said Williams, "A guy like Caner-Medley, if he can play the '3' spot and play some good time there, and if McCall can do some things without Byron [Mouton] in front of him, we can be in a good position. We have some players there, it all will matter how the new kids develop."

McCall, Grinnon or Caner-Medley all are options if the Terps choose to play the position with the prototypical 6-5 to 6-7 sized athlete.

Grinnon, a newcomer to the college scene last season, came to campus as a shooter. Caner-Medley, meanwhile, is expected to be a more physical player who might lean to the interior. McCall, though only 6-3 but bulkier than most players his size, has become the most experienced player at this position and has become not only a quality defender but a viable offensive player, too.

Meanwhile, if Williams opts for a larger, more physical lineup, incoming 6-9 and 6-8 thoroughbreds Smith or Garrison could present a difficult mismatch for opponents, given the ability to defend a smaller player on the perimeter.

Smith will likely see time both inside and outside. A former teammate of Randle's two seasons ago at Allegany, his size makes him a natural contributor in Williams' post rotation, but his agility and shooting prowess could be used in a small forward role.

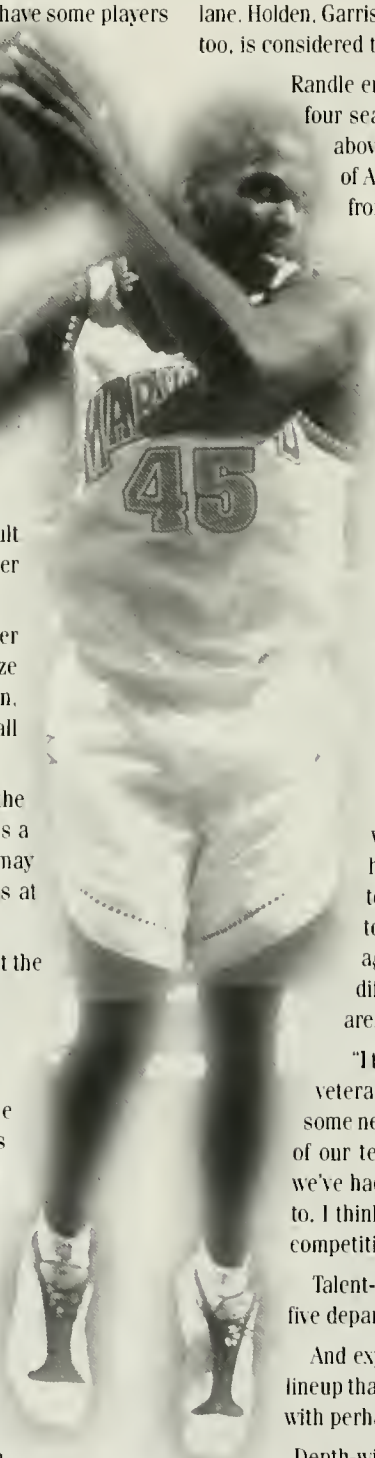
Garrison, like Smith, provides a big-sized option at the "3". The prep All-American has most often been touted as a power forward, but his quickness and his ability to shoot may well help the Terps employ a steady diet of taller talents at swingman.

Added Williams, "Somebody's going to have to step up at the '3.' There are some questions to be answered there."

BREAKDOWN: Post Positions

In the post, where the Terps have combined talents at the traditional power forward and center positions, Williams likely will have the afore-mentioned senior duo of Holden and Randle – to go with newcomers Garrison and Smith.

"In Ryan and Tahj, we have two guys who know how to play and know what we're trying to do," said Williams. "And in Travis [Garrison] and Jamar [Smith], we have two very talented young players at that 6-8 or 6-9 size. It will be very interesting to see how quickly those guys can come along because one of the key things last year was Ryan's ability to adjust to major college basketball, and the development of Chris Wilcox. So, if those two guys can develop like Chris and Ryan did, we could have a very good frontline again."



All-ACC Candidate Tahj Holden

What is new with this season's rotation at the post is that virtually all of Maryland's big men are considered to be shooting threats from outside the lane. Holden, Garrison and Smith all come with labels as shooters, and Randle, too, is considered to have a nice stroke facing the basket.

Randle employs a game similar in style to that of Baxter's the last four seasons. He is nimble for his size and has proven to be an above-average shot blocker. He and Holden both are capable of All-ACC seasons and together, Maryland won't miss a beat from where it left off last season.

With Garrison and Smith, the Terps bring newcomers into the program that are more versatile away from the basket than the bruisers employed during Baxter's four-year era, and perhaps more polished than Wilcox when he entered the Maryland regime as a freshman. In a regular lineup, Garrison and Smith could see time as a power forward. In a larger lineup, either could see time at a small forward.

One Program's New Developments

And so what lies ahead for Maryland as it defends its national title is an early season of development. Development of a new arena as well as of new players — of those players' skills; of those players' transitions to the more challenging college game and to the system employed by Gary Williams; and the development and blending of new combinations.

"Even though we won the ACC regular season last year, we'll be a different team this year," said Williams. "We'll have to earn that respect again. We're not going to be the team picked to win the league title, probably. We're going to have to earn the right to be thought of in that regard again. But that's o.k., I don't mind that. I like that. It's a different type of pressure, trying to find out how good you are, not just trying to defend how good you are.

"I truly like the challenge," he added, "because we have some veteran players back who have played key roles, yet we have some new people who have to develop quickly so they can be part of our team this year. It's a completely different challenge than we've had in the last two years, but it's what I'm looking forward to. I think we can be a very good team. We can definitely be very competitive and who knows by February how good we can be?"

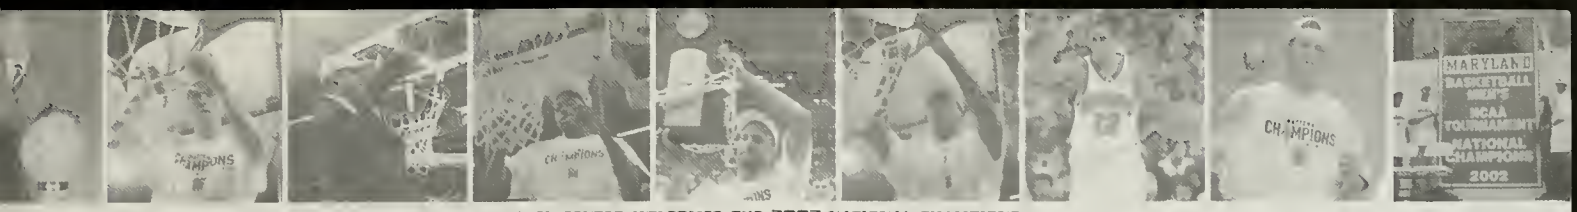
And experience-wise, Maryland will send to the floor a starting lineup that will compete with any program in the country, bar none, with perhaps the country's best playmaker.

Depth-wise and in terms of Williams' playing rotations in 2002-03, Maryland's youth and changes will draw the same curiosity and excitement as the new home in which the Terps will play.



COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Preseason Notebook

HOW TO DEFEND A NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP?

Put four seniors into your starting lineup, boast one of the country's top playmaking point guards and an experienced backcourt, and bring to campus one of the most heralded recruiting classes in recent history. That, while moving into the Terrapins' new state-of-the-art 17,950-seat showplace called Comcast Center, is the formula put together by 2002 national champion coach and ACC coach of the year Gary Williams ...

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES STREAKING TERPS

The Terps begin defense of their title in a regular season opening game at Comcast Center vs. Miami-Ohio, on Nov. 24 on ESPN2 ... against the Redskins, Maryland hopes to continue its non-league consecutive game home court win streak which now stands at 84 games – all at Cole Field House and dating to its last non-conference home defeat on Dec. 12, 1989 ... Maryland enters the 2002-03 season with an 18-game home win streak overall, including its 15-0 home campaign in the final season at Cole Field House ... the Terrapins are 87-1 against non-league competition in College Park since Gary Williams took over the helm in 1989-90 ... challenging that record and the consecutive game win streak in '02-03 will be Miami-Ohio (Nov. 24), The Citadel (Nov. 27), Duquesne (Nov. 30), Florida (Dec. 14), UMBC (Dec. 23), Wagner (Jan. 4), Hampton (Jan. 8) and Loyola (Feb. 3) ...

LEADING THE ACC

Defending its Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title, Maryland plans to finish among the league's upper echelon (top Four) for the 11th straight season dating to 1993 ... Maryland has finished third or better in every regular season since 1998 ... And in the ACC Tournament, Maryland's current eight year run to at least the ACC semifinals is the second-longest such streak in tournament history ...

NATIONAL PROMINENCE

The Terrapins have qualified for nine consecutive NCAA Tournaments ... they have advanced to at least the Sweet Sixteen in four of the last five seasons, and six of the last nine since 1994 ... combining the last two seasons, Maryland has advanced to two Final Fours, finished with No. 1 and No. 4 national rankings, won an ACC regular season title and finished the 2002 season undefeated at home ... since Feb. 17, 2001, Maryland has a combined record of 42-6, with all six losses coming on the road to teams which finished in last season's Top 25 ...

DEFENDING CHAMPS PUT FOUR SENIORS IN STARTING LINEUP

While critics will point to the loss of four seniors and top scorers, optimists will consider Maryland's depth during its Final Four runs of 2001 and 2002, and five seniors who return for 2002-03 ... four of those seniors – Steve Blake, Tahj Holden, Drew Nicholas and Ryan Randle — could start, and the fifth, ex-quarterback Calvin McCall, has risen to a level of providing consistent backcourt assistance ...

AMERICA'S MOST EXPERIENCED POINT GUARD

What guiding force in any championship season is more acknowledged than a proven, experienced backcourt? ... All-America candidate Steve Blake enters his senior season with no less than 105 starts during his college career including 13 NCAA Tournament games ... he already is ninth in ACC history with 751 assists, and an average season will make him just the fourth player in college history with over 1,000 career assists (Hurley, Corchiani, Cota) ... his career total after three seasons was second only to former Duke star Bobby Hurley (814), and was ahead of both Cota (746) and Corchiani (739) ... he already owns virtually all of Maryland's assists records, and currently ranks sixth and seventh in school history in steals (184) and 3-pointers (118) ... he averaged 8.0 points as a junior and owns a 7.3-point scoring clip for his career ... he needs 221 points and 249 assists to reach the 1,000 plateau in both categories ... he is the nation's leading career assist man entering his senior season ... he has started in 78 consecutive games ...

SHOOTING GUARD HAS EARNED HIS TURN

Gone is Juan Dixon but back is Drew Nicholas and the Terps again boast one of the ACC's most lethal combo scoring guards ... Nicholas may have been the Terps' best outside scoring threat over the past three seasons, but behind upperclassmen Dixon and Byron Mouton the last two years, Nicholas also became Maryland's most versatile performer ... a candidate for All-ACC honors as a senior, he enters his final college season already ranked ninth on the Terps' career 3-point scoring chart (103) ... like Blake, he has played in every one of 107 games over the past three seasons, logging double figure minutes in 99 of those games and averaging over 20 minutes during last year's championship run ... he averaged 7.1 points as a junior, but don't be surprised to see that figure double during his senior year ...

FRONTCOURT DEPTH

And what of Maryland's frontcourt rotation that was feared by an entire nation the past two seasons? Yes, Lonny Baxter and Chris Wilcox were both taken in the 2002 NBA draft, but back are All-ACC candidates Tahj Holden and Ryan Randle who both played exceptional roles during last year's Final Four win over Kansas ... Holden has been an off-and-on starter over the past two seasons and Randle's numbers were remarkably productive for a JC transfer who contributed just under 10 minutes per game ... both could start this year and by season's end, could be joined by developing newcomers ... Maryland's frontcourt should remain solid in the interior, yet may take on a quicker, more versatile inside-outside dimension with the shooting abilities of Holden, Travis Garrison and Jamar Smith ... Smith could become one of the nation's highest impact transfers ...

IMPACT NEWCOMERS

The championship team of 2002 was heralded as being the nation's first champion since 1978 without as many as even one McDonald's All-American ... the Terps welcome a bevy of top young talent in 2002-03, though, led by USA Today and McDonald's prep All-America forward Travis Garrison ... the 6-8 product of nearby powerhouse DeMatha High School leads a quintet of Top 50 stars which should help Maryland overcome the loss of four starters from its national championship squad ... joining Garrison are JC transfer Jamar Smith of Allegany College, Nik Caner-Medley (Portland, Maine), John Gilchrist (Virginia Beach, Va.) and Chris McCray (Capital Heights, Md.) ... the biggest question mark for 2002-03 is just how deep will the newcomers make Gary Williams' bench, and how quickly will the youngsters develop in Williams' system ...

TERPS ON THE TUBE

For the first time in Maryland history, all 29 preseason and regular season games will be televised live ... Beginning with a Nov. 12 exhibition contest with the world-renowned Harlem Globetrotters, every Maryland basketball games will be carried live to regional or national TV audiences ...

Consensus Top 20 Pick: Terps Defend Title With Point Guard Blake At The Helm

Maryland enters the 2002-03 college basketball season minus four starters from its national championship team of 2002, but will be one of very few clubs in the country with as many as four seniors in its starting lineup.

Leading the cast of seniors is fourth-year starter Steve Blake who not only helped guide the Terps to the 2002 NCAA crown, but this year could become only the fourth player in NCAA history to reach 1,000 assists for his career. Already the Maryland season and career leader, Blake is 249 assists from joining Bobby Hurley, Ed Cota and Chris Corchiani as the only players ever to reach the 1,000 plateau.

The Terps' backcourt, anchored by Blake and joined in the starting lineup this season by senior veteran Drew Nicholas, should be one of the most experienced and most potent tandems in the country. Similarly, the Maryland frontcourt was also ranked among the nation's best, led by returning seniors Tahj Holden and Ryan Randle, and junior college transfer Jamar Smith.

The frontcourt and backcourt both were ranked among the country's Top 20 by The Sporting News.

Also ranked highly during preseason previews was the Maryland recruiting class, ranked fourth by Lindy's and eighth by Athlon Sports. Athlon and Street & Smith's both placed all four Terrapin freshmen among the nation's Top 100 College Freshmen.

Gary Williams

Head Coach (Maryland '68)
14th Year at Maryland
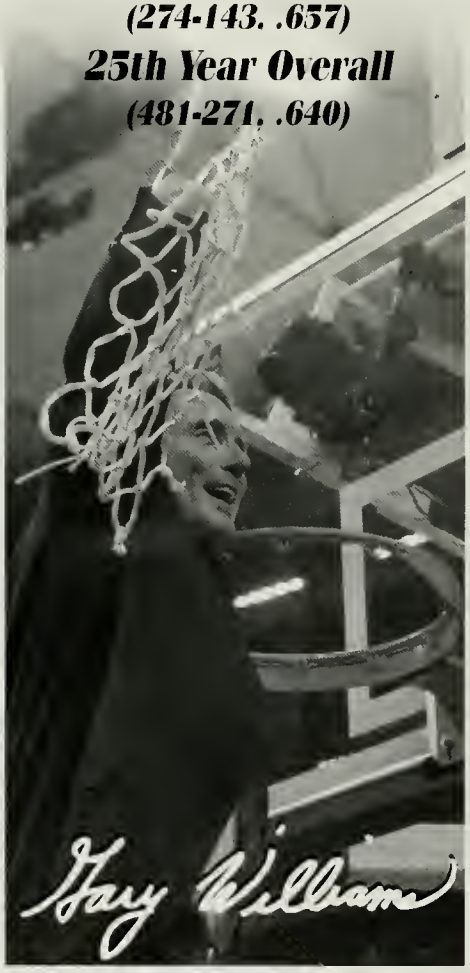
25th Year Overall
(481-271, .640)



After directing Maryland to its first national championship, Gary Williams (Maryland '68) is in his 14th season as head coach of his alma mater. Heralded as the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year and showered with numerous regional and national coaching accolades, Williams is one of just 10 active coaches in America to boast a national title. He has become the sixth-winningest coach in ACC history after transforming the Maryland program into one of the nation's most formidable, and building a Baltimore-D.C. area following that has consistently resulted in sellout crowds.

With consecutive trips to the Final Four, the school's first national crown, 21 consecutive weeks in the USA Today/ESPN Top 10 and the school's first No. 1 ranking, Williams has constructed the most prominent era in Maryland basketball history – just in time for the program's move to the state-of-the-art 17,100-seat Comcast Center for the 2002-03 season.

— He is the sixth college basketball coach since 1980 to guide his alma mater to the Final Four and the first since 1974 to guide his alma mater to a national title.

— He is one of just 10 active coaches to boast a national championship.

— He is one of only two active coaches in America, and just the 12th overall, to guide his alma mater to two Final Four appearances. He is only the eighth to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

— He is the only active coach to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Four appearances.

— He is one of just six coaches to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in six of the last nine years (1994 to 2002), and one of six to boast a string of nine consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament (1994 to 2002). He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches on both lists.

— A winner of 70 percent of his NCAA Tournament games while at Maryland, he ranks eighth among active coaches in NCAA Tournament winning percentage overall (23-11, .676), and ninth in wins (23).

National Prominence

For Williams, the accomplishments of the past two seasons have been particularly sweet for the coach whose roots with the program extend to his playing days of the late 1960s, and whose earliest seasons as head coach were tormented by NCAA sanctions he inherited. The Final Four architect is himself a Maryland alum, who found glory for a program whose history is filled with a literal plethora of some of the most prominent names in college basketball annals: Shue, Lucas, Elmore, McMillen, Albert King, Bias, Buck Williams and Walt Williams.

He followed a 2001 Final Four season with the most wins in Maryland history, going 32-4 in 2002. He engineered the school's best regular season ever (25-3), its first outright ACC regular season title since 1980, its first No. 1 seed in an NCAA Tournament, and a return to the Final Four. He earned billing as the league's coach of the year for the first time in his career and later was honored with various national awards, the Victor Award and the New York Athletic Club's Winged Foot Award as the coach of the national champions.

Capping his personal ascent to college basketball's highest pinnacle, Williams added author to his resume in summer 2002 by completing an autobiography entitled "Sweet Redemption," with award-winning journalist David Vise. The book captures the essence of Williams' arrival at Maryland, the Terps' re-building efforts, their return to the NCAA Tournament in 1994, and their tournament climb in every season since.

The rise of the Maryland program has run parallel with Williams' ascent among the most notable in the collegiate coaching fraternity. Williams is one of only six coaches to boast a string of nine consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, and one of six to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in six of the last nine years. He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches on both lists.

Similarly, he joins just Mike Krzyzewski and Bob Huggins as the only coaches to lead their programs to 25 or more wins in each of the past four seasons.

As the Maryland coach, Williams has produced more than 20 wins in seven of his last eight seasons, six consecutive. Williams is the 21st-winningest active coach in America with 481 wins.

Williams, 274-143 at Maryland, boasts a 481-271 overall record including four years at American (1979-82), four at Boston College (1983-86) and three at Ohio State (1987-89). In 24 seasons as a Division I head coach, Williams has coached in 12 NCAA Tournaments and guided eight different teams to the NCAA Sweet 16. One of 26 coaches ever to take three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, Williams has guided teams to the NIT or NCAA Tournament at each of his four coaching stops.

He is the only coach in America to direct programs in each of the ACC, Big Ten and Big East conferences.

During Williams' combined 20 years in those three conferences, the national champion has come from his league eight times (ACC — 5 of 13; Big East — 2 of 4; Big Ten — 1 of 3).

During his run of nine straight NCAA tournaments at Maryland, he has forged his way to becoming the winningest NCAA Tournament coach in Maryland history with 19 wins and eight losses –a 70.8 percent winning clip. He boasts a 23-11 NCAA Tournament record overall, and has carried Maryland to the Sweet Sixteen in four of the past five years. He ranks eighth among active coaches in NCAA Tournament winning percentage (.676) overall, and ninth in wins.

NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS

Terp Alum

On the cusp of earning his 500th win, Williams is one of four 400-win coaches who now engineer the programs at their respective alma maters (Lou Henson, New Mexico State; Eddie Sutton, Oklahoma State; Jim Boeheim, Syracuse). They also are the only active coaches to direct their alma maters to a Final Four appearance.

In 2001, Williams became just the sixth coach since 1980 to direct his alma mater to the Final Four. A year later, he became the first coach since 1974 to guide his alma mater to a national title. Williams is the only active coach to take his alma mater to consecutive Final Four appearances. He is only the eighth to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

A former Terrapins point guard, Williams was a starter under coach Bud Millikan during the 1965, 1966 and 1967 seasons. He was the team captain as a senior and still lists one of his most memorable basketball moments as his experience as a spectator at the 1966 national championship game conducted at Maryland's legendary Cole Field House, between Texas Western and Kentucky.

The former student-athlete is also noted as one of just eight former ACC basketball players ever to return to the league as a head coach. Williams notched his 400th career win with a season-opening victory over San Francisco on Nov. 17, 1999, and recorded his 200th victory at Maryland during a 72-66 win over No. 23 Kentucky one month later. Williams, 114-90 in ACC league contests entering the 2002-03 season, is just the 10th coach overall and only the second from Maryland (Lefty Driesell) ever to reach 100 wins in the league.

Williams Era

Inducted into the University of Maryland Hall of Fame in 1999, Williams has placed his alma mater's program back among the top of the storied Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps have become synonymous with Duke and North Carolina among the league's most dominant programs, and nationally have become a fixture among weekly polls – 21 consecutive weeks in the USA Today/ESPN Top 10 to enter the 2002-03 season and 57 consecutive appearances in the AP Top 20.

Under Williams' tutelage, Maryland has achieved a school-record nine consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances while boasting acclaim as one of just seven schools in the country to do so. The Terrapins are one of just four schools in the country to boast at least 25 victories in each of the past three seasons, and the Terps' 110 wins in the last four years are bettered by only three programs.

Another success story during the Williams Era at Maryland is obviously a coveted home court win streak over non-conference foes, which now spans more than 12 years — 84 games – as the Terps enter the 2002-03 campaign. Maryland has not lost a non-league home game under Williams since just his fourth home game as head coach coach: Dec. 12, 1989 vs. Coppin State. The Terps went undefeated against non-conference foes during the final 12 years of competition at Cole Field House, leaving Williams with a Maryland coaching mark of 155-35 at Cole, 87-1 against non-conference schools.

Since Williams' arrival as head coach in the summer of 1989, the Terps have soared to a level of national prominence unmatched during the first century of the program – and unmatched by the vast majority of programs nationwide. Included among the many superior accomplishments during the Williams Era are: a school-record nine straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1994-02) which include consecutive trips to the Final Four, a national crown and six Sweet Sixteen appearances, nine consecutive upper division finishes in the ACC including runner-up distinction in 1999 and 2000; an outright regular season ACC title in 2002 and a shared one in 1995; a school-record 28 victories during the 1999 season which was shattered again with 32 in 2002; four NBA lottery picks, one national Player of the Year, a senior of the year and two ACC Players of the Year; and the very first recipient of the nation's Senior CLASS Award.

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Added for good measure are a NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in Steve Francis (2000), and a preseason top five ranking for the third time in four seasons. The result is a program and a coach who have reached icon status.

Williams is the only head coach in school history to guide the Terps to 10 postseason tournament appearances within his first 13 seasons. After guiding his first two Maryland teams to winning records and overcoming an NCAA probationary period resulting from the previous coaching regime, he guided the Terps to an NCAA Tournament appearance in just his fifth season, 1994, and earned a share of the ACC regular season in just his sixth, 1995.

Williams' past four seasons have brought Maryland from contention in the Atlantic Coast Conference, to contention for a national championship – including, of course, the 2002 NCAA title.

The 2002 championship was a product of maturity and steadfast dedication to a common goal – and included a magical ride through the final season of play at venerable Cole Field House. Williams molded a cast of seven returning players from its national semifinalists of 2001, while senior captains Lonny Baxter, Juan Dixon and Byron Mouton keyed a consistent effort from the beginning of practice in October, through an undefeated (15-0) home campaign at Cole, all the way to a net-cutting evening at the Georgie Dome on April 1. The Terrapins overcame personal obstacles and handled the ACC's and the NCAA Tournament's stiffest challenges. After winning the ACC regular season crown with a 15-1 record, the Terps' ascent to the national championship game included successive victories over perennial powers Wisconsin, Kentucky, Connecticut and Kansas – and a 64-52 defeat of Indiana in the title game. Maryland won the first national title in school history, and earned its very first No. 1 ranking, after becoming the first team in NCAA history to reach the championship game by defeating the highest possible seed in every round.

A year earlier, the Terrapins began the season with a lofty No.-5 ranking by the Associated Press and finished with the No. 4 spot by USA Today/ESPN. In between polls, the Terps butted heads weekly during an ACC schedule that included five nationally ranked teams, but found their stride late in the year to win 10 of their last 12 games. Of those 10, a record seven nationally ranked foes fell in the Terps' path to the Final Four, with their only losses coming to eventual NCAA and ACC champion Duke. Local rival Georgetown was dispatched in the Sweet Sixteen, and an 87-73 win over No. 2-ranked and top-seeded Stanford earned Maryland its first NCAA regional title.

The 2000 season may have been one of Williams' greatest coaching accomplishments ever – guiding a "rebuilding" Terrapin team to 25 wins, a second straight second-place finish in the ACC and its first trip to the conference tournament final since 1984. All with a freshman point guard (Steve Blake), three first-year starters (Baxter, Blake, Dixon) and only one senior following the loss of three players to the NBA draft. Two years later, those three first-year starters would become seasoned veterans and national champions.

Four years after tying for his first ACC regular season championship in 1995, Williams led Maryland to a school-record 28 victories and a school-record 13 ACC victories during the 1999 season. The Terps finished the season ranked No. 5 by the Associated Press – then the highest final ranking since 1975 and only the third time in school history that the program had earned a top five final national ranking. Maryland peaked at No. 2 as it won its first 10 games of the season, and its No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament matched the highest tournament seed in school history.

Williams has been voted as a national coach of the year finalist five times, including his naming in 2002 as the national coach of the year by Basketball America and CBSSportsline.com, and in 2001 by Playboy. Besides the ACC coaching honor, other accolades after the 2002 championship season included the Winged Foot Award as presented by the N.Y. Athletic Club; the Victor Award as presented by the National Academy of Sports Editors; the Harry Litwack Award as Eastern Coach of the Year, presented annually by the Herb Good Club of Philadelphia; and Seaboard Region Coach of the Year honors as named by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. In 1998, ACC Athlete Magazine voted him as the ACC Coach of the Year. He received the same honor from College Hoops Illustrated in 2000. Following Maryland's 1997 season, when the Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament and finished with a 9-7 record in the ACC, he was named as the Seaboard Region Coach of the Year by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. ored as the district coach of the year in 1981, and in 1983 he was named as the Eastern Coach of the Year.

Williams has cemented his legacy as one of America's greatest recruiters and college coaches — a statement backed not just by consecutive Final Four appearances or 20 winning records in 24 seasons, but by 23 NBA draft choices and the numerous former assistant coaches who now guide their own programs. Williams has guided seven first-round selections and six NBA lottery picks: Walt Williams (#7 pick, 1992), Joe Smith (#1, 1995), Steve Francis (#2, 1999) and Chris Wilcox (#8, 2002); and Ohio State standouts Jim Jackson (#5, 1992) and Dennis Hopson (#3, 1987).

Williams was hired on June 13, 1989. He inherited a team that had won only nine games the year before and finished in last place in the ACC. Displaying his coaching abilities immediately, he helped the Terps to 19 wins while advancing to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament – and making him the first coach in school history to lead a team into the postseason in his first year. In addition, Maryland's 10-game improvement in the win column during Williams' first season was the largest in school history and second largest in the annals of the ACC by a first-year coach. Only the legendary Press Maravich, who improved NC State's winning ledger by 13 games in his inaugural season (1965), can boast a higher first-year improvement in the win column.

A 1968 graduate of Maryland, Williams lettered as the Terps' starting point guard from 1965-67 under head coach Bud Millikan, serving as team captain during his senior season. It was as a player in the ACC that Williams began developing his basketball philosophy. Playing beside three-year teammates Joe Harrington and Jay McMillen, he studied the game under Millikan, and it was then that he developed his penchant for the full-court pressure defenses for which his teams are now known. He learned his half court man-to-man defense from Millikan, who learned from the legendary Hank Iba. The fast-breaking offense that Williams' teams employ is similar to the style Vic Bubas' Duke teams used when Williams was a player.

Path Back To College Park

Williams began his coaching career alongside Harrington, as graduate students at Maryland under freshman coach Tom Davis. The 1969 freshman team finished with a 12-4 record as Williams bonded with Davis in a relationship that would serve him well as his coaching career progressed.

After earning a degree in business, he continued his coaching career as an assistant at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N.J. After one year, he took over as the head coach and guided his first team to a perfect 27-0 record and the state title. Williams has called that season "the ultimate — there wasn't another game to win." Upon winning the NCAA West Region championship in 2001, he fondly recalled his championship at Camden as the "only other time I've ever got to cut down a net."

Williams spent one more year at Wilson before accepting an invitation from Davis in 1972 to become an assistant at Lafayette College. While an assistant at Lafayette, Williams also served as the head soccer coach. In 1978, Williams accompanied Davis to Boston College. After one year there, Williams became the head coach at American University.

Williams immediately began making his mark. His 1981 squad set the still-standing school record for victories with a 24-6 mark, won the East Coast Conference championship, and played in the NIT. Williams was named the district coach of the year. American returned to postseason play the next season as the Williams-led Eagles went 21-9 and played in the NIT for the second consecutive year. Only once prior to Williams' arrival had AU attended a postseason tournament, and the Eagles have not returned since. Williams' four-year record at AU was 72-42.

In 1983, Williams succeeded Davis at Boston College. He was once again an instant success, posting a 25-7 record and leading the Eagles to the regular season championship of the Big East in his first season. Making his first appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Williams directed the Eagles to the Sweet 16. He finished third in the balloting for national coach of the year, and was honored again as the Eastern Coach of the Year by his peers. He went on to duplicate that NCAA Tournament success again in 1985, leading B.C. back to the Sweet Sixteen.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching job at Ohio State, becoming the 10th basketball coach in that school's illustrious history. He succeeded Eldon Miller and once again enjoyed success. In three years, the Buckeyes made three postseason appearances. His first squad defeated then-No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa (coached by Tom Davis) in the regular season, in what would be the first of many giant-killings. During Williams' three-year term at Ohio State, OSU defeated a second-ranked Purdue team, perennial power Kansas and highly regarded Big Ten powers Michigan and Illinois. Williams had laid the groundwork for the highly successful teams that followed when he left Columbus for College Park.

Williams' Charity Work

Coaches vs. Cancer

Of the many charities with which Gary Williams has been involved, one that has been special to the longtime coach is the Coaches vs. Cancer Three-Point Attack. Since 1996, Gary Williams has served on the Coaches Council, a 15-member board that serves as the governing body for Coaches vs. Cancer.

The program is a partnership between the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and the American Cancer Society. The coaches participating in this program are dedicated to fighting cancer through increased support for research, patient services, and prevention education.

Coaches vs. Cancer utilizes a Three-Point Attack that combines pledges from fans with their team's three-point baskets made throughout the season.

Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

In 1999 and 2000, Coach Williams hosted a charity basketball game at Cole Field House to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Williams' CFF basketball game has included former Maryland basketball stars Len Elmore, Tom McMillen, Duane Simpkins and Buck Williams. Other participants have included former Maryland football player and NFL quarterback Boomer Esiason, Maryland track All-American and NFL receiver Renaldo Nehemiah, former Redskins Jeff Bostic and Charles Mann, former Washington Bullets stars Phil Chenier and Kevin Grevey, former Dallas Cowboy Calvin Hill, tennis star Pam Shriver, Maryland legislators Thomas "Mike" Miller and Steny Hoyer, nationally-renowned sports columnists John Feinstein and Frank Deford, Terrapin play-by-play voices Johnny Holliday and Chris Knoche, and "Meet The Press" host Tim Russert.

The inaugural event occurred on April 27, 1999. The second event took place on May 4, 2000 with Williams and Feinstein as opposing coaches. A golf outing was conducted in summer 2001.

NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS

Dave Dickerson

Assistant Coach (Maryland '90) 7th Year at Maryland

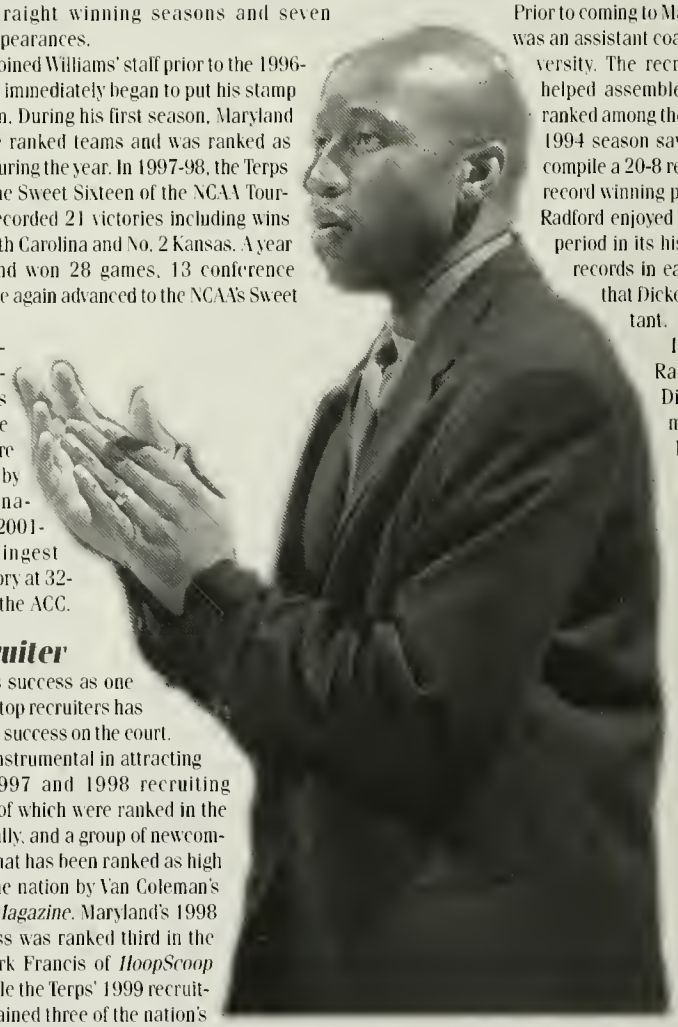
Dave Dickerson's six-year tenure as an assistant coach at his alma mater has coincided with six of the most successful years in the history of the program. In addition to his indispensable role during Maryland's first-ever national championship run in 2002 and the Terps' first outright regular-season ACC title since 1980, Terp teams have made six NCAA Tournament appearances and have been ranked among the nation's top 10 each season. During Dickerson's six-year career on the Terrapin bench, Maryland owns a 152-53 record (.741 winning percentage).

Following Maryland's first trip to the Final Four during the 2000-01 postseason, Dickerson was elevated on Gary Williams' staff to take the lead in the Terrapins' recruiting and scouting efforts. He has played an integral part in Maryland's recruiting efforts during his first six seasons at his alma mater, including four recruiting classes that were ranked among the nation's best.

Overall, Dickerson's 12-year coaching career has included 12 straight winning seasons and seven postseason appearances.

Dickerson joined Williams' staff prior to the 1996-97 season and immediately began to put his stamp on the program. During his first season, Maryland defeated three ranked teams and was ranked as high as No. 2 during the year. In 1997-98, the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament and recorded 21 victories including wins over No. 1 North Carolina and No. 2 Kansas. A year later, Maryland won 28 games, 13 conference games and once again advanced to the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen.

The 2000-01 season's accomplishments and trip to the Final Four were only eclipsed by Maryland's national title in 2001-02 and winningest season in history at 32-4 and 15-1 in the ACC.



Top Recruiter

Dickerson's success as one of the nation's top recruiters has translated into success on the court. He has been instrumental in attracting the Terps' 1997 and 1998 recruiting classes, both of which were ranked in the top 10 nationally, and a group of newcomers for 2002 that has been ranked as high as fourth in the nation by Van Coleman's Future Stars Magazine. Maryland's 1998 recruiting class was ranked third in the nation by Clark Francis of HoopScoop Magazine, while the Terps' 1999 recruiting class contained three of the nation's top players at three different positions. Dickerson's most recent efforts helped Maryland to attract a 2002-03 incoming class of five top 100 recruits, including McDonald's All-American Travis Garrison, NJCAA first team All-American Jamar Smith and National High School Coaches Association player of the year Nik Caner-Medley.

Dickerson's scouting and recruiting abilities helped the Maryland coaching staff bring All-America guard Steve Francis, who was the No. 2 overall selection in the 1999 NBA Draft and finished fourth in ACC Player-of-the-Year voting, home to the Terrapins. The 2002 draft saw three Dickerson recruits – Chris Wilcox, Final Four Most Outstanding Player Juan Dixon and two-time NCAA Regional MVP Lonny Baxter – become selections in the first two rounds, marking only the second time in school history that three Terrapins have been drafted as high.

In all, Dickerson has recruited and coached two NBA lottery picks – Steve Francis (1999) and Chris Wilcox (2002) – and four overall first round selections in Keith Booth (1997), Francis, Wilcox and Juan Dixon (2002). It has been Dickerson's nationwide emergence on the recruiting trail that has allowed him to rise so quickly up the coaching ladder.

Prior to coming to Maryland, Dickerson was an assistant coach at Radford University. The recruiting classes he helped assemble at Radford were ranked among the nation's best. The 1994 season saw the Highlanders compile a 20-8 record and a school-record winning percentage of 71.4. Radford enjoyed the best four-year period in its history with winning records in each of the seasons that Dickerson was an assistant.

It was also at Radford that Dickerson began to make his mark as a bench coach. Radford gained national acclaim and became one of the most successful programs in the Big South Conference during Dickerson's tenure. Radford defeated Louisiana State, 73-72, on Dec. 30, 1993, to gain the biggest victory in school history. The Highlanders scored the game-winning basket with 2.8 seconds remaining in the game just after LSU had taken its first lead of the second half. Dickerson was the assistant coach in charge of scouting LSU.

From Athlete To Coach

Dickerson played forward at Maryland from 1986-89 and earned four varsity letters. He was co-captain as a senior in 1989. Dickerson saw action in the 1986 and 1988 NCAA Tournaments and was a member of three teams that advanced to the ACC Tournament semifinals. The Terps won 19 games his freshman year and 18 during his junior season. Dickerson was a starter on the 1989 team that became the first No. 8 seed to defeat a No. 1 seed in the ACC Tournament when the Terps knocked off NC State.

In 1990, Dickerson earned his bachelor's degree in government and politics from Maryland, and soon after he began his coaching career on the staff of Gardner Webb University in North Carolina. After a year at Gardner Webb he joined former Maryland head coach Lefty Driesell at James Madison for a 1992 season that culminated in a bid to the NIT.

From 1993-96, Dickerson was an assistant coach at Radford, where he began constructing his sparkling reputation under former Maryland assistant coach Ron Bradley.

A native of Olar, S.C., Dickerson earned the team award for Greatest Career Contribution in 1989 and for Most Improved Player in 1987. Dave is married to the former Laurette Newsom, a 1991 graduate of Maryland. The couple gave birth to their first child, Dave III, on Oct. 19, 2000.

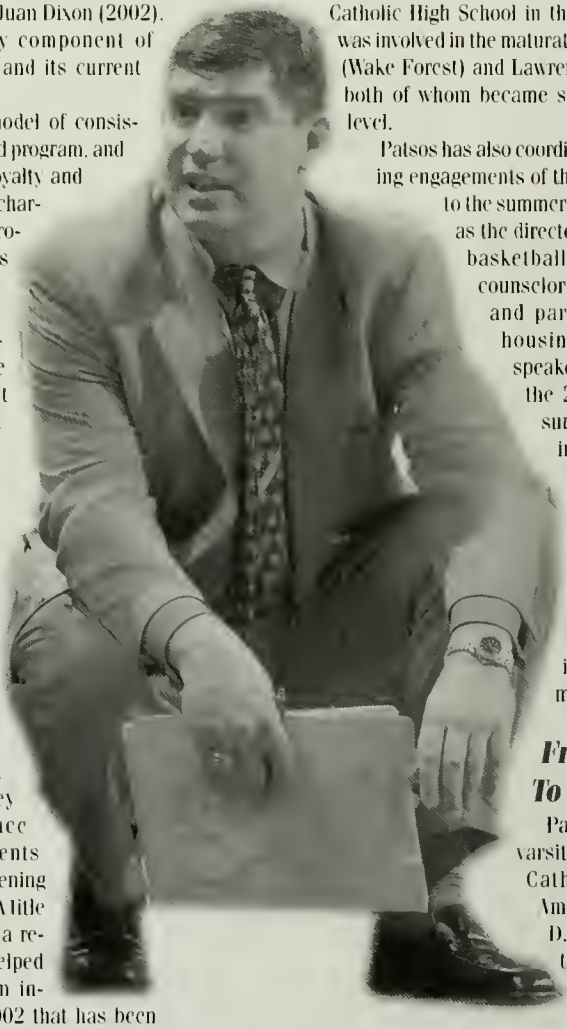
Jimmy Patsos

Assistant Coach (Catholic '89) 12th Year at Maryland

Now in his 12th season on Gary Williams' coaching staff, Jimmy Patsos has been a part of nearly every season of Williams' 14-year stint at Maryland. One of the Terps' three recruiting coaches, Patsos has seen the Terps play in nine consecutive NCAA Tournaments – which have included the 2002 NCAA championship, two trips to the Final Four and five Sweet Sixteen appearances. During his tenure with the Terrapins, Maryland has finished in the top half of the Atlantic Coast Conference nine times, won two ACC regular season championships (1994-95 and 2001-02) and averaged more than 20 wins per season. In addition, four players (Walt Williams in 1992, Joe Smith in 1995, Steve Francis in 1999 and Chris Wilcox in 2002) have been lottery selections in the NBA Draft.

During his career at Maryland, he has coached 11 NBA Draft choices including first round selections Williams, Smith, Keith Booth (1997), Francis, Wilcox and Juan Dixon (2002). He has been a key component of Maryland's success and its current legacy of continuity.

He has been a model of consistency for the Maryland program, and an example of the loyalty and longevity which have characterized Williams' program. After 11 years at Williams' side, Patsos was recognized by a 2002 preseason annual as the second-best assistant coach in the country.



Coach And Mentor

The 2001-02 season saw the focus of Patsos' coaching duties shift from supervision of the Terps' academic affairs to student-athlete recruiting and opponent scouting. Patsos played a key role in the advance scouting of opponents from the season's opening tip to the Terps' NCAA title game in Atlanta. As a recruiter, the coach helped Maryland to land an incoming group for 2002 that has been ranked as high as fourth in the nation by Van Coleman's Future Stars Magazine. The class of newcomers includes five top 100 recruits, including McDonald's All-American Travis Garrison, NJCAA first team All-American Jamar Smith and National High School Coaches Association Player of the Year Nik Caner-Medley.

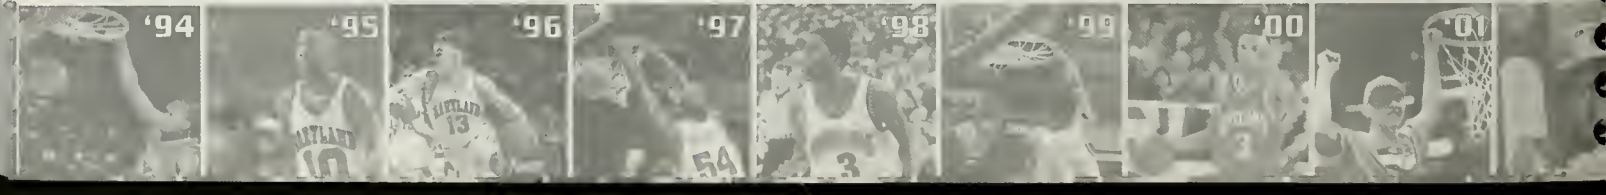
Patsos joined the Terrapins as a volunteer assistant during the 1991-92 season and immediately became an integral part of Williams' staff. His numerous responsibilities have centered on opponent scouting, on-court coaching and the academic development of Maryland's players. His role as an academic mentor during his first 10 seasons on Williams' staff proved prosperous, as the teams' overall academic performance has improved under his guidance.

Prior to his appointment at Maryland, Patsos was the assistant coach at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C. He helped Carroll to a 21-8 record and a national ranking of No. 6 during his first season before the team lost to the famed DeMatha Catholic High School in the city playoffs. Patsos was involved in the maturation of Charles Harrison (Wake Forest) and Lawrence Moten (Syracuse), both of whom became stars on the collegiate level.

Patsos has also coordinated the public speaking engagements of the Terps' players. Prior to the summer of 2002, Patsos served as the director of the Gary Williams basketball camp, coordinating counselor management, facility and participant scheduling, housing, meals and guest speakers. Attendance during the 2000, 2001 and 2002 summers were the largest in camp history. In addition to his work with the Gary Williams camp, he is a frequent speaker at camps throughout Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania during the summer months.

From Catholic To College Park

Patsos was a three-year varsity letterwinner at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. During his career, the Cardinals posted a record of 51-26. Patsos played for the late Jack Bruen, who later led Colgate University to a pair of NCAA Division I Tournament appearances.



Catholic won four regular-season tournament championships during Patsos' career, including the 1989 Manhattanville Tournament. Patsos scored a career-high 17 points and grabbed a career-high 14 rebounds in the championship game to lead the Cardinals to a 106-99 victory over Manhattanville. Other top games during his senior season included 12 points and five rebounds vs. Frostburg State, 10 rebounds at Scranton and 12 points and nine rebounds against St. Mary's (Md.).

As a junior, Patsos recorded season highs of 14 points against Upsala and 11 rebounds against Washington College. He scored 12 points and grabbed five rebounds to lead Catholic to the championship of the Alfred University Charity Cage Classic with a 90-88 victory over the host Saxons. The Cardinals were 18-8 during both his junior and senior years, then a school record for victories in a single season.

Patsos' teammate during the 1987 and 1988 seasons was current Catholic head coach Mike Lonergan, who has led the Cardinals to the Sweet Sixteen of the past four NCAA Division III tournaments, including a national title in 2001.

A native of Boston, Mass., who grew up attending games at the Boston Garden, Patsos earned his bachelor's degree in history from Catholic in 1989. A brother, Chris, captained the Florida Southern baseball team to the 1981 NCAA Division II World Series championship.

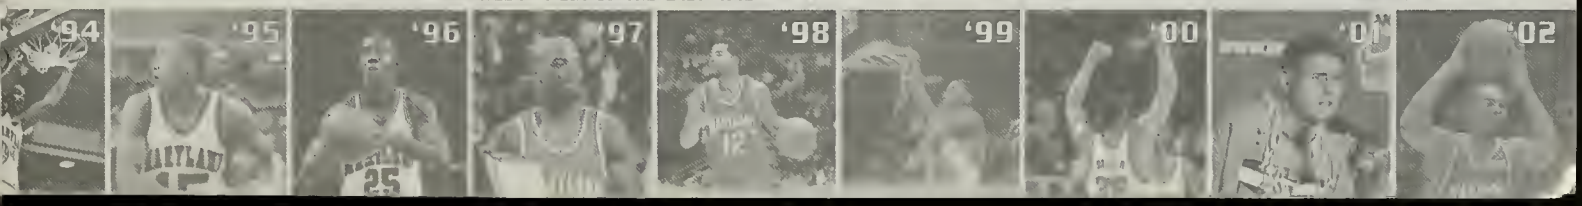
NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS



Matt Kovarik

Assistant Coach (Maryland '98) 2nd Year at Maryland

One year in coaching, one national championship – not a bad start for former Terrapin Matt Kovarik, who joined the Maryland staff last season after a solid playing career with the Terps from 1994 to 1998. A steady, defense-oriented guard, Kovarik lettered for four seasons under Gary Williams and finished his collegiate career with what was then a Maryland record nine appearances in NCAA Tournament games. Now in a different capacity, a march to the national title can be added to Kovarik's already impressive list of postseason accolades.

He was the first player in Maryland history to play on five straight teams that finished in the top half of the ACC. He concluded his career after playing in 129 games, which trails only Juan Dixon (141), Lonny Baxter (138), Mike Mardesich (137), Terence Morris (136) and Len Bias (131) in the Terrapin record book.

As a freshman, Kovarik was an honorable mention pick for the ACC All-Freshman team, and as a sophomore was part of the Terps' 1995 ACC regular season championship. He played on NCAA Tournament teams in 1994, 1995, 1997 and 1998 – and helped the Terps advance to the Sweet Sixteen three times.

To Law School And Back Again

Kovarik, who recently completed his first year of law school, began his coaching career in summer 2001, assuming the program's role in managing day-to-day schedules with student-athletes. Kovarik works with the Maryland players, the athletics department's Academic Support and Career Development unit, and many of the professors on campus to ensure that the team's academic responsibilities are met. Over the course of his first season, he also contributed in advance scouting and on-the-court coaching, which he will continue in 2002-03.

As the co-director of the Gary Williams summer basketball camp, Kovarik helps coordinate the management of the coaches, the scheduling of the facilities, housing, meals and guest speakers. Kovarik was largely responsible for the oversight of the 2002 summer camp, which boasted the largest attendance in camp history following the Terps' run to the NCAA title.

A member of the All-ACC Academic team as a junior, Kovarik won the Terps' scholar-athlete award in three consecutive seasons from 1996 to 1998. Following commencement Kovarik worked for Xerox in New York City for two years before attending the University of Maryland School of Law in Baltimore.

"Matt was the type of player that helped make us a very good basketball team while he was here. He was the type of defensive player that could guard anyone from a point guard to a small forward," commented Williams on Kovarik's hiring prior to the 2001-02 season. "He has a very good knowledge of the game, and relates well to our players."

Five NCAA Tourney Teams

Kovarik averaged 2.4 points, 2.0 assists and 1.7 rebounds while playing 15 minutes per game during his senior campaign with the Terps. Maryland finished 21-11 in his senior season, capping a career that saw Maryland post five straight winning seasons and five straight NCAA Tournament appearances. The Terrapins were 103-55 during his five-year career.

The Greensboro, N.C., native played just five games of the 1996 season after suffering a stress fracture in his right leg. He posted a career-high nine points and seven rebounds as a freshman against Morgan State in 1993. He had six assists against UNC Asheville as a senior in 1997, and dished a career-high eight assists at Missouri two games later.

Kovarik prepped at Grimsley High School where he was a three-year starter at point guard.

Troy Wainwright

Director of Basketball Operations (Maryland '90) 7th Year at Maryland

Troy Wainwright, the director of basketball operations, is in his seventh year as a member of Gary Williams' staff. He is an essential part of the success of the team, both on and off the court, and is responsible for the administration of the basketball office.

Wainwright is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison to the athletic department including Deborah Yow, Maryland's director of athletics. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including budgetary matters, team travel, on-campus housing and dining contracts. In addition, Wainwright is responsible for non-conference scheduling and works with the conference office to coordinate the Terps' ACC schedule.

A native of Berlin, Md., Wainwright has played an integral role in the Terps' success since his arrival. The Terps have appeared in the NCAA Tournament six times, advanced to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament six times, and have averaged 25 wins during his six seasons with the team. In both 1998 and 1999 the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, and in 1999, Maryland won 28 games and was ranked fifth in the nation. In 1998, the Terps played the nation's toughest schedule according to the Sagarin ratings and were ranked 15th in the final national polls. In 2001, the Terps advanced to the Final Four and were ranked No. 4 in final rankings by USA Today/ESPN, and of course, in 2002 the Maryland basketball family captured its first-ever national championship and finished with a No. 1 ranking.

Among Wainwright's chief responsibilities is the administration of team travel plans. Wainwright coordinates all transportation (air and ground) as well as hotel accommodations. During his tenure, Wainwright has successfully coordinated travel to six NCAA Tournaments, six ACC Tournaments, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Madison Square Garden, as well as every regular season game. Wainwright successfully directed the Terrapins up and down the East Coast during last season's NCAA championship run.

Wainwright serves as the director of the annual Gary Williams golf tournament that raises money to endow scholarships for the basketball program. The tournament has raised more than $150,000 during the six years since Wainwright's arrival. As tournament director, Wainwright helps solicit sponsorships and participants, and helps with course management on the day of the event. In addition, he coordinates team and individual player awards and a silent auction.

Wainwright also serves as the co-director of the Gary Williams basketball camp each summer. He helps coordinate virtually every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers. The 2002 Gary Williams camp was the largest in its history, attracting more than 1,200 overnight campers over a three-week period in the summer following the Terps' title run.

A Terp Returns

Wainwright received his bachelor of science degree in sociology from the University of Maryland in 1990. After graduating from Maryland he worked as an account manager with the Washington Bullets from 1992-1994 and as an advertising account executive at the Washington Times from 1994-96.

Wainwright served as head manager for the basketball team during Williams' first season at Maryland, 1990, and accompanied the Terps as they advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. He served as an assistant manager for the three years preceding Williams' arrival in College Park.

J.J. Bush

Athletics Trainer (Florida State '69) 31st Year at Maryland

J.J. Bush is in his 10th season as the athletic trainer for Gary Williams and the Terps men's basketball program. The past decade represents his second stint working with the program for the University of Maryland 25-Year Service Award winner, as he was also the team's trainer from 1972-1976.

As the trainer for the basketball team, Bush coordinates the daily medical treatments for all the players and supervises all rehabilitative efforts in cases of injury.

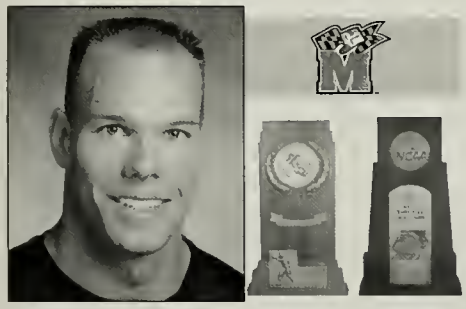
Bush came to the university in 1972 as an assistant trainer and began working immediately with the men's basketball team. The team won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship in 1975 and averaged 23 wins per season during his first stint.

Beginning in 1976, Bush served as the primary trainer for the Maryland football team, and from 1978 to 1992 was Maryland's head athletics trainer. During his 16-year era managing the training needs of the football team, the Terps claimed four ACC championships and played in nine bowl games. In 1992 he returned to Cole Field House, assuming title as an assistant to the athletics director while taking primary care of the Maryland basketball team.

In addition to his training duties, Bush teaches basic and advanced courses on care and prevention of athletic injuries in Maryland's College of Health and Human Performance, and is a frequent lecturer throughout the mid-Atlantic region of the United States.

Bush is active in the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and has worked extensively within the organization on improving athletic training methods. He has served on the governmental affairs committee at the national level and is a past president of the Maryland Athletic Trainers Association.

A native of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Bush, 54, graduated from Florida State University in 1969. He and his wife Gina have two children, Brandon and Jordan.



Kurtis Shultz

Strength & Conditioning Coach (Maryland '95) 4th Year at Maryland

Former University of Maryland men's basketball team captain Kurtis Shultz is in his fourth season as the strength and conditioning coach of the Terrapins. His first three seasons as the Terps' strength coach have resulted in one national championship, two trips to the NCAA Final Four and three Sweet 16 appearances.

Shultz came to Maryland from Loyola College (Md.) where he had worked for the previous four years. At Loyola he instituted a strenuous off-season kick-boxing program as a supplement to the school's overall strength and conditioning program.

Shultz played in 67 games from 1992-95 for the Terps and was a member of two NCAA Tournament teams. He was a member of Maryland's 1994 and 1995 teams which advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament. He was a forward on the Terps' basketball team after playing two years at DeMatha High School under the legendary Morgan Wootten.

An avid weightlifter and body builder since his pre-college days, Shultz has established a thriving personal training, body-building and self-defense business in the Baltimore area. He has been a private personal trainer to Baltimore Ravens' linebacker Ray Lewis and has worked as a consultant and kick-boxing instructor with the Ravens for the past three years. He also been responsible for the strength training of more than a dozen professional lacrosse players in the Baltimore area.

In addition to his duties at Maryland, Shultz is director of strength and conditioning for four sports at Johns Hopkins University.

Pat Shannon

Video Coordinator (Maryland '95) 7th Year at Maryland

Pat Shannon is in his fourth season directing video services for the men's basketball team. Shannon, who was promoted in January 2001 to head the coaches' video and production needs of the Maryland athletics department, is in his seventh year at the university and has worked with Gary Williams' staff since 1999.

As the video coordinator for men's basketball, Shannon's specific duties include: breakdown and editing of opponent game film and scout tapes, filming all Maryland games, editing self-scout tapes and player clips, and coordinating the acquisition, dubbing and management of the opponent game film library.

Shannon has accompanied the Terps to their last three NCAA Tournaments, including Maryland's two Final Four appearances. Throughout the year he works to oversee the video needs of the athletics department's 25 intercollegiate sports programs with the exception of day-to-day football duties. As construction of the Comcast Center has come to completion in 2002, Shannon has overseen the design and implementation of the video operation and production facility, including the video boards used during Maryland athletics department events and other university-wide activities.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Shannon received a degree in journalism from Maryland in 1995.

Cleo Long-Thomas

Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach 13th Year at Maryland

Cleo Long-Thomas is in her 13th season as the administrative assistant to head coach Gary Williams and her 15th year overall at the University of Maryland. She coordinates the professional schedules of Coach Williams and the assistant coaching staff. In addition, she is responsible for the overall administration and the day-to-day managerial duties of the basketball office.

Long-Thomas coordinates Williams' schedule for departmental meetings, out-of-town speaking engagements and appearances. She also coordinates travel arrangements for the entire coaching staff. During the season, she produces the daily practice plans for the coaching staff and is responsible for all of the senior day activities at the final home game of each season. In the postseason, Long-Thomas plans and coordinates the Terps' annual honors banquet including all invitations, decorations, seating and banquet room setup. The original administrative coordinator of the Gary Williams Basketball Camp, Long-Thomas still assists with day-to-day camp activities such as application and registration.

Long-Thomas and her husband, Jocquin, are the proud parents of three children: Tyrone, 34, Jabari, 28, and Raven, 19. She also has two grandchildren, T.J., 6, and Jovan, 2.

Carole Bucco

Administrative Assistant to the Assistant Coaches (Maryland '93) 4th Year at Maryland

Carole Bucco is in her fourth year working with the University of Maryland men's basketball program, serving as the administrative assistant to the assistant coaches for recruiting.

Bucco coordinates all recruiting correspondence and mail-outs to prospective members of the team. In addition, she assists the coaches in preparation of scouting reports and with film exchange throughout the season and is responsible for assisting in the coordination, planning and registration of the annual Gary Williams summer basketball camp.

Bucco graduated from the University of Maryland in 1993. Upon commencement, she worked for the University of Maryland, University College for two years, and then for two small companies before returning to her alma mater.

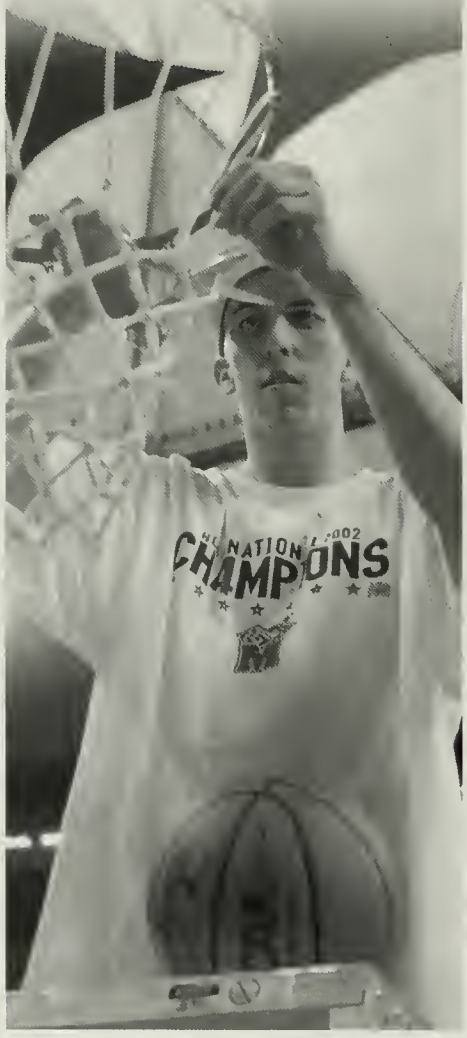
Steve Blake

Guard
Miami Lakes, Fla.
(Oak Hill (Va.) Academy)
6-3 • 172 • Senior, 3V



On Blake: Senior point guard and All-America candidate who has played his way among the country's elite ball-handlers and playmakers ... has developed a knack for crunch-time scoring in big games, and has put up his best numbers against the Terps' best competition ... Maryland is 82-25 with a national championship and two trips to the Final Four, with Blake as its starting point guard through three college seasons ... Maryland's all-time assists leader with 751 ... already boasts three of Maryland's top four seasons for assists, including 248 as a sophomore and 286 as a junior ... averages 7.3 points and 7.0 assists per game through his career ... ACC assist leader the past two seasons including a Maryland season record of 7.9 per game while leading the Terps to an ACC regular season title and the NCAA championship ... enters his senior season ranked fifth among ACC career leaders in assist average (7.02) ... is ninth in ACC history in career assists (751) ... is on pace to challenge the top assist-makers in NCAA and ACC history and become just the fourth college player ever to register 1,000 assists (Bobby Hurley, Duke, 1,076; Chris Corchiani, NC State, 1,038; Ed Cota, North Carolina, 1,030) ... needs 221 points and 249 assists to reach 1,000 points and 1,000 assists in his career ... ranks seventh in school history with 118 career 3-pointers ... ranks sixth in school history with 184 steals ... starter in 105 of 107 games since arriving at Maryland as a true freshman, including 78 consecutive.

Williams on Blake: "Steve Blake has done everything you can ask any point guard to do. Steve's been a three-year starter. He's got a chance to become a leader of this year's team. His experience from winning a national championship certainly makes him one of the top returning point guards in the country this year. He's played against all of the great point guards that have played in the last three years. I don't think any point guard has done more for his team than Steve has done for our team. I think he is a definite All-America candidate for his senior year."

2001-02: Started all 36 games of Terps' national championship team of 2002 ... Terrapin floor leader who achieved honorable mention All-America, third team All-ACC, honorable mention All-ACC Defensive team and second team ACC All-Tournament honors ... led the ACC in assists for the second straight season with a school record 7.9 assists per game ... became Maryland's career assists leader as a junior with a new total of 751, and he established a new single-season record with 286 ... career-high with 10 rebounds against Arizona at the Coaches vs. Cancer IKON Classic ... established a career scoring high with 20 points one night later vs. Temple in the Coaches vs. Cancer IKON Classic, and surpassed that with 21 points vs. NC State in the ACC Tournament ... new career-high 14 assists against North Carolina ... career-high with four blocked shots in Maryland's 76-63 win over No. 2 Illinois ... had 13 assists against Duke on Feb. 17 to tie the Maryland all-time assists record, breaking the mark one game later at Clemson ... dished his 700th career assist in his 100th career game, against Florida State in the ACC Tournament ...third double-double of the season came in the ACC Tournament vs. NC State, adding 11 assists to a career-high 21 points and a career high-tying six steals ... posted second straight double-double and fourth of the year with 11 points and 11 assists in the NCAA First Round game vs. Siena ... registered 11 assists in the NCAA national semifinal game vs. Kansas.

2000-01: Started all 36 games of Terps' Final Four run of 2001 ... Terps' floor leader who led the ACC in assists, 6.9 per game, and a school record 248 overall ... first Terrapin to lead the league in assists since John Lucas in 1974 ... assist average ranked ninth nationally ... honorable mention All-ACC, though the second-leading vote-getter among point guards ... in the NCAA Tournament, averaged 9.4 points and 6.0 assists, shot 56.7 percent (17 of 30) from the field and 50 percent (6 of 12) from 3-point range ... averaged 7.0 points and 10.0 assists in two games of the ACC Tournament ... in the ACC semifinal against Duke, registered 11 assists and buried a 3-pointer with 8.1 seconds remaining to knot the score at 82 ... had just the second double-double of his career with an 11-point, 11-assist performance in Maryland's road win at Duke ... perhaps his best game was his 11-point, nine-assist outing against the Devils at Cole Field House ... during that game, he limited court rival and former USA teammate Jay Williams to just 13 points, with 10 turnovers, before Blake fouled out with 1:51 in regulation ... limited Williams to a combined 26 points and 10 assists in two regular season meetings against Duke ... season-high eight rebounds occurred vs. Duke in the ACC Tournament, and vs. Norfolk State on Dec. 23 ... career-high 13 assists came against Stony Brook on Dec. 6 ... increased his scoring late in the season, scoring in double figures in nine of his last 18 games ... averaged 8.6 points in his final 18 games, compared to 5.2 in the first half of the season ... shot 50 percent (24 of 48) from 3-point range during the last half of the season ... hit all three 3-point attempts against Stanford in the NCAA West Region final ... scored 13 points in each of the Terps' final NCAA Tourney games against Stanford and Duke.

1999-00: ACC All-Freshman Team, honorable mention All-ACC and honorable mention ACC All-Defensive Team ... starting point guard for 33 of 35 games played during his first college season ... led Terps with 6.2 assists and was third among all NCAA freshmen ... the fifth freshman ever to lead the Terps in assists ... second on the team with 2.0 steals ... fourth in the ACC in both steals and assists ... set Terrapin freshman record with 217 assists while tying the class mark with 71 steals ... supplanted former Terp great John Lucas as the freshman assists leader ... became just the fourth Maryland player ever to surpass 200 assists in a season ... finished his freshman campaign with the second-best assist figure in Maryland history, just four shy of record-holder Keith Gatlin's 221 in 1985 ... his steals were sixth all-time, tied with former Harlem Globetrotters star Johnny "Ace" Rhodes ... was second on Terps with 37 3-point field goals, and fifth in scoring with 7.0 points per game ... increased his scoring as the season continued, scoring in double figures in four straight games entering the ACC Tournament (14.3 avg.) ... one of four Terrapin starters to average at least 30 minutes per game (31.9) ... scored his season-high 17 points in a March 1 home win over Florida State ... also added 10 assists for a double-double in points and assists against the Seminoles ... posted season-high 11 assists vs. Tulane and Illinois ... had 10 vs. Florida State, and three games with nine assists (at NC State, at UNC, at Wake Forest).

High School: Graduated from Oak Hill Academy in 1999 ... compiled an amazing 100-4 high school record between three different schools ... All-America honorable mention selection following his senior season by USA Today ... named the runner-up for the "Mr. Basketball" award in the state of Virginia following his senior season at Oak Hill ... ranked as the second-best prep point guard by recruiting analyst Bob Gibbons ... ranked as the sixth-best point guard entering the collegiate ranks in 1999-00 by recruiting expert Brick Oettinger ... named as the 44th-best overall player in the prep class of 1999 by "Recruiter's Handbook and the ACC Area Sports Journal ... in the final game of his high school career, Blake led a team of ACC future stars past a team of future SEC stars, 145-115, in Reynolds Coliseum on the NC State campus in the Fila/USA Hoops Challenge ... helped lead the Capital team to victory in the D.C.-area Capital Classic ... At Oak Hill: Started at point guard and averaged 8.8 points and 7.3 assists as Oak Hill was named the high school national champion by USA Today, ESPN and the Associated Press ... Oak Hill continued its outstanding tradition with a perfect 31-0 record, becoming the school's third undefeated team in nine seasons (1991-99) ... Oak Hill defeated seven of the top 25 nationally ranked teams during the season ... scored 16 points and added 10 assists as Oak Hill defeated Mt. Zion (N.C.) to win the cham-

Tahj Holden

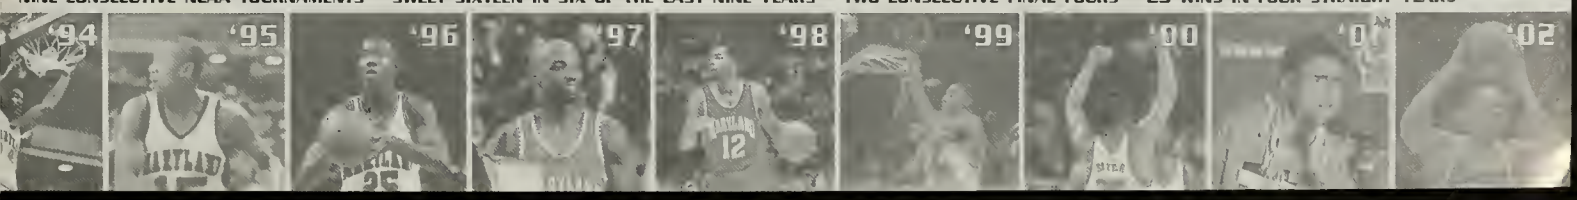
Forward
Red Bank, N.J.
(Red Bank Regional)
6-10 • 270 • Senior, 3V

On Holden: Senior and fourth-year player who may work his way into a starting role in 2002-03 ... started 11 games at the start of his junior campaign, and has 14 starts in his career ... has been a key contributor off the bench in each of the past three seasons ... player with excellent size who plays a physical role in the interior, and who also steps out and hits the 3-pointer ... has hit 38-of-84 (45.2 percent) 3-point field goals in his career ... averages 4.5 points through 98 games of his college career ... provides the Terps with a dominating inside presence while maintaining mobility enough to score and defend away from the basket ... has played some of his best games in Maryland's biggest games, including the 2001 West Region final vs. Stanford and the 2002 Final Four semifinal vs. Kansas ... has shot 54.5 percent (18-of-33) from the field in his last 11 NCAA Tournament games ... shot 81 percent (26-of-32) from the charity stripe during the NCAA Tournament over the past two seasons, including 15-of-15 during the 2002 championship run.

Williams on Holden: "Tahj was very valuable to us last year. Very few teams had a 6-10, 250-pound player coming off the bench. There was no drop-off in our play when he came off the bench. He was like having a sixth starter, and was very important to our success. His play against Kansas certainly was a key factor in our winning that game in the semifinals of the Final Four. When we recruited Tahj, the report was that he was a very good player but that he was kind of soft. To his credit, Tahj has become one of our strongest and toughest players. I can't say enough about him. I never saw as much criticism of a player before he even got a chance to practice by some people, and he just threw it all in their face. He made a big difference in our team as a sophomore when he came back from his broken foot. Without Tahj, we would not have made our first Final Four because his inside defense was key against teams like Stanford."

2001-02: Was solid off the bench while playing in all of 36 games for the national champions ... came off the bench in the season opener against Arizona, then started 10 of the next 11 games before relinquishing the starting role to Chris Wilcox ... averaged 5.6 points and 2.7 rebounds overall, and 5.8 points and 3.2 rebounds in 16 ACC games ... buried a 3-pointer just before halftime as part of an eight-point effort vs. UConn in the Elite Eight and put forth a valuable 13-point, four-rebound effort against Kansas in the Final Four while playing 24 minutes with Lonny Baxter in foul trouble ... first double-digit scoring game of the year came with 15 points against UConn in the BB&T Classic final ... followed that performance with 14 points and a career-high six blocked shots one game later against Detroit ... posted his third straight double-figure scoring game with 11 points against Monmouth ... scored 11 of his season-high 16 points in the first half against Norfolk State, shooting 6-of-7 from the field and contributing six rebounds, five blocks and two steals ... led all reserves with 11 points at Wake Forest and Virginia ... chipped in five points and six rebounds in 14 minutes vs. Siena in the Terps' NCAA first round game.

2000-01: Played in 27 games, averaging 4.5 points and 2.3 rebounds in 12.1 minutes per contest ... turned in some of his best performances down the stretch as the Terps boasted one of the deepest and best rebounding teams in the NCAA Tournament ... averaged 6.4 points, 2.8 rebounds and shot 52.9 percent from the field during five NCAA Tournament games ... came off the bench to score 10 points and grab five rebounds in 10 minutes of play against Georgetown in the Sweet Sixteen, then followed with a 14-point effort against Stanford in the NCAA West Region final ... hit 3-of-4 3-point field goal attempts against the Cardinal to match a career-high, and made 12-of-25 3FGs for the season ... career-high eight free throws against Stanford ... had nine points against Virginia in the regular season finale, and posted 10 during just seven minutes of play against Duke in the ACC semifinals ... season-high 23 minutes against Wisconsin in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge on Nov. 29 ... season-high seven rebounds in 98-96 overtime loss to Duke at Cole Field House ... played in each of the Terps' final 20 games after missing nine games with a broken bone (fifth metatarsal) in his left foot ... broke the bone in practice on Dec. 7 and had successful surgery to insert a screw into the foot on Dec. 9 ... returned for the Wake Forest game where he saw 12 minutes of action, forced a technical foul and immediately commanded a physical presence in the paint.



1999-00: Played in all 35 games and drew three starts as a true freshman ... averaged 3.3 points and 2.0 rebounds in over 12 minutes per game ... one of three Terp freshmen to appear in all 35 contests ... played 23 minutes in his first career start, vs. Clemson (Jan. 22), while taking the place of injured All-American Terence Morris ... responded with 12 points on 4-of-6 shooting and 10 rebounds for his only double-double ... also had five blocked shots ... included in the 10 boards were five on the offensive end ... started and played just eight minutes in home win over NC State (Feb. 6) when he picked up three quick fouls ... started NCAA Tournament win over Iona in place of Danny Miller who missed the game with an ankle injury ... contributed four points and four rebounds in a season-high 30 minutes ... season-high 17 points on 5-of-7 shooting, including 3-of-3 treys, against Wake Forest (Jan. 19) ... in back-to-back games against Wake and Clemson, scored 29 points with 16 rebounds ... shot 9-of-13 overall and was good on 3-of-4 3-pointers ... named ACC Rookie of the Week on Jan. 24 after performances vs. Wake Forest and Clemson ... averaged 5.3 points and 5.0 rebounds per game as a starter ... scored nine points in 20 minutes off the bench in the ACC Tournament title game vs. Duke ... averaged a solid 14 minutes per game during conference action ... shot 47.4 percent from 3-point range (9-of-19) ... shot 47.8 percent from the floor, overall, in ACC play ... 26 blocked shots was third on the team.

High School: Selected all-state by the Associated Press ... an all-state second-team choice following his senior season by the Gannett newspaper chain ... all-state fourth team by New Jersey Hoops ... played in the New Jersey Scholastic Coaches Association All-Star game following his senior season ... ranked as the 48th-best prep player entering the collegiate ranks for the 1999-2000 season by the ACC Area Journal and Recruiter's

Calvin McCall

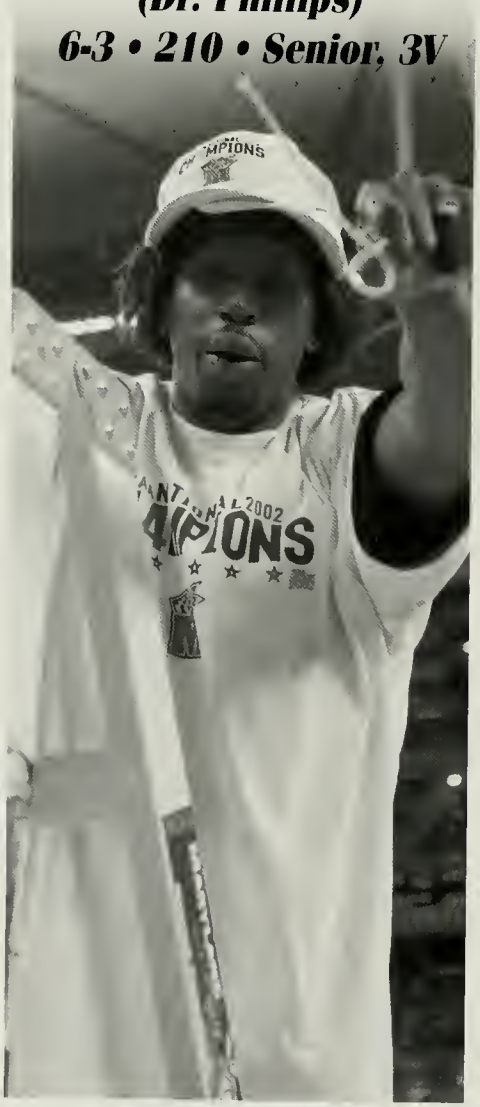
Miami, Fla.
(Dr. Phillips)
6-3 • 210 • Senior, 3V



On McCall: Fourth-year guard who will challenge for playing time at the "2" and "3" positions this fall ... joined the Terps following the 1999 and 2000 football seasons ... returns for his final college season in his second year with a full-time commitment to basketball ... valuable bench contributor, adding intensity and a defensive spark ... appeared in 43 basketball games in three seasons ... first Maryland football player to score for the Terps' basketball team since Lubo Zizakovic in 1992 ... first walked on to the Terrapin basketball team in December 1999.

Williams on McCall: "Last year, Calvin focused on basketball all year for the first time. I think it was a good experience for him, and as practice went on he became a better basketball player. Hopefully that will continue this summer. We can use his senior leadership this year, as that becomes important to us because of the players that we lost. I think Calvin realizes that because of his size, he's going to go against bigger players sometimes. He has to be a great defensive player. He's always had the ability to put the ball in the basket. A lot of his potential will depend on his ability to play defense."

2001-02: Played in his first year with a full-time commitment to the basketball program and earned minutes in 19 of the Terps' 36 games, including three of the Terps' six NCAA Tournament games ... averaged 1.4 points and 0.8 rebounds overall ... hauled in a career-high four rebounds against Monmouth ... registered his first career blocked shot vs. William & Mary and nailed a 3-pointer in the contest's waning moments ... sank 1-of-2 free throws against NC State as part of a team 35-of-49 (.714) effort from the line ... splashed in his second 3-pointer of the season vs. Norfolk State ... made a jumper in the last two minutes of the Terps' 85-65 victory over Georgia Tech ... career scoring night with 10 points on 4-of-4 shooting, including a 2-for-2 effort from 3-point range at Florida State ... logged four minutes of play vs. Florida State in the ACC Tournament, tallying two points and two rebounds.

2000-01: Backup guard who appeared in 11 games, averaging 1.3 points ... scored six points against Stony Brook on Dec. 6, hitting a pair of late 3-pointers ... had four points in the BB&T Classic semifinal against Michigan ... had an assist against Wake Forest in the ACC Tournament ... shot 4-of-13 from the floor overall ... contributed two steals and three rebounds against Chicago State ... had six steals overall ... made first appearance of the season against Michigan ... joined the team in Maui for his first practice on Nov. 19, immediately following Maryland's final football game against Georgia Tech on Nov. 18 ... in football, played in nine games and started eight before suffering an ankle injury against NC State on Nov. 4 ... led Maryland in passing for the second straight season, completing 105-of-199 attempts for 1,533 yards, five touchdowns and nine interceptions ... averaged 170.3 passing yards per game ... finished 15th on Maryland's single-season passing chart ... career-high 357 yards and two touchdowns in a win over Middle Tennessee State ... had 200-yard passing days vs. West Virginia (215), Wake Forest (208) and Virginia (207).

1999-00: Walked on to the Terrapin basketball team in December and bolstered Maryland's defensive efforts ... provided much-needed depth in the guard rotation ... played in 13 games, averaging 1.1 points in just over five minutes per game ... shot 5-of-22 from the floor, and 4-of-7 from the line ... contributed 10 rebounds, 11 assists and five steals for the season ... in football, was a nine-game starter and established most Maryland freshman records for passing and total offense ... finished No. 2 among Division I-A freshman quarterbacks (behind Virginia Tech's Michael Vick) in passing efficiency and total offense ... runner-up for ACC Rookie of the Year honors ... completed 93-of-179 passes (.510) for 1,264 yards and five touchdowns ... threw just three interceptions and finished with the best interception ratio (nearly 60:1) in the ACC ... season was cut short by two games (torn medial collateral ligament in his left knee Nov. 9 vs. NC State) ... a two-time ACC Rookie of the Week ... the triggerman in the Terps' rejuvenated offensive attack, he helped Maryland rise from 105th nationally in 1998 to 54th overall in 1999 in final NCAA total offense rankings ... threw for a career-high 221 yards at Georgia Tech and tossed a career-best two TD passes vs. West Virginia.

1998-99: Did not play basketball ... traveled all season as Maryland's third quarterback and earned a football redshirt.

High School: Graduated from Dr. Phillips High School in Orlando, Fla., in 1998 ... averaged more than 17 points per game during an all-state basketball career and hit better than .320 during his baseball career ... selected to the Metro Conference Hall of Fame ... named the Central Florida Player of the Year and a third-team all-state selection in 1997 ... selected to SuperPrep's all-regional team ... completed 72 of 125 passes for 1,312 yards, 21 touchdowns and just two interceptions as a senior ... led team to a 10-1 record and district and conference championships ... selected to play in the North-South all-star game ... as a junior, he played safety and starred for the top-rated defense in central Florida, earning second team all-state honors ... high school football coach was Chip Gierke.

Personal: Calvin Demar McCall ... born March 7, 1980 ... son of Lola and Kevin McCall ... grew up in Miami, but attended his final three years of high school in Orlando ... nickname is "Country" ... majoring in family studies.

Drew Nicholas

Guard
Hempstead, N.Y.
(Long Island Lutheran)
6-3 • 165 • Senior, 3V

On Nicholas: Versatile, sharp-shooting senior guard who has filled multiple roles on the Terps' 2002 national championship team and 2001 Final Four team ... a deadly shooter who most naturally plays in the shooting guard spot and should assume a starting role for 2002-03 ... he provides ultimate flexibility to rotate at the point guard and swing positions, also ... Maryland's first guard off the bench for three seasons ... has teamed with Tahj Holden off the bench the last three seasons to become one of the Terps' most valuable talents ... has played in all 107 games of his Maryland career and has moved into ninth on Maryland's career chart for 3-point field goals (103) ... played in double-figure minutes in all 36 games as a junior, and 99 of 107 career games.

Williams on Nicholas: "Drew has been so valuable because he's really played three positions for us in his first three years. This year, he has a great chance to start at the second guard spot. There are few people who can shoot the ball from the 3-point line as well as Drew. I think he has a lot of confidence. He's made some big 3s. Certainly the two he made against Virginia down there were a key in us winning that game last season. I think we had a couple of guys like Tahj and Drew that would have started for most teams, but they were behind great players. Now they get their chance as seniors. That's how it's supposed to work. As long as a player has his opportunity, I feel very good about how his career has progressed. Drew's going to get his chance, he's probably going to be a starter this year, and if he can really step up, it will be big for us. Drew has been probably as valuable, and has made as much of a contribution, as anybody in our program in the past two years because we've needed somebody to back up Steve Blake at the point. We didn't want to lose Drew's shooting abilities, so he really wound up playing three positions. Even though he is still mostly a shooting guard, his ball-handling experience has made him a better basketball player."

2001-02: A 36-game performer who averaged 7.1 points and 2.3 rebounds for the national champions ... one of six players to average over 20 minutes (20.5), though he started just one game ... was third on the team in assists (88, 2.4 per game) behind Steve Blake and Juan Dixon ... scored in double figures in seven of 16 ACC games ... made his first career start against Detroit and contributed a career-high tying five rebounds to go along with six points ... contributed 14 points against William & Mary on 5-of-8 shooting ... went 5-of-6 from the field and 2-of-2 from the line en route to a 12-point effort at Duke ... was a perfect 2-for-2 from 3-point range and played valuable minutes at point guard, shooting guard and small forward to help the Terps topple Virginia ... his two treys came in the final two minutes of the game as Maryland scrapped back to erase a 9-point deficit ... scored 14 points at North Carolina on 5-of-6 field-goal shooting and 3-of-4 shooting from beyond the arc ... splashed in a pair of 3-pointers and handed out a pair of assists en route to a 12-point effort at Clemson ... dropped a season-high 15 points, including a 3-for-4 effort from 3-point range, on Florida State, and scored 10 points, including a 4-for-4 performance from the free throw line vs. Virginia in Cole Field House's final game ... scored nine points in the Terps' NCAA first round game vs. Siena ... followed that performance with an eight-point effort against Wisconsin, and an eight-point, five-assist effort vs. Kentucky.

2000-01: Played in all 36 games and was third on the team in both 3-point field goals (34) and assists (86) ... averaged 16.6 minutes per contest, while scoring 6.6 points with 1.6 rebounds each game ... shot 49.4 percent from the floor and 42.0 percent from 3-point range ... averaged 5.4 points and 13.8 minutes per game during Maryland's NCAA Tournament run ... made 11-of-13 free throws during the tournament ... will be remembered for dribbling out the clock in the Terps' 87-73 NCAA West Region championship win over Stanford ... Chevrolet/CBS-TV player of the game with a season-high 16 points and career-high 10 assists in the Terps' regular season finale against Virginia ... played a season-high 27 minutes during a 102-67 rout of the No. 7 Cavaliers, shooting 7-of-8 from the floor including both 3-point attempts ... had double figures in consecutive games off the bench, with 15 at Georgia Tech on Feb. 6 and 16 at top-ranked North Carolina on Feb. 10 ... career-high five rebounds in ACC/Big Ten Challenge against Wisconsin on Nov. 29 ... against Dayton at the Maui Invitational, shot 4-of-5 from 3-point range, scoring 12 points with five assists and two steals ... six double-figure scoring games overall.

1999-00: Played in all 35 games as a true freshman and averaged 5.1 points ... one of five Terps with 30 or more 3-point field goals ... made 31-of-92 3-point attempts while averaging 15.7 minutes per game to lead all of Maryland's bench contributors ... also contributed 50 assists (1.4) and 16 steals (0.5) ... earned double-figure minutes in 30 of 35 games ... erupted with a season-high 27 points in a non-conference win over Fairleigh Dickinson on Nov. 22 ... played a season-best 28 minutes while hitting 9-of-11 shots, including four 3-pointers, against the Knights ... made 4- of-6 3-point attempts vs. FDU ... also scored in double figures with 12 points in 26 minutes vs. UMBC ... season-high five rebounds in home win over Winthrop ... dished a season-best six assists vs. Florida State in the ACC Tournament ... had four steals vs. Tulane ... totaled 18 points in three ACC Tournament games ... averaged 16 minutes and six points per game in two NCAA Tournament games.

High School: Graduated from Long Island Lutheran High School in 1999 ... three-year varsity letterwinner, and two-year starter ... played on three teams which advanced to the state federation final four ... averaged 24.2 points, 4.5 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 3.7 steals per game as a senior and shot a remarkable 57 percent from the floor ... hit 75 3-point shots during his senior season ... scored 1,011 career points ... earned the Richard Sandler Award as the top player in Nassau County following his senior season ... the award is presented annually by Newsday and has previously been awarded to collegiate

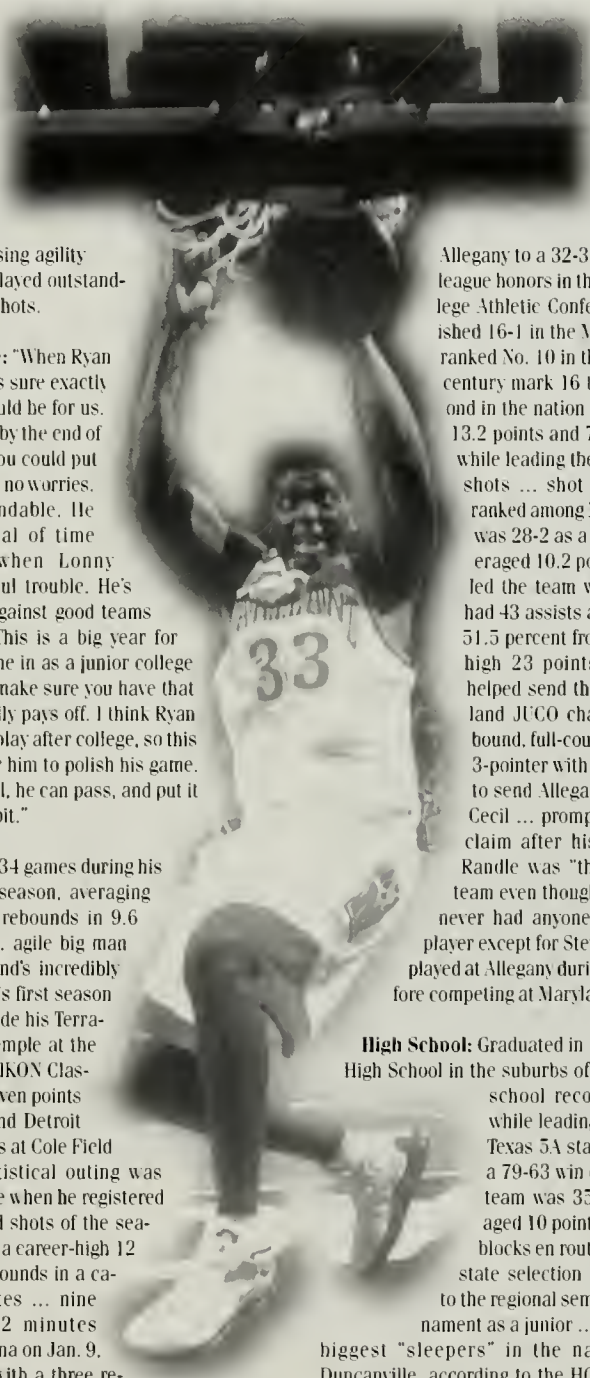
Ryan Randle

Forward/Center
Duncanville, Texas
(Duncanville/Allegany CC)
6-9 • 255 • Senior, 1V

On Randle: Returning senior whose development in 2002 was instrumental in the Terps' drive to the NCAA title ... fills interior roles at power forward and center, and was remarkably productive in his first Division I season while averaging just 9.6 minutes per game ... former junior college recruit who helped Allegany CC to the national junior college finals ... helped restock Maryland's interior depth, while adding another quality shooter facing the basket ... handles the ball well, and passes well for a big man, has surprising agility for his size and displayed outstanding ability to block shots.

Williams on Randle: "When Ryan came in, nobody was sure exactly just how good he could be for us. He turned out to be, by the end of the year, someone you could put in the game and have no worries. He was very dependable. He played a great deal of time against Kansas when Lonny [Baxter] got into foul trouble. He's played really well against good teams and good players. This is a big year for Ryan. When you come in as a junior college player, you want to make sure you have that senior year that really pays off. I think Ryan has the potential to play after college, so this will be a big year for him to polish his game. He can shoot the ball, he can pass, and put it on the floor a little bit."

2001-02: Played in 34 games during his first major college season, averaging 3.8 points and 3.1 rebounds in 9.6 minutes of action ... agile big man rounded out Maryland's incredibly deep frontcourt in his first season with the team ... made his Terrapin debut against Temple at the Coaches vs. Cancer IKON Classic ... contributed seven points against American and Detroit in his first two games at Cole Field House ... best statistical outing was against Norfolk State when he registered his first five blocked shots of the season to go along with a career-high 12 points and eight rebounds in a career-high 25 minutes ... nine points came in 12 minutes against North Carolina on Jan. 9, on 4-of-4 shooting with a three rebounds and two steals ... six points and five rebounds in 16 minutes at Florida State ... scored six points, pulled down two rebounds and blocked three shots in 11 minutes vs. FSU in the ACC Tournament ... registered four points and three rebounds in his first NCAA Tournament appearance, vs. Siena, and added four points and four rebounds in an NCAA second round game vs. Wisconsin ... logged 15 valuable minutes as the Terps topped Kansas in the Final Four.



At Allegany CC: Played the 1999-00 and 2000-01 seasons at Allegany CC where he helped lead the Trojans to the NJCAA championship game as a sophomore ... led Allegany to a 32-3 record and earned all-league honors in the Maryland Junior College Athletic Conference ... Allegany finished 16-1 in the MJCAA ... Allegany was ranked No. 10 in the country, topping the century mark 16 times and ranking second in the nation in scoring ... averaged 13.2 points and 7.8 rebounds per game while leading the team with 61 blocked shots ... shot near 60 percent and ranked among MJCAA leaders ... team was 28-2 as a freshman, when he averaged 10.2 points, 5.1 rebounds and led the team with 31 blocks ... also had 43 assists and 27 steals, and shot 51.5 percent from the field ... season-high 23 points against Harford ... helped send the Trojans to the Maryland JUCO championship with a rebound, full-court dribble and a 30-foot 3-pointer with 1.9 seconds remaining to send Allegany to a 72-71 win over Cecil ... prompted coach Bob Kirk to claim after his freshman year that Randle was "the best player on our team even though he didn't start. We've never had anyone who is as capable a player except for Steve Francis." ... Francis played at Allegany during the 1998 season before competing at Maryland as a junior in 1999.

High School: Graduated in 1999 from Duncanville High School in the suburbs of Dallas, Texas ... set a school record for blocked shots while leading his team to the 1999 Texas 5A state championship, with a 79-63 win over Dallas Kimball ... team was 35-3 while Randle averaged 10 points, 13 rebounds and six blocks en route to a second team all-state selection ... his team advanced to the regional semifinal of the state tournament as a junior ... considered one of the biggest "sleepers" in the nation coming out of Duncanville, according to the HOOP SCOOP recruiting service ... earned all-tourney accolades at the Slam Dunk To The Beach tournament as a senior ... prepped at Duncanville with University of Texas teammates Chris Owens and Brian Boddicker ... coached by Phil McNeely.

Personal: Ryan Randle ... born April 21, 1981 ... son of Jessica Randle ... has two younger brothers, Tye (18) and Terrance (14) ... an uncle, Christopher Randle, was a former tight end at the University of New Mexico ... favorite athlete is Grant Hill ... nickname is "Sleepy."

Andre Collins

Guard
Crisfield, Md.
(Crisfield/Hargrave Military)
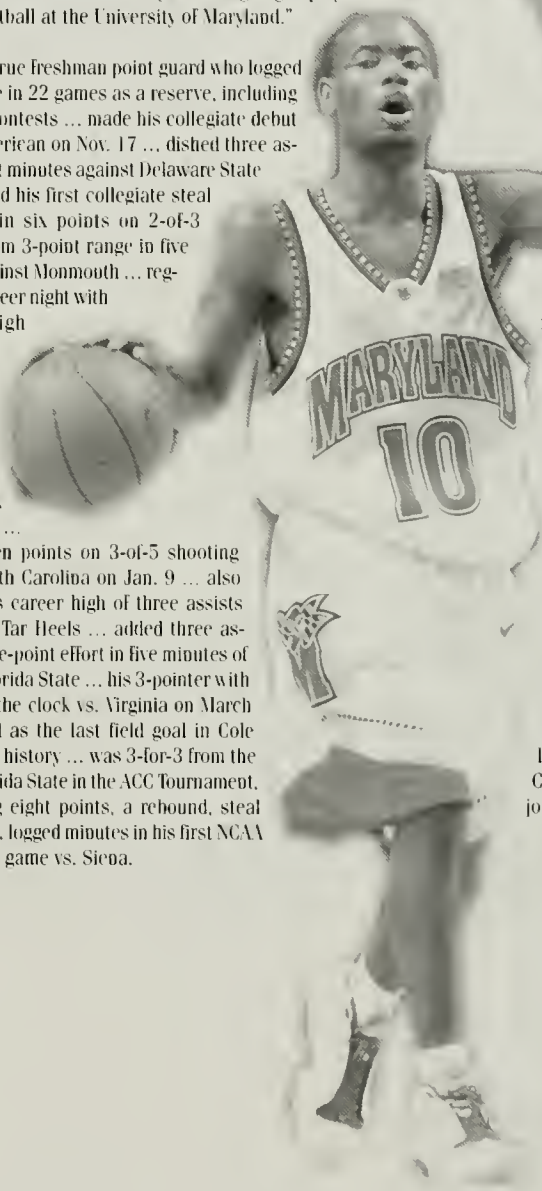
5-9 • 160 • Sophomore, 1V

On Collins: An ultra-quick point guard who played a reserve role last season as part of the Terps' national champions ... is expected to help move the ball quickly up the floor for Maryland ... will move into the point guard rotation with Steve Blake, Drew Nicholas and John Gilchrist ... was an outstanding scorer and exciting player in high school, before participating one season at Hargrave Military Academy ... wore #10 on his jersey as a freshman.

Williams on Collins: "Andre gives us a quick guard. Andre showed in flashes last year his ability to score. As he continues to work on his ballhandling, he's going to become a very important player for us. Andre's as quick as anybody we'll play against and he has the ability to get the ball downcourt in a hurry. Andre's going to play a lot of basketball at the University of Maryland."

2001-02: True freshman point guard who logged playing time in 22 games as a reserve, including two NCAA contests ... made his collegiate debut against American on Nov. 17 ... dished three assists in eight minutes against Delaware State and recorded his first collegiate steal ... poured in six points on 2-of-3 shooting from 3-point range in five minutes against Monmouth ... registered a career-night with a career-high 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting and 11 minutes played vs. Norfolk State ... scored seven points on 3-of-5 shooting against North Carolina on Jan. 9 ... also matched his career high of three assists against the Tar Heels ... added three assists to a five-point effort in five minutes of action at Florida State ... his 3-pointer with no time on the clock vs. Virginia on March 3 will stand as the last field goal in Cole Field House history ... was 3-for-3 from the field vs. Florida State in the ACC Tournament, contributing eight points, a rebound, steal and assist ... logged minutes in his first NCAA Tournament game vs. Siena.



Hargrave Military Academy: Starting point guard for one season at Hargrave Military Academy in Chatham, Va., where Terrapin teammate Lonny Baxter played, also ... averaged 15.6 points and 8.0 assists per game in helping lead his squad to an overall record of 27-1 ... led the team in assists and was second in scoring ... one of 11 players from his Hargrave team to land a Division I scholarship ... scored 18 points, with seven rebounds and seven assists against Pfeiffer University JV ... scored 20 or more in consecutive games against Rockingham JC (24), Guilford College JV (21) and Southern Virginia College JV (21) ... played in the Charm City Classic all-star game in Baltimore in April 2001, with fellow Maryland signee Michael Grinnon.

High School: Graduated in 2000 from Crisfield High School in Crisfield, Md. ... prep All-American who led his team to a 25-3 record and a Maryland 1A state title as a senior ... averaged 30.5 points, 9.9 assists, 5.1 steals and 4.9 rebounds per game on his way to earning first team all-state honors (small schools) ... selected Player of the Year on the Eastern Shore and was tabbed to play in the Capital Classic All-Star game following his senior season ... four-year starter who totaled 2,152 points in his career, never averaging fewer than 10 points in a season ... a first team all-state selection as a sophomore, junior and senior.

Personal: Andre Collins ... born Aug. 9, 1982 ... son of Romaine Henderson and Andrew Collins ... siblings include Andrew (23), Chris (15), Chantel (10) and Danielle (9) ... majoring in letters and sciences.

Mike Grinnon

Forward
Oyster Bay, N.Y.
(St. Dominic)
6-6 • 198 • Sophomore, 1V

On Grinnon: A fundamentally sound shooter who the Terps expect to fill a perimeter role ... can play as either a small forward or shooting guard ... played a reserve role behind Byron Mouton and Drew Nicholas at the swing position during 2001-02, and increased his strength and defensive capabilities during his first college season ... called a great outside shooter who knows the game, and has developed a quicker release since his freshman season.

Williams on Grinnon: "Mike didn't get a chance to play much last year, playing behind some great players. Having played against Byron Mouton and Juan Dixon everyday in practice last year, Mike is certainly a better player now than he was when he came in last year. Mike is one of those guys that really came on during his senior year of high school. It's amazing, Juan Dixon did the same thing up in Baltimore. People rate players nowadays from the time they are freshmen in high school. And if you get on somebody's 'list' early, you're going to remain on those lists for the most part through your whole career. Mike wasn't on any of those lists early, but by the time he was a senior, he was playing against guys that were on those lists and doing very well, so I think Mike is really going to surprise a lot of players once he gets his opportunity."

2001-02: Swingman who played behind Byron Mouton and Drew Nicholas as a freshman, appearing in 16 games ... made his collegiate debut against American on Nov. 17 ... registered his first college points against Delaware State on Nov. 24 ... recorded an assist vs. William & Mary on Dec. 27 ... drilled a 3-pointer and pulled down a rebound in a four-minute ACC debut against North Carolina on Jan. 9 ... recorded his first collegiate steal at Clemson ... logged his first career NCAA Tournament minutes vs. Wisconsin.

High School: Graduated in 2001 from St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay, N.Y. ... averaged 19 points per game while leading St. Dom to a No. 14 final ranking in the 2001 NY State Class A Poll ... team MVP and first team all-league ... Grinnon and the perennial Long Island powerhouse Bayhawks were ranked as high as No. 3 during his senior season ... Grinnon scored 21 points in the regular season finale against Holy Trinity, with a first quarter 3-pointer pushing him over the 1,000-point mark for his career ... had 29 points including 5-of-6 from 3-point range against St. John the Baptist ... had 22 points and seven rebounds, including a game-tying trey at the end of regulation, in a triple-overtime thriller against St. Ray's ... averaged 16 points and seven rebounds as a junior ... teamed with fellow Maryland newcomer Andre Collins at the Charm City Classic in Baltimore last April, scoring four points ... played against Terp guard Drew Nicholas while he was in high school at Long Island Lutheran.

Personal: Michael Grinnon ... born Dec. 18, 1982 ... son of Hugh and Karen Grinnon ... has two older brothers, Jonathan (25) and Thomas (22) ...majoring in letters and sciences ... enjoys music, golf and political science ... lists Rush Limbaugh and George W. Bush as two of the people he most admires ... favorite athlete is Michael Jordan ... a member of his high school's National Honor Society, student ambassadors and S.A.D.D. (Students Against Destructive Decisions).

Nik Caner-Medley

Forward
Portland, Maine (Deering)
6-8 • 220 • Freshman

On Caner-Medley: Will vie for a starting role at the small forward position as just a freshman and could be the most pleasant surprise of the Maryland recruiting class ... honored by the National High School Coaches Association (NHSCA) as the national high school boy's basketball Athlete of the Year for 2002 ... regarded as the best prospect out of the state of Maine in several years, he was called "White Thunder" in media reports surrounding the Capital Classic, identifying the youngster's aggressive play and leaping ability ... given the proper development, he could log significant minutes ... first Maryland player from Maine since Gary Williams' teammate Joe Harrington in the late 1960s ... played summer basketball last summer in the Rucker Park League in Harlem where he played beside former Terps Byron Mouton and Steve Francis, and played against Kobe Bryant.

Williams On Caner-Medley: "I like to have aggressive players and I personally like to have a left-handed player on my team, and Nik gives us both of those things. He's a very good outside shooter for about 6-7, and he's not afraid to mix it up inside. He's one of those players, potentially, who can help you in a couple of positions that you throw in there to really get your team more aggressive. I think as a freshman, he can have some impact for us."

High School: Graduated from Deering High School in 2002 ... the player of the year in Maine and the state's top-rated player following his junior year also ... NHSCA boy's basketball Athlete of the Year ... named the state's Mr. Basketball and the Gatorade Player of the Year ... a Top 100 national recruit who steadily drew more attention as his career progressed ... a finalist for the McDonald's All-America team ... remarkable scoring as a senior, tallying a school-record 51 points on Feb. 12 vs. South Portland ... scored 47 points in consecutive games, had one game with 46 and another with 44 during his final prep campaign ... scored 39 points in a regional final game, and scored 26 points in a state championship defeat to Brunswick ... led the Rams to back-to-back Western Maine titles, twice losing in the state finals ... led the state in scoring in back-to-back seasons, with a 36.5-point average in 2002 and a 26.8-point clip in 2001 ... Deering's career scoring leader with 1,641 points ... also led the Southern Maine Athletic Association as a senior with 15.6 rebounds and 4.2 steals per game, and added 4.6 assists ... posted 12.7 rebounds, 4.4 steals and 4.1 assists as a junior under coach Mike Francoeur ... first-team all-state as a junior and senior, leading the SMAA in points and rebounds both seasons ... led his team to a 40-5 record in his last two seasons and teamed with 2001 state player of the year Jamaal Caterina ... always played guard until his junior year of high school after he grew five inches ... was a wide receiver in football as a freshman at Deering ... competed at the Capital Classic with Maryland newcomers Travis Garrison, John Gilchrist and Chris McCray ...

Personal: Nik Caner-Medley ... born on Oct. 20, 1983 ... son of Joe Medley and Janet Caner ... younger brother is Patrick (11) ... featured in Sports Illustrated's Faces In The Crowd during his senior year of high school ... high honor roll student in high school played summer AAU ball for Los Angeles-based Pump 'N Run, where he stayed with his grandparents, Ed and Gloria Medley.

Travis Garrison

Forward/Center
Suitland, Md. (DeMatha)
6-8 • 234 • Freshman

On Garrison: Terps' most highly-regarded newcomer for 2002-03 ... a 6-9 power forward who can face the basket, rebound and defend in the interior ... will be looked upon to contribute quickly in his first college season, joining newcomer Jamar Smith and returning seniors Tahj Holden and Ryan Randle among a four-player post rotation ... could also see time as a swing forward as his perimeter game improves.

Williams On Garrison: "Travis was a part of a great high school system. At 6-9 with the ability to shoot the ball as well as he can, but yet be a strong inside player, really gives him a chance to come in and have an immediate impact. We lose Lonny Baxter and Chris Wilcox so there's some playing time that's available on the inside for a guy like Travis. He's going to get his chance. Some players adjust quickly, others take longer and there's nothing wrong with that. But Travis has played in a lot of big games and hopefully he can make a very quick adjustment to the college game."

High School: Graduated from DeMatha High School in 2002 ... led powerhouse DeMatha to a 31-3 record as a senior while averaging 17.7 points, 13 rebounds and four blocks as the Stags won their second straight D.C. city title ... shot 74 percent from the free throw stripe ... capped his senior season by leading the Stags to a state Catholic title in the Alhambra Invitational ... USA Today third team All-American and a consensus top 25 recruit ... named MVP of five tournaments including the Adolph Rupp Classic in Kentucky and the Basketball Hall of Fame Classic in Massachusetts, and selected for McDonald's All-American game at Madison Square Garden ... the first local star named to the McDonald's All-America game since former DeMatha stars Keith Bogans and Joe Forte in 1999 ... a first-team All-Met selection by the Washington Post and a second team All-Met pick as a junior ... averaged 15 points, nine rebounds and three blocks as a junior under Hall of Fame coach Morgan Wootten ... was the MVP of the city title game as a junior ... participant in the Capital Classic alongside current Maryland freshmen Nik Caner-Medley, John Gilchrist and Chris McCray ... longtime friend and AAU teammate of McCray's.

Personal: Travis Garrison ... born April 20, 1984 ... son of Sheila and Lawrence Garrison ... has two older brothers, Lawrence (27) and Shavery (24) ... hopes to major in business at Maryland, and one day own his own business ... enjoys visiting museums and touring new cities ... has enjoyed growing up in the shadows of Washington, D.C., because of its different types of people, its history and its monuments ... favorite person is his mother, for having raised three sons ... favorite athlete is Michael Jordan because of the way he has opened doors as both a ballplayer and a successful businessman.

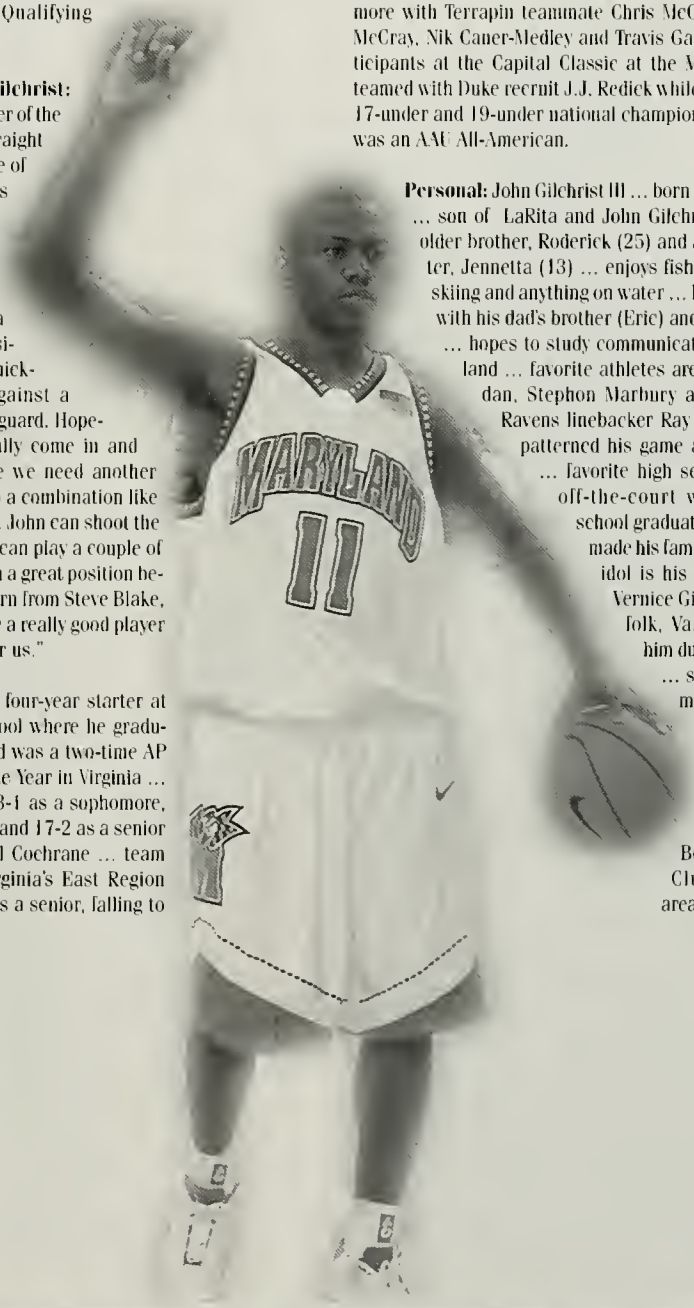
John Gilchrist

Guard
Virginia Beach, Va. (Salem)
6-3 • 190 • Freshman

On Gilchrist: Two-time Virginia state player of the year who announced his intentions to come to Maryland because of the long line of developing players under coach Gary Williams ... the physical point guard prospect should see immediate minutes split between duties behind Steve Blake and Drew Nicholas at both guard positions ... characterized as a winner and a competitor, and lists Juan Dixon as one of his favorite players ... attended Maryland's summer youth basketball camp since he was 9-years old ... his college decision influenced by former Terp and current pro Joe Smith, who Gilchrist first met at summer camp and who also hails from the Norfolk, Va., area ... invited to USA Basketball's 2002 tryout camp for the U.S. Junior World Championship Qualifying Team.

Williams On Gilchrist: "He was the player of the year for two straight years in the state of Virginia. He gives you a very strong guard. He's got almost a 200-pound body at a point guard position, and the quickness to play against a very good point guard. Hopefully he can really come in and help us because we need another guard to get into a combination like we had last year. John can shoot the ball well and he can play a couple of positions. He's in a great position because he can learn from Steve Blake, and he should be a really good player for four years for us."

High School: A four-year starter at Salem High School where he graduated in 2002 and was a two-time AP AAA Player of the Year in Virginia ... team finished 23-1 as a sophomore, 29-1 as a junior and 17-2 as a senior under coach Bill Cochrane ... team was 15-0 in Virginia's East Region Beach District as a senior, falling to Hampton in the state's East Region championship game ... finalist for the McDonald's All-America team ... regarded as one of the top five point guards in the country ... helped Salem to three consecutive AAA state titles in 1999, 2000 and 2001 ... averaged 20 points, eight assists and just one turnover per game as a senior ...scored 19.8 points per contest in 2000-01, to go with 7.5 assists and 6.7 rebounds ... shot over 85 percent from the free throw line and over 45 percent from the 3-point stripe in his last two seasons ... averaged 15 points and eight assists as just a sophomore ... ranked as the top point guard at the 2001 Nike Camp in Indianapolis, and as the country's fifth-best point guard by The Sporting News ... played in the Charm City Classic all-star game in Baltimore with Terrapin teammate Chris McCray ... joined McCray, Nik Caner-Medley and Travis Garrison as participants at the Capital Classic at the MCI Center ... teamed with Duke recruit J.J. Redick while winning AAU 17-under and 19-under national championships ... also was an AAU All-American.



Personal: John Gilchrist III ... born June 29, 1984 ... son of LaRita and John Gilchrist ... has an older brother, Roderick (25) and a younger sister, Jennetta (13) ... enjoys fishing, boats, jet skiing and anything on water ... learned to fish with his dad's brother (Eric) and sister (Terri) ... hopes to study communications at Maryland ... favorite athletes are Michael Jordan, Stephon Marbury and Baltimore Ravens linebacker Ray Lewis ... has patterned his game after Marbury ... favorite high school memory off-the-court was his high school graduation because it made his family proud ... an idol is his grandmother, Vernice Gilchrist of Norfolk, Va., who raised him during summers ... spent his summers growing up in Norfolk where he learned to play basketball at the Boys and Girls Clubs in that area.

Forward
Roxbury, N.J.
(Seton Hall Prep)
6-6 • 202• Sophomore

On Henry: Sophomore walk-on player who practiced with the Terps through much of their national championship season in 2002 … an agile athlete who will concentrate his efforts toward preparing the Terps for each upcoming opponent … could see limited time at a small forward position … he played intramural basketball and football as a true freshman … seeking more of a challenge, he chose to tryout with the basketball team during the 2001-02 season.

High School: Graduated from Seton Hall Prep School in spring 2000 … played just one year of varsity basketball, as a senior during 2000 when he averaged 3.5 points per game … he also ran track during his senior year, participating in the high hurdles and high jump events.

Personal: Darien Henry … born September 19, 1983 … son of Vivian and George Henry … has no brothers or sisters … a member of the National Honor Society in high school, and a member of the key scholar program at Maryland … attends the university on a partial academic scholarship … hopes to major in computer engineering … favorite sports movie is "Blue Chips."

Chris McCray

Guard
Capital Heights, Md.
6-4 • 166 • Freshman

On McCray: Freshman shooting guard who will log time behind Drew Nicholas on the 2002-03 Terrapin roster ... local scoring star who is the most natural shooting guard among Maryland newcomers ... consensus Top 100 recruit who "showed physique and potential reminiscent to Juan Dixon" with his play in the Capital Classic.

Williams On McCray: "You hate to compare players, but when I saw Chris play he reminded me of a lot of the same qualities I saw when I first watched Juan Dixon. He has that ability to put the ball in the basket, he's a really good outside shooter and he really wants to win. Once you get a player that's a great player, you look for those characteristics in other players in recruiting. There is the potential for Chris to be a great player, but it takes a lot of work to make potential happen."

High School: Graduated from Fairmont Heights High School in 2002 ... two-time All-Met selection by the Washington Post averaged 26.8 points, 7.9 rebounds, 5.3 assists and 2.7 steals per game ...holds school career records for points (1,623) and three-pointers (176), and ranked 16th among D.C. metro scoring leaders as a senior ... 40 percent 3-point shooter ... averaged 29 points to go with six assists and four rebounds as a junior when he was a runner-up in voting for All-Met player of the year honors ... season-high 41 points against Douglass HS as a senior, and had four 40-point scoring outbursts as a junior ... prep high 49-points against St. Frances of Baltimore as a junior ... high school coach was George Wake ... team finished 12-10 as a senior, after a 19-6 mark and a trip to the Maryland 2A semifinals as a junior ... played in the Charm City Classic in Baltimore with John Gilchrist, and the Capital Classic at the MCI Center with Caner-Medley, Gilchrist and Travis Garrison.

Personal: Chris McCray ... born May 27, 1984 ... son of Shirleeta McCray and Chris Wilson ... has two younger sisters, Sharde (16) and Shantel (3), and a brother, Wiliam (11), who has been a Terps fan since he was 7 ... a cousin, Charlie Bill, is a freshman basketball player at Loyola (Md.) in Baltimore ... raised by his mother, Shirleeta, who has attended every game of his basketball career ... credits his uncle, Melvin McCray, with helping him maintain his confidence throughout his childhood and high school ... hopes to major in criminal justice or computer science ... favorite athlete is NBA star Ray Allen ... grew up across the street from former NFL offensive lineman Orlando Brown ... longtime friend and AAU teammate of teammate Travis Garrison, who he has known since the sixth grade ... McCray and Garrison teamed on the AAU Potomac Valley Blue Devils with current Georgia Tech freshman Jarrett Jack ... was a member of the NAACP Young Men's Club at Fairmont Heights ... favorite sports movie is "Love and Basketball."

Jamar Smith

Sicklerville, N.J.
(Overbrook/Allegany CC)
6-9 • 239 • Junior, JC

On Smith: Junior college transfer will begin his first Division I season in 2002-03, hopeful of entering the Maryland starting lineup at small forward or power forward ... noted as a slimmer, quicker version of departed NBA prospect Chris Wilcox ... teamed with Terp forward Ryan Randle while both were at Allegany College during the 2001 season ... third player in four years to join the Terps from Allegany, following Randle and Houston Rockets all-star Steve Francis.

Williams On Smith: "Jamar is one of those special players who has the ability to play both the small forward and power forward positions. He's really quick for a player of his size. He can play a couple of positions and he's very fundamentally sound after having played for Bob Kirk. He should have an immediate impact. It's good that he and Ryan [Randle] shared a year together at Allegany. They know each other and they know each other's games. It probably makes Jamar more comfortable coming into this situation."

Junior College: First team NJCAA All-American who played two seasons at Allegany College in Cumberland, Md. ... averaged 17.9 points and 12.8 rebounds at Allegany in 2002 while leading the Trojans to a 32-4 record overall, a 17-0 league record and their second straight Maryland JUCO championship ... named first team JUCO All-Region and first team All-Maryland among junior colleges ... helped the Trojans to their second straight Maryland JUCO title and national tournament appearance by winning MVP honors in the Maryland state tournament ... had 26 points, 18 rebounds, three steals and a pair of blocked shots as the Trojans defeated Hagerstown CC for the state championship ... in four tournament games, averaged 21.8 points by scoring 22, 19, 20 and 26 points in successive games ... combined for 37 rebounds in the semifinal and final games ... averaged 8.1 points and 5.5 rebounds as a freshman in 2001 while playing beside Randle as Allegany played for the National Junior College championship.

High School: Graduated from Overbrook High School in 2000 ... four-year starter where he averaged 23 points, 14 rebounds, three blocks and four assists per game, and was heralded as a prep All-American by Street & Smith Magazine ... was his team's MVP and named to all-state and All-South Jersey teams ... scored over 1,800 points with over 1,000 rebounds in his career ... played for coach Chuck Marciano.

Personal: Born on Dec. 5, 1980 ... son of Dawn and Carlton Henry ... younger sister is Andrea (13) ... played on AAU teams with Florida State's Terrell Baker and former Duke star Jay Williams ... lists his favorite athlete as Tracy McGrady ... grew up as a North Carolina fan, but began to like Maryland during his sophomore year of high school and has been a Terps fan ever since.

Story of the Atlantic Coast Conference

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

John Swofford, ACC Commissioner

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 50th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 85 national championships, including 43 in women's competition and 42 in men's. In addition, 120 men and 31 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA annals. With Maryland's victory over Indiana in last year's national title game, ACC teams have captured nine NCAA basketball championships, including five over the last 12 years.

No conference has posted a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC since the NCAA's inaugural tournament in 1938. The nine current conference members have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 296-150 for a sterling .664 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

Since 1985, when the NCAA Tournament was expanded to 64 teams, the ACC teams have been even more impressive compiling a 184-87 (.679) NCAA record, including 51 "Sweet 16" appearances and 18 Final Four berths. Since 1985, 51 of the 92 ACC teams receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

Over the last five years, the ACC is the only conference in the nation to have each of its teams ranked at least one week in the Associated Press poll. Even more impressive, since 1990 ACC teams are 161-150 against non-conference ranked opponents.

North Carolina and Duke lead all ACC schools with three NCAA championships each. NC State has two NCAA titles to its credit and Maryland one. The Tar Heels captured NCAA titles in 1957, 1982 and 1993 while the Blue Devils won back-to-back championships in 1991 and 1992 and their third in 2001. The Wolfpack walked away with the coveted crown in 1974 and 1983 while the Terps claimed last year's crown.

The stature of ACC basketball is defined by its national television exposure. An all-time high 154 televised games involving ACC teams headline the league's 2002-03 schedule, including a record 231 appearances. League teams are slated to make 135 appearances on national television networks. Seventy of the league's 72 regular season conference games, including 42 on national television networks are scheduled to be televised.

2001-02 in Review

The 2001-02 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and six individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 42 national team titles over the last 12 years.

The ACC's 2001-02 national champions were North Carolina in men's soccer, Maryland in men's basketball and Duke in women's golf. Overall, 97 ACC teams took part in post-season play compiling a 94-57-1 (.622) record.

A total of 188 student-athletes from the ACC earned first, second or third-team All-America honors this past year. In addition the ACC produced eight national Players of the Year, two national Rookies of the Year and six national Coach of the Year recipients.

The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 nationally in 15 of the 25 sports sponsored by the league. In all, 33 ACC teams finished their season with a top 10 ranking.

History of the ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

2001-02 Review Notebook

• Maryland won its first national championship with a 64-52 win over Indiana in the NCAA championship game on April 1, 2002. The Terrapins won 19 of their final 20 games, and 24 of their last 26 to finish the season with a 32-4 record. Maryland earned NCAA Tournament victories over Siena (85-70), Wisconsin (87-57), Kentucky (78-68), Connecticut (90-82), Kansas (97-88) and Indiana.

• The Terrapins became the first team ever to advance to the national championship game by playing the highest possible seed in each round and besting a series of traditional heavyweights along the way: #16 seed Siena, #8 Wisconsin, #4 Kentucky, #2 Connecticut, #1 Kansas, #5 Indiana.

Juan Dixon, who became the Terps all-time leading scorer in 2002, anticipates the final seconds of the NCAA championship.

• Beating Indiana for the title, the Terps handed the Hoosiers their first-ever loss in a title game and completed a run through five straight former champions: Wisconsin (1 title), Kentucky (7), Connecticut (1), Kansas (2) and Indiana (5).

• Maryland's six wins in the NCAA Tournament all were decided by at least eight points. Only seven other champions since 1970 have won the title no margin fewer than eight points.

• Maryland's Gary Williams became the first coach since 1974 and just the 10th overall to lead his alma mater to the national championship.

• Williams became just the 10th active coach to boast an NCAA championship (Jim Calhoun, Steve Fisher, Jim Harrick, Tom Izzo, Bob Knight, Mike Krzyzewski, Lute Olson, Rick Pitino and Tubby Smith).

• Juan Dixon finished the NCAA Tournament with 155 points, the ninth-highest total in tournament history, averaging 25.8 points in the process. His point total was the highest since Michigan's Glen Rice in 1989, and vaulted his career total in NCAA Tournament games to 294 points — ninth in NCAA history and the second-best by a player from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

• All-America guard Juan Dixon became the Terps' all-time scoring champ during Maryland's second-round NCAA win over Wisconsin. He later tied a career-high with 33 points in a national semifinal win over Kansas, and finished his career with 2,269 points. In six NCAA Tournament games, Dixon totaled 29, 29, 19, 27, 33 and 18 points. He matched his career-high with five 3-pointers in three different NCAA games and in the championship he also had five steals to mark the most in a title game since 1990.

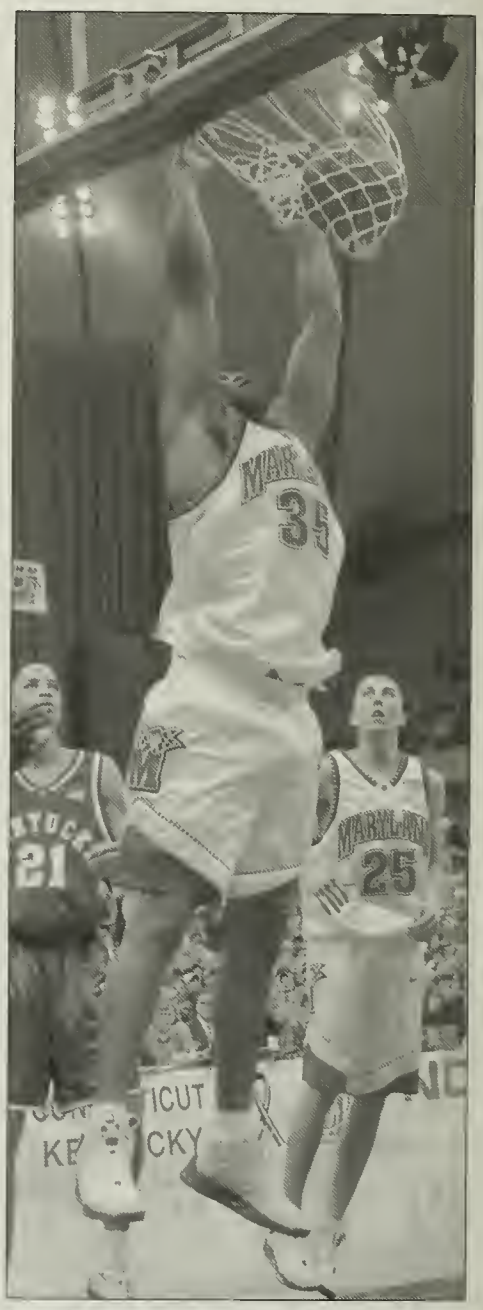
• Dixon ended his career by scoring in double figures in 54 consecutive games. It is the second-longest streak in Maryland history (Tom McMillen, 74, 1972-73-74) and the 14th-longest in ACC history.

• Only two clubs were ranked No. 1 during the course of the 2001-02 regular season — Duke and Kansas. Maryland was the only team to beat them both. While the Terps finished the year at No. 4 in the final poll by the Associated Press, Maryland's No. 1 ranking in the final coaches poll by USA Today/ESPN marked the first time in history that Maryland has ever earned a No. 1 ranking.

• Maryland's No. 4 ranking in both major polls matched the highest that Maryland has ever been ranked during the NCAA Tournament. In 1975, the Terrapins were also No. 4 and advanced to the Elite Eight.

• Since 1990, Maryland became the eighth team to reach the Final Four in consecutive seasons.

• Combining the 2001 and 2002 seasons, Maryland has advanced to two Final Fours, finished with No. 1 and No. 4 final rankings, won an ACC regular season title and finished the 2002 season undefeated (15-0) at Cole Field House.



Lonny Baxter earned the East Regional MVP Award, marking his second NCAA Regional MVP honor.

• Since Feb. 17, 2001, Maryland has a combined record of 42-6. All six losses have been on the road against Duke (3), Arizona, NC State and Oklahoma.

The 2002 Terrapins

• Maryland is just the fourth Division I institution (Michigan, Michigan State, Ohio State) and the first from the Atlantic Coast Conference to claim a first-place finish in the AP football poll and an NCAA championship in basketball. Maryland finished No. 1 in the AP college football poll of 1953.

• The Terps' return to the Final Four followed the school's first trip to the Elite Eight in consecutive seasons and its fourth overall (1973, 1975, 2001). Maryland has advanced to at least the Sweet Sixteen in four of the past five seasons, and in six of nine years since 1994.

• The Terps' 32 victories broke the Maryland record for wins in a season (28-6 in 1999). The 2002 Terrapins became the 15th team in ACC history to win 30 games.

• A No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history, Maryland was 5-1 against teams in the AP top 10 in 2002, and 9-2 against teams in the AP top 25. Its five wins vs. the top 10, and nine vs. the top 25, both are school records.

• Maryland and Oklahoma were the only teams in the field of 65 to claim wins over teams which were ranked both No. 1 and No. 2.

• The Terrapins were the only team in the country that never lost a game to a team outside of the Top 25, according to the final poll released by USA Today/ESPN.

• The top seed from the East Region, Maryland was the regular season champion in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 15-1 league mark — just the fourth team in ACC history to win 15 league games. Maryland's ACC record and its 25-3 regular season record both were the best in school history as the Terrapins won their first outright ACC regular season title since 1980.

• The ACC Coach of the Year, Gary Williams is Maryland's winningest coach in NCAA Tournament history, boasting a 19-8 record in nine appearances. He is 23-11 in the NCAA Tournament overall and is the eighth-winningest active coach in tournament history.

• Maryland's senior class finished 110-31 over the last four seasons, marking the most wins by any class in school history. Juan Dixon played in all 110 victories, and Lonny Baxter in 107. Maryland set new standards for most wins in a four-year period (110) and a five-year stretch (131).

• Since the NCAA began selecting regional Most Outstanding Players in 1966, Lonny Baxter is just the 10th player in history to be a two-time regional MVP. Juan Dixon became the first Maryland player ever named as the MVP of the NCAA Final Four.

• Maryland's Lonny Baxter and Juan Dixon became the highest-scoring tandem (4,127 points) in NCAA history to win a national championship, and the 12th-highest scoring tandem overall.

• The Baxter-Dixon duo of 2002 joined Len Elmore and Tom McMillen in 1974 as the only pairs of first team All-Americans on the same team in Maryland history. Dixon won consensus first team selection on every major All-America team in 2002 and Baxter was one of 10 members on the Wooden All-America team.

• Point guard Steve Blake boasts 751 career assists as just a junior — the most of any player in the nation entering the 2002-03 season. Already Maryland's career leader, he is on pace to become just the fourth player in NCAA history with 1,000 in his career. He averages 7.02 assists per game for his career and averaged a school-record 7.94 in 2002.

• All five members of the Maryland starting lineup were decorated with ACC honors. Player of the Year Juan Dixon was a first team selection, Lonny Baxter was a second team pick, Steve Blake and Chris Wilcox earned third team All-ACC honors, and Byron Mouton was an honorable mention selection. Dixon and Baxter each were named to the ACC's All-Defensive Team, with Blake and Wilcox as honorable mention selections. Blake was named to the ACC's second team all-tournament squad.

2001-02 Game Recaps & Box Scores

IKON CLASSIC SEMIFINAL

Gm 1: Arizona 71, [2/3] Maryland 67

NEW YORK — In just the second game of the 2001-02 college basketball season, Jason Gardner scored 23 points and Arizona shocked No. 2 Maryland 71-67 in the opening round of the Coaches vs. Cancer IKON Classic.

Gardner hit a 3-pointer with 10:32 left that capped an 8-0 run and gave the Wildcats a 53-45 lead.

The Terrapins, who matched the highest ranking in school history as the preseason No. 2, seemed ready to take control as Juan Dixon started a 15-4 run with two 3-pointers and Maryland had a 60-57 lead with 5:45 to play.

Though playing with five freshmen and a redshirt freshman on its 11-man roster, Arizona played like a veteran team with Gardner, a 5-foot-10 junior who applied for the NBA draft then withdrew his name, the most savvy of the group.

With the game tied at 61, Arizona had trouble getting the ball upcourt against Maryland's pressure and barely beat the 10-second count across midcourt. The ball swung to Gardner right in front of the Arizona bench and he hit a 3 as he was fouled by Lonny Baxter.

The Wildcats would not trail again as the Terrapins got within two points three times, the last at 69-67 on a rebound jumper by Chris Wilcox with 4.6 seconds left.

Luke Walton, the only other significant player back from the 2001 team that lost to Duke in the NCAA final, added 12 points and 12 rebounds for Arizona. Freshman Salim Stoudamire had 12 points.

"I talked to the freshmen before the game," Gardner said. "I told them to believe in ourselves and enjoy the experience. I think a lot of them did."

Dixon led Maryland with 21 points and Baxter had 14 points and nine rebounds.

"Arizona seemed more excited than us," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "Some players just assume things, that things will continue from the year before, but that isn't so."

IKON CLASSIC CONSOLATION

Gm 2: [2/3] Maryland 82, Temple 74

NEW YORK — Maryland answered any questions after just one night with an impressive long-range performance.

Juan Dixon scored 15 of his 25 points on 3-pointers and the second-ranked Terrapins improved dramatically on their outside shooting to beat No. 16 Temple 82-74 in the third-place game of the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic.

In a stunning 71-67 first-round loss to Arizona, the Terrapins (1-1) were just 7-for-27 from behind the arc. With Dixon leading the way against Temple's matchup zone, Maryland improved to 63.2 percent (12-for-19).

"I'm very proud of my team not just with the win but for the way they came back from a very tough night," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "That was a tough loss and when you're ranked No. 2 right away the questions were 'What's the problem?' We don't have a problem, we're just working to get where we have to go. We shot 59 percent against that zone and we did a good job of shooting the 3."

Dixon, who was 5-for-10 on 3s in both games, hit three straight 3s in Maryland's 14-2 run to close the first half that gave it a 39-32 lead. He hit another one 39 seconds into the second half to give the Terrapins their first double-digit lead of the game.

Temple (0-2) was within 61-58 on a rebound basket by Kevin Lyde with 4:20 left, but Byron Mouton and Steve Blake started and ended an 8-0 run with 3s to give the Terrapins a 69-58 lead with 2:11.

Lynn Greer, who led Temple with 27 points, kept the Owls close in the final minute with three 3-pointers, but Maryland closed the game by going 10-for-10 from the free throw line over the final 1:03.

Blake, a junior, added a career-high 20 points for Maryland, while Mouton had 13.

"Blake played against a tough guard last night," Williams said of Blake's 2-for-10 effort against Arizona's Jason Gardner. "He went against another tough guard tonight in Greer and came up with a career-high."

Greer finished 3-for-6 from 3-point range and the Owls were 9-for-26 (34.6 percent). Lyde added 13 points and 10 rebounds for Temple, while freshman Brian Polk had 11 points.

Gm 3: [2/6] Maryland 83, American 53

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland's potent 1-2 punch produced another milestone for coach Gary Williams and one more Cole Field House memory for the Terrapins.

Lonny Baxter scored 25 points and Juan Dixon had 22 as No. 2 Maryland opened its final season at Cole by breezing past American University 83-53.

The Terrapins (2-1) took an early 31-8 lead in extending the nation's longest non-conference home winning streak to 78, a run that began with a victory over Alcorn State in December 1989.

It was the 244th victory at Maryland for Williams, who moved into second place on the school's career list ahead of his former coach, Bud Millikan.

"Coach Millikan would have more wins if he didn't play me," Williams quipped.

Williams improved his record to 244-140 at Maryland and 451-268 in his college coaching career, which began at American in 1978. He's 7-0 against the Eagles since coming to Maryland in 1989.

Brian Williams scored 15 points for American (0-1), in its second season under former Virginia coach Jeff Jones.

Before the game, a banner commemorating Maryland's initial trip into the Final Four was unfurled from the rafters of the arena. The Terrapins then flashed the form that got them there, racing to a 10-0 lead in the opening two minutes.

American had four missed shots and four turnovers in its first nine possessions. It was 12-6 before Baxter scored six straight points in the lane and Dixon added a layup and a 3-pointer in a 15-0 run that put Maryland up by 21.

Baxter, a 6-foot-8 center, and Dixon, a 6-3 guard, teamed to score well over half of Maryland's points. Baxter had 15 at halftime to help the Terrapins take a 48-23 lead. Baxter and Dixon accounted for Maryland's first 13 points in the second half, staking the Terrapins to a 61-28 lead with 14:53 left.

Gm 4: [6/5] Maryland 77, Delaware St. 53

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Lonny Baxter had 18 points and 12 rebounds as the Terrapins methodically pulled away to a 77-53 victory over Delaware State, extending their non-conference home winning streak to 79 games.

It was Baxter's first double-double of the season and the 24th of his career. Sophomore Chris Wilcox had 16 points and 10 rebounds, both career highs, for the Terrapins (3-1).

Maryland led by 16 at halftime and pulled away with a 9-2 run at the outset of the second half.

Andre Matthews had 18 points and 10 rebounds for Delaware State (2-1), which was trying to go 3-0 for the first time since 1973. The Hornets shot 29 percent, going 4-for-22 from beyond the arc.

Delaware State trailed 37-21 at halftime after making only eight of 36 field goal attempts (22 percent). Maryland led 12-11 before Dixon scored five points and Wilcox had two baskets in an 11-3 run that made it 23-14.

Carrington Hightower stopped the surge with a 3-pointer, but Maryland's Steve Blake scored from beyond the arc and Baxter added a three-point play to put the Terrapins up by 12.

Maryland closed the half with a 7-0 run. After the break, Dixon made two technical foul free throws and added a tip-in to give the Terrapins a 20-point cushion.

ACC/BIG TEN CHALLENGE
Gm 5: (5/4) Maryland 76, (2/2) Illinois 63

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Juan Dixon scored 25 points and Maryland built a 20-point lead to hold off No. 2 Illinois 76-63 in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge.

It was the 80th consecutive non-conference home victory for Maryland, the longest such run in the nation. It was also the Terrapins' fourth straight win overall after a season-opening defeat against Arizona.

After the Terrapins (4-1) went up by 12 at halftime, Dixon scored seven points in a 10-2 run at the outset of the second half to make it 51-31.

Despite playing its fifth game in nine days, Illinois (5-1) fought back - even after leading rebounder Brian Cook fouled out with 5:11 left.

The comeback was aided by poor free throw shooting by Maryland, which finished 12-for-24 at the line. The Fighting Illini closed to 66-58 with 2:56 left, but Chris Wilcox scored in the lane, then made one of two free throws on Maryland's next possession for an 11-point cushion.

At that point, the Cole Field House crowd began chanting, "ACC! ACC!"

"The hardest thing to do in basketball is play with the lead," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "But I thought we did a good job of that in the late part of the game. You try and stay aggressive, and you try to run some clock."

Wilcox scored 19 points and six rebounds off the bench for Maryland, which beat a Top 5 team at Cole for the first time since 1998.

The Illini shot 33 percent and committed seven turnovers in the decisive first half.

Four different players scored in a 9-2 run that put Illinois up 17-10, but Wilcox had four points and Steve Blake and Byron Mouton hit 3-pointers during a 12-0 spurt that put Maryland ahead for good.

After Brandon Ferguson made a free throw for the Illini, Wilcox sank a hook shot and scored on an alley-oop pass from Blake for a 26-18 lead.

Damir Krupalija followed with a 3-pointer — Illinois' first field goal in nearly six minutes — but Maryland reeled off eight straight points to push the margin to 11.

Illinois closed to 34-29, but Drew Nicholas hit a 3-pointer and a layup as Maryland finished the half with a 7-0 spree.

BB&T CLASSIC SEMIFINAL
Gm 6: (5/4) Maryland 61, Princeton 53

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It took a while for Maryland to stop worrying about Princeton's deliberate offensive style and focus on its own brand of suffocating defense.

When the Terrapins turned up the pressure midway through the second half, the upset-minded Tigers wilted.

Lonny Baxter had 19 points and 12 rebounds, and No. 5 Maryland rallied from a 15-point deficit to beat Princeton 61-53 in the first round of the BB&T Classic.

"That's what pressure does," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "It doesn't always get you steals, but the mental and physical part of pressure is a wearing-down process."

Juan Dixon added 14 points for the Terrapins (5-1), who won their fifth straight game. Andre Logan led Princeton (1-4) with 15 points, and Konrad Wysocki added 13.

After leading by 13 at the intermission and by 15 on the second half's first basket, the Tigers took a 42-30 lead on a backdoor layup by Kyle Wente with 13:35 left in the second half.

But Maryland went on a 14-2 run, with two free throws by Byron Mouton, tying the game at 46 with 6:54 left. A foul shot by Logan and a basket by Wysocki put the Tigers up 49-46 with 5:42 to go. But Baxter hit a short jumper to cut the lead to a point, then Drew Nicholas made a 3-pointer to give the Terrapins their first lead of the game with 4:43 remaining.

Princeton drew the Terrapins out of their zone defense with three quick 3-pointers. Ahmed El-Nokali's 3-pointer gave the Tigers an 11-5 lead with 15:40 left in the half.

Baxter scored Maryland's first seven points, but the Terrapins couldn't get anyone else involved in the offense.

Maryland got within 17-14, but the Terrapins got only two field goals and six points over the next 7:31, and Logan's jumper capped off a 10-1 run that put Princeton up 31-18 with 2:06 remaining in the half.

BB&T CLASSIC CHAMPIONSHIP
Gm 7: (3/2) Maryland 77, Connecticut 65

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Maryland rolled to its sixth straight victory, and Lonny Baxter earned the trophy he coveted.

Baxter had 24 points and 10 rebounds, and Juan Dixon scored 16 points as No. 3 Maryland pulled away in the second half to beat Connecticut 77-65 and win the BB&T Classic.

Baxter, who went 8-for-10 from the field and 8-of-10 from the foul line, was an overwhelming selection as tournament MVP.

"It's my senior year. I'm from D.C. I really wanted this MVP trophy tonight," the 6-foot-8 center said. "I just came out playing my hardest and we got the game."

The Terrapins (6-1), unbeaten since opening the season with a loss to Arizona, used a 16-4 run to expand a two-point halftime lead to 52-38. Baxter and Tahj Holden each had six points in the spree and Dixon contributed two baskets.

"That's obviously one of the best teams in the country," Connecticut coach Jim Calhoun said. "They're tough to beat because of their size and because they shoot the ball well, but I was most impressed by the way they played so well with each other. Maryland gave our kids a good lesson on how to play team basketball."

Caron Butler scored 20 points for the Huskies (3-1).

After Baxter scored on an alley-oop pass from Steve Blake to put Maryland up 46-38, Holden hit two straight jumpers and Baxter followed with a layup to put Maryland up by 14.

UConn closed to 60-53, but after Dixon scored in the lane and Baxter added two free throws, the Huskies never got closer than nine points.

Holden scored 15 points, and Blake had eight points and nine assists.

Baxter scored Maryland's first seven points during an 11-0 run that helped the Terps to a 21-7 lead. UConn missed its first seven shots and had five turnovers in the opening five minutes, but Butler scored 12 points to bring the Huskies within 36-34 at halftime.

Gm 8: [3/2] Maryland 79, Detroit 54

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Lonny Baxter scored 17 points and three others reached double figures as second-ranked Maryland extended the nation's longest non-conference home winning streak to 81 games with a 79-54 victory over Detroit

Baxter, who collected 43 points and 22 rebounds in Maryland's victories in the BB&T Classic, scored the first six points as Maryland (7-1) grabbed an 11-2 lead and never looked back

Detroit misfired on 17 of its first 21 shots while Maryland connected on 11 of its first 15 to take a 23-10 lead midway through the opening half.

In the first half, the Terrapins hit 16-of-31 shots (52 percent) to take a 40-23 lead. They finished at 53 5 percent overall (30-of-56).

Maryland used a 12-2 run in the second half to extend its lead to 57-32 with 11.35 remaining, ending any chance for a Detroit rally.

Another Terrapin to reach double figures was Byron Mouton, who finished with 13 points off the bench. Mouton left the team four days earlier to mourn his brother, Kevin, who was shot to death in Houston.

Mouton shot 5-of-7 from the floor. When he was finally pulled late in the game, the crowd of 14,327 gave him a warm reception

Willie Green had 16 points for the Titans (4-3), who connected on just 31 percent (20-of-65) of their shots.

Gm 9: [3/2] Maryland 91, Monmouth 55

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Gary Williams' 250th victory at Maryland provided the coach with far more angst than expected.

With the third-ranked Terrapins up by only nine points at halftime against Monmouth, Williams wondered whether his team had the tenacity to finish off the Hawks.

"In the first half we were a little flat. . . I was very worried at halftime. I was very concerned walking out for the second half," he said.

His fear vanished shortly after he arrived at the bench. The Terrapins started with a 13-0 run and pulled away to their eighth straight victory, 91-55.

After allowing the Hawks (4-4) to go 16-of-33 from the field in the first half, Maryland outscored Monmouth 45-18 over the final 20 minutes.

"Coach came in here and gave us a mouthful," said Juan Dixon, who finished with 18 points "I think in the second half we played great."

Byron Mouton scored 17 points for the Terrapins (8-1), who extended the nation's longest non-conference home winning streak to 82 games.

Russ Anderson scored 12 points for the Hawks, who faded against the deeper, taller and more talented Terrapins.

Mouton opened the second half with a 3-pointer before Dixon and Tahj Holden each made two free throws. Lonny Baxter followed with his first basket, then made two foul shots before Holden finished the run with a hook shot that made it 59-37

It was 63-39 before Chris Wilcox scored two baskets and reserve guard Drew Nicholas hit a 3-pointer in an 11-0 run that made it 74-41

Wilcox finished with 10 points and 13 rebounds.

Gm 10: [22/21] Oklahoma 76, [2/2] Maryland 56

NORMAN, Okla. — Ebi Ere scored 19 points and Aaron McGhee added 16 and 11 rebounds as No. 21 Oklahoma snapped second-ranked Maryland's eight-game winning streak with a 72-56 triumph

Daryan Selvy had 10 points off the bench and Jabahri Brown chipped in eight and 14 rebounds for Oklahoma (9-1). The Sooners shot just 40 percent but held a 44-36 rebounding edge and took advantage of 21 turnovers.

The Sooners avenged a loss to the Terrapins last season, when Oklahoma was the higher-ranked squad.

Chris Wilcox scored 15 points and Juan Dixon had 11 for Maryland (8-2), which had not lost since a season-opening defeat to Arizona.

Oklahoma had a 42-41 lead with 13:33 left when Ere buried a jumper that ignited an 8-2 run. Selvy, McGhee and Jason Detrick also had baskets in the spurt

A breakaway layup by Byron Mouton got Maryland within 52-49 with 7:17 to play, but Quannas White hanked in a shot. McGhee hit a reverse layup that turned into a three-point play and followed with two free throws for a 59-49 lead with 4:24 to go Ere capped the 10-0 burst with a 3-pointer 22 seconds later.

Maryland got no closer than 12 points down the stretch

"I liked Oklahoma's aggressiveness, they played hard," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "They started to dominate inside in the second half and we didn't respond very well. As far as intensity level, I think OU took it to us in the second half "

The Terrapins made just 38 percent (22-of-57) of their shots, including 3-of-19 from the arc.

Maryland had a 14-8 lead 4:39 into the contest and still was up four points with just under nine minutes left in the half. But the lead seesawed down the stretch, with Oklahoma taking a 36-34 halftime edge on a jumper by Hollis Price with 40 seconds to go

COLLEGE PARK, Md — Juan Dixon had 19 points and a career-high nine assists and Byron Mouton added a season-high 19 points as the Terrapins (9-2) routed William & Mary 103-75 for their 83rd consecutive home victory over a non-conference opponent. It was the Terps' final non-league game before beginning the Atlantic Coast Conference season.

"That's what we needed after the loss to Oklahoma," said center Lonny Baxter, who had 12 points and 10 rebounds for his 27th career double-double.

Adam Hess, a transfer from Eastern Michigan playing in his first game for William & Mary (3-6), scored a career-high 21 points.

Drew Nicholas scored a season-high 14 points for Maryland. Five Terrapins scored in double figures in the team's biggest offensive output of the season — and a school record 13 3-pointers.

Mouton had 12 first-half points, helping Maryland to a 50-35 halftime lead. Maryland scored the first six points of the second half, with Dixon's 3-pointer from the left corner extending a 15-0 run to and giving the Terrapins a 56-35 lead

Gm 12: [8/6] Maryland 72, NC State 65

RALEIGH, N.C. — The guys with Final Four experience showed the young team how to finish off a game as Maryland went eight-and-a-half minutes without a field goal in the second half, but Steve Blake and Juan Dixon produced enough offense late as the eighth-ranked Terrapins edged North Carolina State 72-65.

"We had to struggle in the second half to keep our composure, which we did," added Gary Williams, who became the 10th coach to win at least 100 ACC games. "We weren't pretty, but that game could have been lost very easily."

The Terrapins (10-2) made just six baskets over the final 20 minutes, but more than made up for it at the foul line, going 35-of-49 in the physical Atlantic Coast Conference opener for both teams.

The two combined to commit 57 fouls and shoot 81 free throws as Maryland beat the Wolfpack (10-3) for the 20th time in the last 23 meetings.

Dixon finished 12-for-14 from the foul line as the Terrapins made their final 15 free throws.

The Terrapins were just 3-for-16 from the field in the second half, but led 55-52 with 3:35 left. Blake then hit a baseline shot and a 3-pointer in a span of 57 seconds, and Dixon added a fadeaway baseline shot as Maryland strung together some offense when it counted most.

Dixon's basket gave Maryland a 62-56 lead with 55 seconds left, and he made eight straight free throws down the stretch to ice it, finishing with 21 points.

Maryland committed 19 turnovers, but none over the final 6:14.

NC State missed 31 of its first 44 shots but only trailed 40-34 early in the second half as Maryland's offense was also out of sync and Baxter went to the bench with four fouls with 13:04 left.

Gm 13: [8/6] Maryland 92, Norfolk State 69

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland treated its final non-ACC visitor to Cole Field House the same way it did the previous 83.

Juan Dixon scored 17 points as the sixth-ranked Terrapins extended the nation's longest non-conference home winning streak to 84 games with a 92-69 rout of Norfolk State.

Maryland, which played its last non-league game in Cole history, was last beaten by a non-conference opponent at Cole on December 12, 1989 during coach Gary Williams' first season.

Freshman Ryan Randle added 12 points and five blocks for Maryland, which also received five blocks by Tahj Holden. The 15 blocks by the Terrapins were the most since they rejected 16 shots on December 1, 1988 against Maryland-Eastern Shore.

"When we are like that, we're tough to beat," Williams said. "Chris (Wilcox) snuck in with nine (points), and we almost had six guys in double figures, so that is good to see."

Holden capped an 18-6 run with a 3-pointer for a 28-14 advantage with 8:40 left before halftime. Drew Nicholas' 3-pointer ended a 7-1 run and opened a 37-17 lead with 3:30 to go, and the Terrapins took a 45-28 advantage into intermission.

A 3-pointer by Dixon capped an 11-3 run to start the second half for a 56-31 advantage with 16 minutes remaining. The lead grew to 26 points in the final 20 minutes.

Randle helped pick up the slack inside by making 6-of-11 shots and grabbing eight rebounds. Holden and Byron Mouton each had six boards.

Freshman Andre Collins, a 5-9 guard, also provided a spark by scoring a season-high 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting off the bench.

Daryl Towe had 14 points to lead Norfolk State (3-10) while Michael Boyd had nine and 18 rebounds.

Gm 14: [4/4] Maryland 112, North Carolina 79

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Juan Dixon scored 29 points as No. 4 Maryland rolled to a 112-79 victory over North Carolina, the Terrapins' most lopsided victory in the 79-year-old rivalry and just two points shy of matching North Carolina's worst-ever Atlantic Coast Conference defeat.

The 112 points allowed were the most ever by a Carolina team.

Maryland (12-2, 2-0) led by as many as 39 points before coach Gary Williams emptied his bench. But the margin of victory easily eclipsed Maryland's 25-point rout of North Carolina in February 1939.

"You never expect it," Williams said. "Let's face it, we probably shot better than we have all year."

The Terrapins went 44-for-76 from the field (58 percent) and matched their season-high with a school-record-tying 13 3-pointers.

Steve Blake had a career-high 14 assists. Byron Mouton scored 17 points and Chris Wilcox added 16 for the Terrapins, who opened the second half with a 19-8 run to go up by 31.

Jason Capel scored 27 points for the Tar Heels (5-7, 1-2). Down 102-61, North Carolina was in danger of eclipsing a dubious 35-point loss to Duke in 1964.

Maryland and Dixon set the tone early, using runs of 9-2 and 12-5 to take a 28-13 lead with seven minutes elapsed. Dixon, who had eight steals for the game, led the charge with 14 points, including two 3-pointers and two free throws following a technical foul against the flustered UNC coach Matt Doherty.

The Tar Heels made eight of their first 11 field goal attempts — all the misses were from 3-point range — but had 10 turnovers and trailed 35-18 after nine minutes.

North Carolina then missed its next five shots and twice turned the ball over as the Terrapins reeled off eight straight points to boost the margin to 25 points.

The Tar Heels responded with an 8-0 run to close to 43-26. It was 49-28 before Williams made two straight baskets to spark a 9-2 spurt that cut the deficit to 14, but North Carolina got no closer.

Maryland led 67-45 early in the second half before Dixon hit a 3-pointer and Wilcox, Mouton and Lonny Baxter followed with dunks to give the Terrapins a 31-point cushion.

Gm 15: [4/4] Maryland 92, Georgia Tech 87

ATLANTA — Juan Dixon wasn't about to let No. 4 Maryland lose to Georgia Tech. When the Terrapins needed a crucial basket, he made it. When they desperately needed a big defensive stop, he came through.

Dixon scored 26 points and made a critical steal and pass in the final minute, helping Maryland escape with a 92-87 victory over the Yellow Jackets.

"Our effort was certainly worthy of winning," Georgia Tech coach Paul Hewitt said, "but we got beat by a great player who makes great plays in a lot of different ways. If Dixon's not making a 3, he's making a great pass. At the end, he made that steal."

Georgia Tech (7-10, 0-4 Atlantic Coast Conference) got as close as 68-67 on Halston Lane's basket with 8:02 remaining and shaved the margin to two points on seven occasions in the final four minutes.

Maryland (13-2, 3-0) never relinquished the lead, however.

The Yellow Jackets had their best chance in the final minute after narrowing Maryland's lead to 85-83. Robert Brooks picked off a bad pass into the lane from Lonny Baxter, and Georgia Tech broke the other way, looking to tie things up or go ahead with a 3-pointer.

The Maryland guard wasn't content with just making the steal. He spotted teammate Chris Wilcox alone under the basket, lobbing a perfect pass that Wilcox turned into a clinching dunk with 26.4 seconds to go.

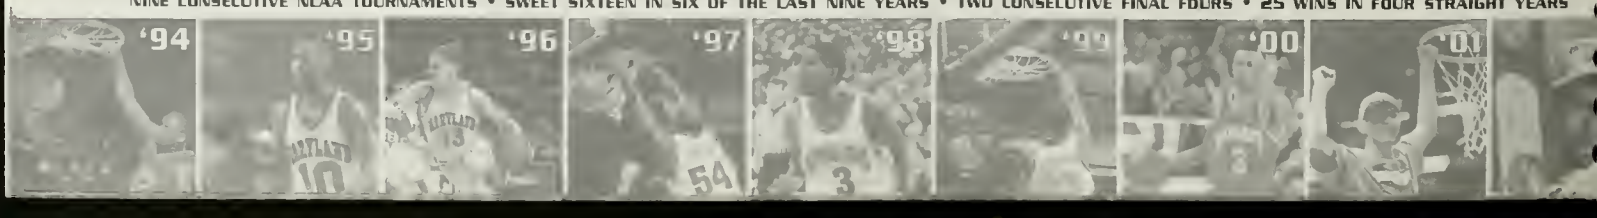
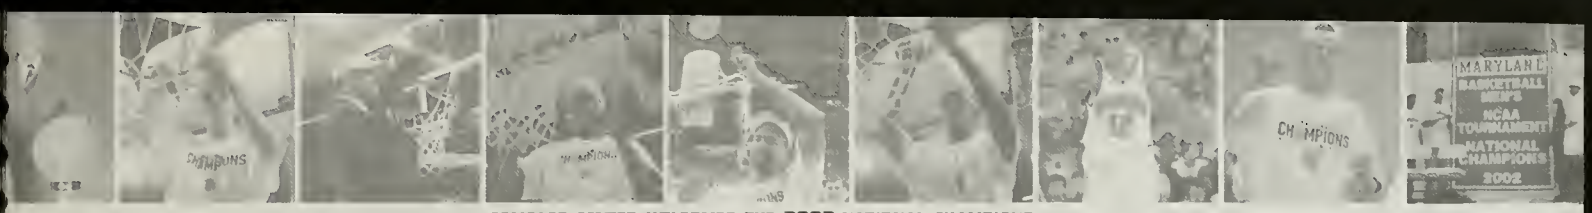
The Terrapins built a 16-point lead less than 10 minutes into the game but struggled to hold off the Yellow Jackets.

Georgia Tech might have pulled off the upset if not for a 25-of-40 performance at the foul line. Maryland, on the other hand, connected on 29-of-37 free throws — missing just two of 22 attempts in the second half.





Dixon made five 3-pointers, including one from nearly 30 feet with the shot clock running down late in the first half. The 6-foot-3 guard also had 10 rebounds to go along with four assists and three steals.

Baxter scored 23 points for Maryland, drawing repeated fouls when he got the ball on the inside against the smaller Yellow Jackets. He made 11-of-14 free throws.

Akins led Georgia Tech with 24 points.

Gm 16: [1/1] Duke 99, [3/3] Maryland 78

DURHAM, N.C. — Jason Williams has had a lot of great games for No. 1 Duke. His output against Maryland was high on the list.

The third-ranked Terrapins were unable to stop the All-American guard, who scored 34 points as the Blue Devils took over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 99-78 victory.

Williams had struggled some against the Terrapins in his career, shooting 39 percent in seven previous outings, but he was on this time. In addition to shooting 13-for-23 from the field, Williams had eight assists, seven rebounds and three steals.

Williams helped lead a defensive charge that forced Maryland into 36 percent shooting in the second half and 21 turnovers that led to 30 points for the Blue Devils (15-1, 4-1).

Lonny Baxter led Maryland (13-3, 3-1) with 24 points before fouling out with 3:46 left and his team down 15 points.

Juan Dixon, who was averaging 25.3 points in his previous three ACC games, was held to 10 points by Duke defensive specialist Dahntay Jones.

After an incredible 30 lead changes in the opening 23 minutes, Williams scored seven points in a one-minute span, getting two driving layups and a 3-pointer as Duke opened the second half with scores on eight straight possessions to take the lead for good.

Mike Dunleavy, who scored just two first-half points, was also a hero in the second half, scoring 19 points. Carlos Boozer added 20 for the Blue Devils.

Duke led 73-63 with 12:39 left before the Terrapins closed within three two minutes later. But Dunleavy hit a bank shot, a 3-pointer and Williams turned a Maryland turnover into a slam dunk to push the lead back to 10.

About a minute later, Dunleavy made two free throws and hit a long 3-pointer as Maryland fell behind again by double digits and then faded down the stretch.

The top two scoring teams in the ACC combined to score 97 points in the first half as the lead changed hands 25 times as neither team could pull away.

The lead changed hands 10 times before the first television timeout as the Blue Devils and Terrapins at one point combined to score on 11 of 13 possessions as the game raced at a fever pitch.

The largest lead of the opening half was seven points by Duke as Williams took control early, scoring 15 points over the first 11:15.

But for the fifth straight time in the intense series, the team that trailed at halftime won.

Gm 17: [3/3] Maryland 99, Clemson 90

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Juan Dixon scored 23 points and Lonny Baxter had 21 as No. 3 Maryland bounced back from a loss to top-ranked Duke by holding off Clemson 99-90.

Dixon, held to 10 points in the Terrapins' 99-78 loss to the Blue Devils in the Terps' last game, hit four 3-pointers to become Maryland's career leader in 3s with 189. He surpassed the previous mark held by Johnny Rhodes (186).

Baxter did most of his work close to the basket in coming within four points of a season-high. He shot just 5-for-12 on free throws. Chris Wilcox notched his third career double-double with 17 points and a career-high 14 rebounds for Maryland (14-3, 4-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). The Terrapins committed a season-low six turnovers in beating the Tigers for the eighth straight time.

Tony Stockman made six 3-pointers and scored 22 points for Clemson (11-8, 2-4). Jamar McKnight added 20 points and Edward Scott had 19 for the Tigers, who tied a school record with 15 3-pointers.

Clemson outrebounded Maryland 49-37 and trailed only 86-85 with 2:57 remaining. Drew Nicholas scored seven of his 13 points in a one-minute span to increase Maryland's lead to 93-86 and the Terps held on from there.

Byron Mouton added 14 points for Maryland and Steve Blake had 13 assists.

Ray Henderson scored 11 points and equaled a career-high with 13 rebounds for Clemson, which lost its third straight conference game. Chris Hobbs had 12 points.

Maryland outscored Clemson 10-3 in the opening 4:08 of the second half to seemingly take control of a back-and-forth game. Baxter started the surge with an inside power move and Dixon capped it with a one-handed dunk off a fastbreak that gave the Terrapins their largest lead at 62-51.

However, Clemson answered with a 12-1 run capped by Dwon Clifton's layup that tied the game at 62. Five Tigers scored during the surge, which featured a 3-pointer by Stockman.

There would be five more ties before Clemson moved ahead 81-80 on Sharrod Ford's free throw with 5:39 remaining. It was the Tigers' first lead since the 5:09 mark of the first half, but proved to be short-lived as the Terrapins scored on their next possession to move back ahead and start a 16-7 run.

It was a high-scoring first half that featured 15 lead changes as Maryland pounded the ball inside and Clemson countered with impressive 3-point shooting. Baxter had 13 points and Dixon 12 as the Terrapins used a late 8-0 run to take a 52-48 halftime lead. The Tigers hit 11-of-16 first half 3-pointers in the half.

Gm 18: [3/3] Maryland 85, [21/16] Wake Forest 63

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Juan Dixon and Steve Blake each scored 19 points to lead No. 3 Maryland to an 85-63 victory over No. 21 Wake Forest, the Terrapins' sixth straight win over the Demon Deacons.

Lonny Baxter had 12 points, Tahj Holden scored 11 and Drew Nicholas finished with 10 for Maryland (15-3, 5-1 Atlantic Coast Conference).

Darius Songaila had 14 points and 10 rebounds for the Demon Deacons (13-6, 3-3), who lost their third straight league game — all to Top Ten opponents.

Wake Forest, which had its nine-game home winning streak snapped, had 17 turnovers, struggled to penetrate against Maryland, settled for long shots that often missed and shot just 40 percent for the game.

Baxter played just six minutes in the first half, while fellow starter Chris Wilcox was limited to 10 as both watched from the bench with two fouls.

But the Terrapins didn't struggle without them, getting 19 first-half points from their bench to stay in control of the game.

Nicholas, averaging 13 points in Maryland's last two games, was instrumental in nine straight points that sparked the Terrapins to a 34-23 lead with 1:54 left in the first half. Nicholas rifled a crisp pass that Ryan Randle dunked, then hit a jumper and two 3-pointers in the Maryland spurt.

Baxter played just 21 minutes while Wilcox finished with six points in 20 minutes. But the trio of Nicholas, Randle and Holden picked up the lost offense for Maryland with 27 points off the bench.

Gm 19: [3/3] Maryland 84, Florida State 63

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Playing one the finest all-around games of his brilliant college career, Juan Dixon had 25 points, 11 rebounds and eight steals as No. 3 Maryland defeated Florida State 84-63.

Byron Mouton scored 18 points and Chris Wilcox had 15 for the Terrapins (16-3, 6-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who won their 13th straight at home since dropping a 74-71 decision to Florida State the previous February.

Dixon spent several hours alone in the team weight room that day, pondering the ramifications of the dreadful loss. So, before tipoff a year later, Maryland coach Gary Williams wrote on the board in the locker room: REVENGE.

Maryland went on to its first Final Four in 2001 and improved its record to 26-5 since that defeat, as the Terrapins pulled away in the second half behind Dixon, who finished 10-for-19 from the field and tied his career-high in rebounds and steals.

Dixon's eight steals — one short of the school record — gave him 307 for his career and made him the first player in ACC history to amass at least 1,800 points and 300 steals.

When he left the game with the outcome no longer in doubt, Dixon was showered with cheers by the sellout crowd of 14,500.

Anthony Richardson scored 14 points and Monte Cummings had 13 for FSU (10-8, 3-4), who fell to 0-4 on the road in the ACC. The Seminoles held the early lead, but Maryland took its first lead with 7:26 left and pulled away after halftime.

Maryland led 39-35 early in the second half before Wilcox hit a jumper and Dixon followed with a jumper and a 3-pointer. Lonny Baxter scored the Terrapins' next five points, capping the 12-2 spree with a resounding dunk. It was 58-47 before Dixon contributed three baskets to a 14-0 run that put Maryland up by 25 with 7:43 left.

Gm 20: [3/3] Maryland 91, [8/5] Virginia 87

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Juan Dixon said the impetus for No. 3 Maryland's stunning comeback victory against No. 8 Virginia came at the least likely time — when the Cavaliers thought they had the game won.

Just over six minutes remained, and with Virginia having taken a 74-70 lead, Maryland coach Gary Williams called a timeout, the crowd whipping into a frenzy as the Cavaliers triumphantly headed for the bench.

But Keith Jenifer and Travis Watson of Virginia stopped on their way to say something to Williams, leaving him incensed and his team determined.

"They thought they had the win," Dixon said of Jenifer and Watson, "so I guess they wanted to show off a little bit. We wanted to protect our coach and we allowed that to motivate us and took it from there."

The game marked only the second time in 156 meetings that both teams came into the game ranked in the Top 10, and both played like it.

Virginia took its big lead by scoring seven straight points, but Drew Nicholas hit his only two field goals of the game, both 3-pointers, and the Terrapins went 4-for-5 from the line at the end to clinch it.

Maryland finished 25-for-26 from the line, the only miss coming in the final seconds, while Virginia had seven costly misses in 19 tries from the line in the second half, repeatedly failing to build its lead.

Neither team led by more than seven points in the second half until Virginia took its big lead, but Nicholas' two huge shots gave them life and the veteran Dixon took over with the outcome still to be decided.

Byron Mouton led Maryland (17-3, 7-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) with 21 points, Dixon had 16 and Lonny Baxter added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Roger Mason Jr. had 29 points for the Cavaliers (14-4, 4-4), while Watson had 19 points and 12 rebounds.

With his team trailing 83-74, Dixon made two free throws and Chris Wilcox had a dunk off a turnover for Maryland. Chris Williams hit a tough layup and was fouled, further whipping the crowd up, but Williams missed the free throw, and Nicholas hit his first 3-pointer to make it 85-81.

The teams exchanged pairs of free throws before Nicholas hit his second 3, and Dixon followed by driving around the Cavaliers' defense into the corner, then hitting the baseline shot to give Maryland the lead.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — For 30 minutes, North Carolina State appeared poised to end its long drought against No. 3 Maryland. Then the Terrapins turned up their defense, leaving the Wolfpack to ponder yet another resounding defeat at Cole Field House.

Juan Dixon scored 27 points, including seven in a 16-2 second-half run that carried Maryland past NC State 89-73.

Lonny Baxter had 16 points for the Terrapins, who kept pace with top-ranked Duke atop the Atlantic Coast Conference. Maryland (18-3, 8-1) maintained its best start in the ACC since 1980.

Anthony Grundy scored 19 points for the Wolfpack (16-6, 5-4), who lost for the 20th time in 23 games against Maryland, including 13 straight at Cole Field House.

Reserve Ryan Randle started the Maryland comeback with a free throw, and Byron Mouton scored on a follow shot to put the Terrapins ahead for good. Randle added a put-back, Dixon hit a 3-pointer and Mouton drilled a fadeaway jumper to make it 65-57.

After Wolfpack freshman Julius Hodge sank two free throws, Randle made a layup and Dixon hit a 3-pointer. NC State was then cited for a shot clock violation, a call that brought an enraged Sendek charging onto the court.

Sendek received a technical foul, and Dixon made one of two shots for a 71-59 lead with five minutes to go.

Dixon finished 7-for-15 from the field, sinking 5-for-8 from 3-point range. He also went 8-for-9 at the foul line.

The Terrapins led 47-40 early in the second half before Iliau Extimox and Hodge made successive 3-pointers to cap an 8-0 spree that put the Wolfpack in front.

Maryland battled back to take the lead, but NC State reeled off five straight points to go up 57-55. Dixon and the Terrapins then took over.

Maryland committed five turnovers and missed six of its first 10 shots to dig an early hole, and Grundy scored four points during an 11-0 run that put the Wolfpack up 18-9.

It was 22-15 before Baxter scored six points in an 8-3 surge that got Maryland within a basket. The Wolfpack momentarily stemmed the charge, but two straight turnovers led to four free throws by Drew Nicholas and a 29-29 tie.

NC State led 36-35 before Steve Blake hit a 3-pointer, and Dixon followed with a three-point play to help Maryland take a 41-38 halftime lead.

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — A week off worried Gary Williams. He let his third-ranked Maryland Terrapins know about it before meeting North Carolina.

"He told us North Carolina was ranked No. 1 in the country last year and they had a week off and they went to Clemson and lost," Terrapins guard Byron Mouton said following a 92-77 victory over the Tar Heels. "He wanted us to be mentally tough and not get into the same situation.

"We looked at it and said, 'Yeah, we know it's the ACC and on any given night anybody can win,'" Mouton added. "We came out prepared to get the win."

Maryland matched its best overall and ACC starts in school history, getting 18 points from Juan Dixon in the 15-point victory despite shooting just 46 percent against the worst defensive team in the ACC.

The Terrapins (19-3, 9-1) registered their 19th win after 22 games for the sixth time in school history. The most recent was in 1999. The only other time Maryland won nine of its first 10 league games was 22 seasons ago.

Meanwhile, the Tar Heels (6-15, 2-9) matched the school record for losses in a season. It happened twice in the early 1950s.

North Carolina also set a record for ACC losses in what was a disastrous second season for coach Matt Doherty's inexperienced team. The program's previous worst ACC season was 6-8 in Dean Smith's third season in 1963-64.

Kris Lang led North Carolina with 23 points, while Jawad Williams, a freshman who had shown steady improvement, had 21 points, 11 rebounds and five assists.

North Carolina surrendered a school-record 112 points to Maryland on Jan. 9, en route to the 33-point loss.

At least this time, the Tar Heels showed signs of life in the second half after going down by 17 at the break.

A 3-pointer by Brian Morrison pulled North Carolina to 58-44 with 15:05 left, but Dixon made two shots behind the arc over the next three minutes to push Maryland's lead to 19.

Chris Wilcox then put the margin over 20 a minute later with a slam dunk and two free throws as Jason Capel fouled out with 10:27 left and North Carolina was on its way to its eighth ACC loss by double digits.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Loony Baxter had 22 points and 10 rebounds as No. 3 Maryland soared to new heights with an 85-65 thumping of Georgia Tech.

Maryland (20-3, 10-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) never before won 10 of its first 11 league games. Maryland, which last won the ACC regular season title in 1980, won its seventh straight game since losing at Duke a month earlier.

The Terrapins warmed up for a rematch with the Blue Devils in fine fashion, quickly expanding a six-point halftime lead to double figures before coasting to their eighth straight home win over the Yellow Jackets.

Chris Wilcox had 14 points and 12 rebounds and Juan Dixon, despite missing all nine of his 3-point attempts, scored 14 for the Terrapins, whose 20-3 start matched the 1974-75 team for best in school history.

Isma'il Muhammad, Tony Akins and Marvin Lewis each had 15 points for Georgia Tech (10-15, 3-9).

A dunk by Baxter, a 3-pointer by Steve Blake and a foul shot by Wilcox gave the Terrapins a 50-40 lead early in the second half. Muhammad scored five straight points to halve the deficit before Maryland pulled away, getting four points from Wilcox in a 10-1 spurt that made it 60-46 with 13:56 to go.

The first half featured eight lead changes before the Terrapins took the lead for good.

Maryland trailed 22-21 before reeling off eight straight points while the Yellow Jackets committed four turnovers in five possessions. Wilcox had four points in the surge and Dixon made a layup off an inbounds pass from under the basket.

Baxter scored 15 points and Wilcox had nine points and seven rebounds to help Maryland take a 44-38 halftime lead. Lewis kept Georgia Tech close with 12 points, but he was scoreless in the second half until making a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Gm 24: [3/3] Maryland 87, [1/4] Duke 73

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland beat Duke at Cole Field House and the venerable building claimed one more No. 1 victim.

The third-ranked Terrapins, who had lost four years in a row on their own floor to the Blue Devils, beat them 87-73, the seventh time a top-ranked team lost in the building that would close its doors to college basketball after the season.

"This whole week the coach has been uptight on us about Duke. Duke this, Duke that," said sophomore Chris Wilcox, who had a career-high 23 points. "I just feel better for my coach because Coach wanted this win more than we did."

Cole and Notre Dame's Joyce Athletic Center had been tied with six No. 1 losses, but the Terrapins (21-3, 11-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) made sure there was no heartache like a year earlier with the convincing win.

In 2001, the Terrapins lost 98-96 to Duke at home in overtime when they squandered a 10-point lead with a minute left in regulation. The Blue Devils won three of four against Maryland last season, including in the NCAA semifinals, rallying from a 22-point deficit on the way to the national championship.

Maryland made it almost impossible to blow a lead this time, going up by 25 points three times, the last at 68-43 with 9:55 to play, on the way to improving to 12-0 at home this season. Duke (23-2, 11-2) got within 11 twice, the last time at 81-70 with 2.09 left.

But Juan Dixon hit a short jumper with 1:47 left and Lonny Baxter added two free throws 14 seconds later to make it 85-70 and the party started in Cole.

Dixon had 17 points for Maryland, which continued its best conference start with its eighth straight win, and Byron Mouton had 15. Wilcox had 11 rebounds and Baxter had 11 points and 10 rebounds. Steve Blake had eight points and 13 assists, one off his career-high.

Carlos Boozer had 19 points and 12 rebounds for the Blue Devils, who had won 11 straight since their only loss to Florida State. Mike Dunleavy added 15 points and 11 rebounds and Jason Williams had 17 points.

In the four games these teams played last season, the eventual loser led by at least 10 points in each game.

Maryland was up 10-2 within the opening four minutes, and the Terrapins' biggest lead of the first half was 31-17 with 4:49 left on a jumper by Dixon.

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

CLEMSON, S.C. — Juan Dixon scored 14 of his 21 points in the second half as he and his teammates recovered from a sluggish start to beat Clemson 84-68.

The Terrapins (22-3, 12-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) looked early like they were still caught between the emotional roller-coaster of beating Duke and seeing their coach in pain following the loss of his father earlier in the week.

But Dixon, the ACC's second-leading scorer, got hot in the second half and lifted Maryland to its ninth straight win over the Tigers (12-15, 3-11).

Dixon went 4-of-4 from the field and had 10 points in a 27-12 run that turned a one-point deficit into a 63-49 lead with 9:52 left. Tahj Holden's tip-in gave Maryland the lead for good, 38-37. Dixon followed with a jumper to make it 42-39, then he added a driving layup and put the game away with consecutive 3-pointers to make it 61-49. Lonny Baxter closed the run with a jam off a pass from Dixon.

Williams was absent from practice Tuesday for his father's burial

"It was tough for them to concentrate. I wasn't at practice. That's not normal," Williams said. "I think they missed me yelling at them."

Clemson, which has lost 10 of 11, got no closer than 10 points the rest of the way.

Dixon moved past the 2,000-point mark for his career and became the NCAA's first player with more than 2,000 points, 300 steals and 200 3-pointers.

Maryland, after going 11-of-35 from the field in the first half, was 19-of-30 over the final 20 minutes.

Chris Wilcox scored 14 points for Maryland and Byron Mouton added 13. Baxter had 10 points and 12 rebounds. Tony Stockman led Clemson with 19 points

Clemson used an 18-5 run to take a 27-20 lead with 5:38 remaining. Reserves Ryan Randle and Drew Nicholas, however, scored Maryland's final nine points to make it 35-31 at halftime.

Playing with a painful sprained left ankle, Howard had 18 points and 15 rebounds in 25 gritty minutes for No. 20 Wake Forest. But the junior forward also made a mistake that will haunt him for the rest of his life.

Juan Dixon made a technical foul shot with 1.3 seconds left after Howard called a timeout the Demon Deacons didn't have, giving No 2 Maryland a 90-89 comeback victory.

Lonny Baxter scored 25 points and Dixon added 20 for the Terrapins (23-3, 13-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). Maryland fell behind midway through the first half, trailed by 12 shortly after halftime and finally regained the lead in the final two minutes.

"We were very fortunate to win that game," Terrapins coach Gary Williams said "That's really the first game we've had that's come down to a last-second situation. It was a good experience for us."

And an absolute disaster for Howard, who had tears streaming down his face as he addressed his untimely error, the same miscue Michigan's Chris Webber made in the 1993 NCAA championship game against North Carolina

The Terrapins led 89-87 before Howard scored in the lane and was fouled with 10.1 seconds left. He botched the free throw, and after Dixon missed a jumper for Maryland, Howard grabbed the rebound and quickly formed a "T" with his hands

But the Demon Deacons had already used their final timeout, so Howard was slapped with an automatic technical foul. Dixon made the first shot, missed the second, and Wake Forest's Broderick Hicks was very short on a long field goal attempt as time expired.

It was the 10th straight win for Maryland, off to the best start in school history and one game ahead of second-place Duke in the ACC. The Terrapins won their seventh in a row against Wake Forest, though none nearly as dramatic as this one.

Craig Dawson scored 27 points for the Demon Deacons (18-10, 8-6), but made only two field goals in the second half. Darius Songaila scored 20 points and Howard starred in a reserve role despite missing three of the previous four games after hurting his ankle.

Maryland trailed 85-81 before Chris Wilcox scored on a hook. After a Wake Forest timeout, Dixon stole the inbounds pass, was fouled and made two free throws to tie it with 2:13 left.

Byron Mouton then hit a foul shot to give Maryland its first lead since 34-33, and Wilcox followed a Wake Forest miss with a free throw for an 87-85 lead.

But the game was far from over.

"I just told the players we were going to figure out a way to win," Williams said. "Of course, I hadn't figured out a way yet, but it sounds good to the players to say that."

Gm 27: [2/2] Maryland 96, Florida St. 63

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Maryland coach Gary Williams didn't talk about any other team in getting the second-ranked Terrapins to play well at Florida State.

He didn't say anything to his players about Duke losing in Tallahassee last month.

"We wanted to win this game for us," Williams said after the 96-63 win over the Seminoles. "We don't use Duke to get ready for us to play."

Juan Dixon scored 25 points as Maryland (24-3, 14-1) won its 11th straight game and clinched at least a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship and showed why it could well be one of the No. 1 seeds in the NCAA tournament.

"They're as good as advertised," Florida State coach Steve Robinson said "The way they played tonight they sure convinced me they're playing just as good as anybody in the country."

The Terrapins used a 16-2 run to take a 22-9 lead and were never in trouble, holding leads of 30 points or more for much of the second half.

Drew Nicholas added 15 points for Maryland, which shot 55.2 percent from the field, including 9-of-16 from 3-point range, while Byron Mouton added 12 and Calvin McCall 10.

"We took this game seriously," Williams said. "We had to be intense tonight I thought the crowd could get into the game if we let them hang around."

"We're playing great basketball right now," said Dixon, who was 8-of-13 from the field and 7-of-8 from the free throw line. "This is definitely the right time to peak."

Monte Cummings scored 17 points for Florida State (11-15, 4-11), while Nigel Dixon added 15 points and 10 rebounds and J.D. Bracy had 11 points.

FINAL GAME AT COLE FIELD HOUSE

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — About the only thing that didn't go according to plan was the net-cutting ceremony.

Long after No. 2 Maryland ended its 47-year stay at storied Cole Field House with a 112-92 rout of Virginia, each player climbed a ladder to cut down the net in front of the Terrapins' bench.

Juan Dixon sliced off the last cord, then realized that coach Gary Williams was still behind him. So Dixon knotted the severed cord to the rim, and Williams ended the emotional night with one last snip.

Williams had no complaints, though, because Maryland finished 15-0 at home and concluded the best regular season in school history with a runaway victory.

"This is the way it's supposed to be," Williams said. "Everyone got into the game, and the crowd was great."

Dixon scored 23 points, Chris Wilcox had 21 points and 11 rebounds and Lonny Baxter added 18 points for the Terrapins (25-3, 15-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who will move across campus in 2002-03 into the new $101 million Comcast Center.

In the finale, the ACC champs took the lead for good midway through the first half and cruised to their 12th straight win.

Baxter had six points and Dixon added five as Maryland opened the second half with an 18-6 run to go up 61-42, leaving the sellout crowd plenty of time to savor the atmosphere.

Chris Williams scored a season-high 28 points and Travis Watson had 20 for Virginia (17-10, 7-9), which was coming off an 87-84 upset of No. 3 Duke. It was the sixth straight road loss for the Cavaliers and their ninth successive defeat at Cole.

The gathering in the grand old building probably was closer to 20,000, including dozens of alums. Albert King, Buck Williams, Boomer Esiason, Len Elmore, Tom McMillen and Jim O'Brien, among others, all showed up to absorb one final memory.

The Terrapins finished 486-151 at Cole, closing out their stay the same way they started it - with a win over Virginia. In the first game at the arena, on Dec. 2, 1955, Maryland topped the Cavaliers 67-55.

In between those two games, Cole played host to two Final Fours and six NCAA regionals. It was the scene of one of the sport's most noteworthy games, when an all-black Texas Western team beat Kentucky 72-65 to win the 1966 NCAA championship and shatter the color barrier in college basketball.

Gm 29: [2/2] Maryland 85, Florida St. 59

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — The Terrapins turned to their reserves for a much-needed second-half spark and pulled away to beat Florida State 85-59 in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament quarterfinals.

Chris Wilcox was the first to admit he played poorly. Luckily for second-ranked Maryland, plenty of his teammates stepped up. "I had a terrible game. I just stunk out there," said Wilcox, who averaged 11.9 points and 7.6 rebounds but finished with just four points and eight boards.

The Terrapins (26-3) squandered a 12-point lead at the start of the second half to let eighth-seeded Florida State (12-17) briefly make it an uncomfortably close game.

Maryland, outright ACC regular-season champions for the first time since 1980, moved into the tournament semifinals for the eighth straight year.

Juan Dixon scored 20 points, and Byron Mouton added 18 to lead Maryland, but all the praise went to Holden, who had four points in 15 minutes, and Randle, who added six points in 11 minutes.

Monte Cummings scored 19 to lead Florida State, which played its final game under coach Steve Robinson, who dropped to 64-86 in five seasons with the Seminoles.

The Seminoles, who needed overtime to beat Clemson 91-84 in the tournament's opening game, tired late and shot just 30 percent against Maryland while committing 19 turnovers.

Maryland looked in control of things early and took a 40-28 lead into halftime.

But Cummings scored 10 straight points to pull the Seminoles back and Florida State cut it to 42-41 when Trevor Harvey scored on a driving basket and was fouled.

After Harvey made the free throw, Williams called a timeout and benched Wilcox, who had just two points and five rebounds at the time and had thrown the ball away and missed a layup during Florida State's rally.

Williams offers instruction at the 2002 ACC Tournament.

Holden came in and Maryland's defense improved after the timeout. The Terps scored 21 unanswered points, forced seven turnovers and held Florida State scoreless for 7:14 in a dominating stretch that put Maryland in control of the game.

ACC TOURNAMENT SEMIFINAL

Gm 30: NC State 86, [2/2] Maryland 82

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — The second-ranked Terrapins last captured the ACC tourney 18 years ago and were riding a 13-game winning streak before their 86-82 loss to North Carolina State in the ACC tournament semifinals.

"I remember this feeling," Williams said. "It's funny, it didn't take long to remember it."

Anthony Grundy scored 24 points, and Julius Hodge sank a big 3-pointer with 1:17 left to key the Wolfpack upset. NC State, which snapped a six-game skid against Maryland, shot 65 percent in the second half and made 11 3-pointers one day after hitting 13.

Regular-season ACC champion Maryland (26-4) was in its eighth straight conference semifinal, but it has advanced to the title game just once in that span under Williams — in 2000, when it lost to Duke.

NC State (22-9) used a unique game plan to reach the tourney final for the first time since 1997, when Herb Sendek became the first coach to take an eighth-seeded team to the championship game. The Wolfpack lost the title to North Carolina that year.

The fourth-seeded Wolfpack won by pressuring Maryland guard Steve Blake with a fullcourt trapping press. When the Terrapins pounded the ball down low to Lonny Baxter or Chris Wilcox, NC State surrounded them with as many as four players at a time.

Grundy was coming off a career-high 32-point effort in a 20-point quarterfinal win over Virginia — and he was just as spectacular in this one, until missing some important free throws late.

The senior guard was 9-of-12 from the field with eight rebounds. Marcus Melvin added 19 points, Archie Miller 16.

Blake led Maryland with 21 points and 11 assists.

The Wolfpack went up 67-64 with 7:13 left before going on a 10-0 run to break the game open - or so it appeared. Miller had a 3-pointer and two free throws in the spurt, while Grundy had a twisting layup and Melvin a 3-pointer.

However, the Terrapins didn't go quietly.

But poor free-throw shooting by the ACC's best team from the line kept Maryland in it until the end.

The Terrapins had a chance to tie it twice in the final 30 seconds, but Juan Dixon threw the ball away once and his off-balance 28-footer with 3.2 seconds wasn't close.

2002 NCAA FIRST & SECOND ROUNDS

NCAA EAST REGION FIRST ROUND

Gm 31: [4/4] Maryland 85, Siena 70

A determined Dixon scored 29 points as top-seeded Maryland cruised past Siena 85-70 in a first-round East Regional game.

Dixon, a senior guard, knew that his next loss would be his last as a college player. So he wouldn't stop hustling on the court until the final buzzer of his final game.

"I just wanted to come out and be aggressive," said Dixon, who shot 10-for-17 from the field and made all four free throws. "This is my last time going through this, and I want to tell myself that I went out being aggressive."

Dixon drove to the basket, pulled up for jumpers and deftly passed to open teammates when Siena double-teamed him.

Dixon, who scored 20 in the first half, fell two points short of matching the school record shared for points in an NCAA tournament game, held jointly by Len Bias and Joe Smith.

The Terrapins have played two games a year at the arena in each of the past five seasons. Their familiarity with the building served them well, as did the backing of the hometown crowd.

Maryland probably would have won without those factors working in its favor. The Terrapins were eager to bounce back from the loss to North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, and Siena had the misfortune of being Maryland's next opponent.

The loss ended an improbable run by the Saints (16-19), 12-18 before winning the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference tournament and beating Alcorn State 81-77 in an NCAA opening-round game.

That victory enabled Siena to become only the second team with a losing record to win an NCAA tournament game. But the Saints' bid to become the first 16th seed to beat a No. 1 seed was abruptly rejected by a Maryland team on a mission to win its first national championship.

NCAA EAST REGION SECOND ROUND

Gm 32: [4/4] Maryland 87, Wisconsin 57

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Juan Dixon stepped into the Maryland record book, and the top-seeded Terrapins methodically marched into the NCAA tournament's final 16 for the sixth time in nine years.

Dixon scored 29 points to break two school scoring records, leading Maryland past eighth-seeded Wisconsin 87-57 in the second round of the East Regional.

Chris Wilcox had 18 points for Maryland (28-4), who won 15 of 16 since Jan. 17, matched the 1998-99 team for most wins in a season and set a school mark for margin of victory in an NCAA tournament game.

Dixon, a senior guard, broke Len Bias' team record for career points (2,172) and also eclipsed Bias' mark for career points in the NCAA tournament (197).

Dixon was 10-for-19 from the field, including 4-for-7 from 3-point range, and 5-of-6 on free throws — a suitable encore to his 29-point performance against Siena in the tournament opener.

Wisconsin (19-13), which tied for the Big Ten regular-season title, closed its first season under coach Bo Ryan by losing two of three. The Badgers were seeking to duplicate their tournament run of two years ago, when they advanced to the Final Four after defeating No. 1-seeded Arizona in the second round.

Charlie Wills scored 17 points for Wisconsin, which absorbed its worst beating in 18 NCAA tournament games.

The Badgers had no answers for Dixon or a defense that caused them to miss 28 of their first 40 shots while Maryland built a 60-35 lead.

Up 38-30 at halftime, the Terrapins opened the second half with a 22-5 run to thrill the sellout crowd at the MCI Center, which was filled predominantly with Terrapins fans.

Dixon scored 15 points in the run, including a pair of 3-pointers and a layup off a steal.

The game was tied five times in the opening 13 minutes before Maryland used its inside-outside attack to take control.

After Lonny Baxter and Wilcox scored in the lane to make it 23-all, Drew Nicholas and Steve Blake hit successive 3-pointers to put Maryland ahead for good.

Wills stopped the 10-point run with a layup before Dixon topped Bias' record with a 3-pointer for a 32-25 lead. Minutes later, Dixon hit a jumper and added two free throws to cap a 19-5 spree and put the Terrapins up by 10.

2002 NCAA EAST REGIONAL

NCAA EAST REGION SEMIFINAL

Gm 33: [4/4] Maryland 78, [16/15] Kentucky 68

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — No jumping around, no excited hugs, no pointing to the stands. Maryland's players simply shook hands with the team they beat and walked off the court, closer to a second straight Final Four.

"They're a veteran team. Sometimes I wish they had more emotion," Terrapins coach Gary Williams said. "We are not surprised when we win. We go in thinking we're good enough to win and when we do, we move on to the next game."

Despite a quiet second half from All-American Juan Dixon, top-seeded Maryland just moved right along, beating Kentucky 78-68 in the East Regional semifinals.

Unlike in the Terrapins' first two wins in the tournament - when the senior guard poured in 29 points each time - Dixon didn't dominate the scoring column.

"Today I didn't have to score 29. I only needed to score 19 and make some defensive plays," said Dixon, who was 6-for-15 from the field and had seven rebounds and four assists.

"Hopefully we can keep this up."

Maryland's 16th victory in 17 games ended the up-and-down season of fourth-seeded Kentucky (22-10), which got only 17 points from senior star Tayshaun Prince - 24 fewer than he scored in a second-round victory over Tulsa.

"Prince is going to get his looks. We just wanted to make sure he didn't get a lot of open looks," Williams said. "Byron Mouton did a good job on him, and we tried to help off the screen and convince him he wasn't open."

Prince, who was 19-for-35 from the field in the first two tournament games, was 6-for-16 against the Terrapins.

"I had plenty of opportunities and didn't get it down," he said. "They did a pretty good job of playing defense. Others double-teamed me more. They were straight up until I had the opportunity to shoot."

Both Maryland and Kentucky played solid defense, and neither came within seven points of its season scoring average.

Marquis Estill made two free throws with 5:05 to play to get Kentucky within 66-63, but Chris Wilcox and Lonny Baxter each made two for Maryland to make it 70-63.

Maryland reached the regional finals for the fourth time, the others coming in 1973, '75, and 2001.

NCAA EAST REGION FINAL

Gm 34: [4/4] Maryland 90, [10/13] Connecticut 82

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Back and forth, back and forth — until Steve Blake spoke up and came through.

With 25 seconds left and the shot clock nearing zero, Blake sank a 3-pointer for his first bucket of the game, leading top-seeded Maryland to a 90-82 victory over Connecticut and a second straight trip to the Final Four.

"That shot was the biggest one I could hit for this team," said Blake, who missed his only two attempts until then. "At the last timeout, I told the guys to look for me. I was just kind of freelancing. I knew if I hit the shot it would be tough for them. I just got a good look as the shot clock was winding down."

That put Maryland up 86-80 and was the clinching blow in a tremendous display of basket-for-basket play. There were eight ties and seven lead changes in the final 13 minutes.

Lonny Baxter had a season-high 29 points, and Dixon scored 27 for Maryland (30-4), which reached the 30-victory mark for the first time.

Second-seeded UConn stayed in the game thanks to sophomore Caron Butler, who had 26 of his 32 points during a second half in which neither team led by more than three points from the 14-minute mark until the final 36 seconds.

Maryland scored the final eight points of the first half to take a 44-37 lead - UConn's biggest deficit of the tourney to that juncture - but Butler brought the Huskies back.

Baxter, the regional's Most Outstanding Player, was 7-for-12 from the field, 15-for-18 from the free throw line and grabbed nine rebounds. He had 24 points and 10 rebounds in the teams' first meeting this season, a 77-65 Maryland victory on Dec. 3.

2002 NCAA FINAL FOUR — National Semifinal

Gm 35: [4/4] Maryland 97, [2/2] Kansas 88

ATLANTA — Juan Dixon made darn sure Maryland's return to the Final Four didn't end after one game this time.

With its All-American guard leading the way, the Terrapins reached the national championship game for the first time with a 97-88 victory over Kansas.

Unlike the 2001 NCAA semifinal when the Terps blew a 22-point lead to Duke, Maryland managed to make sure this big lead held up in the matchup of No. 1 seeds.

Dixon hit a baseline jumper with 1:14 to play that gave Maryland an 89-82 lead after Kansas had cut a 20-point lead to five. The Jayhawks still weren't done, but neither was Dixon, who finished with 33 points.

Kansas hit two 3-pointers in the final 30 seconds. After the first, Dixon made two free throws to make it 92-85. After the second, Kansas called a timeout it didn't have and Dixon made one of two free throws on the technical to make it 93-88 with 19 seconds left. That was as close as the Jayhawks would get.

Chris Wilcox added 18 points and nine rebounds for Maryland and Steve Blake had eight points and 11 assists.

Nick Collison had 21 points and 10 rebounds for the Jayhawks, while All-American forward Drew Gooden finished with 15 points on 5-for-12 shooting and had nine rebounds.

Things were far from perfect at the start for Maryland, as Kansas (33-4) jumped to a 13-2 lead inside the opening four minutes. Rallying in the first half seemed to fit the Terrapins much better than holding a big lead did a year ago.

Despite center Lonny Baxter being limited to three minutes in the first half because of foul trouble, Maryland got back in it behind Dixon, the Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year who finished the first half with 19 points.

The Terrapins went up 44-37 at halftime and Kansas, despite getting in serious foul trouble of its own, was able to stay within striking distance.

Jeff Boschee's 3-pointer with 12:08 to play had the Jayhawks within 60-55. The Terrapins then went on a 10-0 run, the last five points coming from Holden, and it was 70-55 with 10:08 left.

The Terps went up by as many as 20 points, 83-63 on a 3 by Dixon with 6:04 to play.

After Dixon's big shot from the baseline and one free throw from Blake, Boschee made it 90-85 with his last 3 with 27 seconds to play.

Gooden's 3-pointer made it 92-88 with 19 seconds left, but some of the Kansas players signaled for a timeout when the ball went through. It may not have been as dramatic as when Chris Webber made the same mistake for Michigan against North Carolina in the 1993 championship game, but it cost the Jayhawks dearly.

Dixon made the one free throw on the technical and Byron Mouton added two on the ensuing possession. Drew Nicholas capped the scoring with two free throws with 0.1 seconds left.

2002 NCAA FINAL FOUR — National Championship

Gm 36: [4/4] Maryland 64, Indiana 52

ATLANTA — A star who stepped up and a tightly wound coach — a match made in Maryland — was good enough to turn the Terrapins into national champions.

With All-America guard Juan Dixon snapping out of a scoring drought just in time, Maryland ended Indiana's magical tournament run with a 64-52 victory.

This was the Terrapins' first appearance in a national championship game and the senior-laden lineup came through over the final 9:42, pulling away from the Hoosiers to become the fourth straight No. 1 seed to win it all.

Coach Gary Williams guided his alma mater from the depths of probation 13 years earlier to the pinnacle of college basketball. He let his intense demeanor melt long enough to celebrate with his team, which featured four players who had started at least 100 games in their careers.

Dixon scored at least 27 points in four of the first five tournament games, including 33 in the semifinal win over fellow top seed Kansas. He started the title game at that pace, scoring 11 points in the opening 10 minutes. He didn't score again for 20 minutes.

When he hit a 3-pointer with 9:42 to play, it gave Maryland (32-4) the lead for good at 45-44 and the Terrapins made sure even a small lead was safe this time.

Dixon finished with 18 points and he and fellow senior Lonny Baxter combined for all the points in the 9-2 run that Dixon started with the 3 and Baxter ended with a dunk that made it 51-46 with 7:22 to play.

Indiana (25-12), which upset top-seeded Duke then shocked second-seeded Oklahoma in the semifinals, just couldn't come up with another stunner.

The team that had the country almost forgetting about Bob Knight, again used the 3-point shot as its main weapon.

The Hoosiers, who were 23-for-32 from behind the arc in the regional final against Kent State and Oklahoma, made eight of their first 12. When Jared Jeffries' layup was goaltended with 9:53 left, Indiana had its only lead of the game, 44-42.

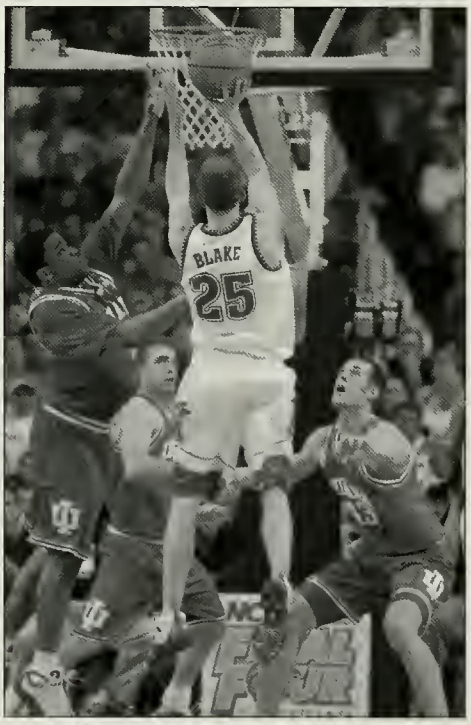
The Terps accept the 2002 NCAA championship trophy.

When Dixon and Baxter, who finished with 15 points and 14 rebounds, stepped up, the long shots stopped falling. Indiana made just two of its 11 shots from behind the arc and its dream of being the first No. 5 seed to win a national championship started to fade.

Kyle Hornsby led Indiana with 14 points and Dane Fife added 11. Jeffries, the Big Ten's player of the year, finished with eight points on 4-for-11 shooting. The Hoosiers finished 20-for-58 from the field (34.5 percent), the first time in the tournament they shot below 50 percent.

The Terrapins, who won 19 of their last 20 games, again were big on the boards, finishing with a 42-31 rebound advantage.

Maryland was among the country's highest scoring teams at 85 points per game, but its third-lowest total of the season was good enough to make it the 33rd school to win the national championship.



Steve Blake slices the Indiana defense.

No. 1 Terrapins!

Maryland has been ranked No. 2 a total of 37 times between the AP and Coaches Polls, but achieved its first and only No. 1 ranking in history on April 2, 2002 – one day after defeating Indiana for the 2002 NCAA Championship. The final AP poll was released prior to the NCAA Tournament, thus the No. 1 ranking by USA TODAY/ESPN remains the only poll in which Maryland has ever been ranked No. 1. The Terrapins' four losses in 2002 (Oklahoma, Duke, Arizona, NC State) were all on the road to teams ranked in the USA Today/ESPN final Top 25.

All-Time Results

Game-by-game results for every Maryland basketball season since 1910-11. Maryland was known as Maryland Agricultural College until 1915, and as Maryland State College from 1916-1919. Maryland's conference affiliations: Atlantic Coast Conference since 1953-54, and the Southern Conference from 1923-24 to 1952-53.

An all-college basketball team was formed in 1904-05, and played just two games. Due to a fire in 1912 which burnt the armory and college gymnasium, the team that was fielded in 1913-14 did not have a regular home, practiced only three times all season and lost 16 games. Another team was not fielded until 1918-19.

In 1918-19, Maryland State participated in the District Intercollegiate Basketball League, in which all games were played at the Washington YMCA. Another season would not be conducted until Maryland opened its new facility at The Gymnasium, inside Annapolis Hall, in 1923-24. It is considered to be the school's first "varsity" team.

Home games were played at The Gymnasium from 1923-24 to 1930-31. Home games were played at Ritchie Coliseum from 1931-32 to 1954-55. Home games since the 1955-56 season have been played at Cole Field House.

Maryland and opponent Associated Press rankings are in brackets – AP polls began in 1948-49. From 1960-61 to 1967-68, the Associated Press ranked only the nation's top 10 teams.

ACC Tournament Notes

Maryland holds the ACC's longest active streak of first round victories in the ACC Tournament, advancing to the tournament semifinals in eight straight seasons ... The Terrapins have reached the ACC semis in every year from 1995 to 2002 ... Duke holds the record for consecutive years with at least one win in the tournament with 12 (1958-69), followed by Maryland's active streak of eight.

The only time that four players on one team scored 20 or more points in an ACC Tournament game: John Lucas (24), Owen Brown (22), Mo Howard (20) and Tom McMillen (20) scored 86 of Maryland's 105 points in the Terps' 105-85 semifinal victory over North Carolina in 1974.

NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS

An Era Of History: Cole Field House

Its official name is the "William P. Cole Jr. Student Activities Building."

That is the name that can be read on the structure that still sits between the tennis courts and the university's student union, on the main thoroughfare of the campus of the University of Maryland, College Park. It is no longer, however, the home of Maryland basketball, as it was for 47 years since December of 1955.

Everyone just called it "Cole." Like Kentucky, where the Wildcats play at "Rupp." Or in Westwood, where UCLA plays at "Pauley."

The building is Cole Field House, even though that description appears nowhere officially. The nation's only on-campus arena to play host to multiple Final Fours, it has hosted numerous NCAA tournaments for basketball, volleyball and wrestling. It also hosted a U.S. vs. China ping-pong match in 1972 before a capacity crowd in what was the first sporting event held between the two nations; it hosted U.S. Presidents and, in September 1974, it even hosted Elvis.

Besides the all-black starting five of Texas Western taking the floor against Kentucky in the national championship game of 1966, Cole Field House was also home to the first black basketball players in the ACC — Maryland's Billy Jones (1966-68) and Pete Johnson (1967-69).

In 47 seasons, Terrapin teams were 486-151 at Cole Field House. A few of Cole's most memorable basketball moments:

1955

Cole Field House dedicated at a cost of $3.3 million. Maryland defeats Virginia, 67-55, on Dec. 2 in the first game in the new facility.

1958

1965

Bill Bradley scored 41 points in the NCAA East Region championship game as Princeton topped Providence, 109-69.

1966

Cole plays host to the NCAA Final Four. In the semifinals, Kentucky defeats Duke and Texas Western (now Texas-El Paso) defeats Utah. Texas Western then defeats Kentucky in one of the most historic championship games in history.

Cole plays host to the NCAA Final Four for the second time. UCLA defeats Jacksonville for the title as Sidney Wicks outduals Artis Gilmore. It was the fourth of UCLA's seven consecutive NCAA championships.

1971

Maryland defeats No. 2 South Carolina, 31-30, in one of the great "slow-down" games in the history of Cole. Leading only 4-3 at halftime, Maryland needed a lay-up from Jim O'Brien to tie the game with five seconds to go in regulation and an 11-foot jumper from O'Brien to win the game with four seconds remaining in OT.

1972

The Cole Field House single-game attendance record of 15,287 was set as Maryland played host to North Carolina on Feb. 16. Maryland won 79-77 in an overtime thriller.

1975

1979

On Super Bowl Sunday, Larry Gibson sank a free throw with one second on the clock to boost the Terps past top-ranked Notre Dame, 67-66, on Jan. 27, 1979. Gibson scored 11 points that day while Ernest Graham scored 28 and Buck Williams grabbed 15 rebounds.

1984

1991

In the NCAA Eastern Regional first round, 15th-seeded Richmond defeats No. 2 seed Syracuse, 73-69, in one of the great upsets in NCAA Tournament history. It was only the second time in the history of the tournament that a No. 15 seed had defeated a No. 2 seed.

1992

On Jan. 15, 1992, No. 3 Maryland hosted No. 2 Virginia in a women's basketball shootout before a sellout crowd of 14,500. The game still stands as the ACC attendance mark for a women's game.

Maryland defeats No. 10 North Carolina, 82-80, on a last-second tip-in by All-American Walt Williams. Williams put the Terps up 81-80 with 1.3 seconds remaining to lead the Terps past the Tar Heels in Cole for only the second time since the 1982-83 season.

Before a sellout crowd on March 5, Maryland defeats Virginia, 70-68, to clinch a fourth-place tie in the ACC standings and virtually assure its first NCAA Tournament bid under Gary Williams.

Cole Was A House Of Horrors For Top-Ranked Teams

Cole Field House bears distinction as having hosted more upsets of No. 1-ranked teams than any building in the country.

When the No. 3-ranked Terrapins dispatched top-rated Duke on Feb. 27, 2002, it was Cole Field House's seventh game in which a No. 1 ranked team has fallen.

Including NCAA Tournament games, Notre Dame's Joyce Athletics & Convocation Center has hosted six No. 1 upsets and Oklahoma's Lloyd Noble Center has been the site of five.

At Cole, Maryland has beaten the nation's top team in six of those seven games. Also at Cole, No. 3-ranked Texas Western topped No. 1 Kentucky during the 1966 Final Four.

1998

Maryland defeats No. 1 North Carolina, 89-83 in overtime, as Laron Profit scores 19 points overall and six during an overtime period. It marks the second time in three years that the Terps beat No. 1 North Carolina in Cole.

1999

Maryland sets a school record with 28 wins on the season, and the Terps host a record 14,455 fans per game at Cole. Junior sensation Steve Francis is named an All-American and later chosen as the second pick in the NBA draft.

2001

Maryland defeats Virginia 102-67 in the final game of the regular season to mark the most lopsided win ever, in the longtime series against its ACC rival. One week later, the Terps advance to their eighth straight NCAA Tournament berth and bring back to College Park the first Final Four banner in school history.

2002

Maryland defeats top-ranked Duke before a national television audience, 87-73, to take over first place in the ACC and mark the seventh time in Cole history that a No. 1 ranked team has been defeated.

Maryland beats Virginia 112-92 to win its first ACC regular season title since 1980, in what is the final game at Cole. A standing-room only crowd witnesses an emotional postgame event with returning All-Americans commemorating Cole's final game, followed by a net-cutting ceremony to celebrate the Terps' league title.

The NCAA Champion Terrapins return to Cole before a crowd of over 12,000 adoring fans, just hours after winning the first national championship in school history.

Terps In The NBA Draft

Maryland's rising success under Gary Williams over the past 13 years has resulted in a growing number of Terrapin stars in the NBA ranks, and professionally overseas.

In the NBA specifically, the annual draft has become a barometer of Terrapin success, landing seven draft picks in the draft's first two rounds since 1999, alone.

Last June, the Terps landed a pair of first round picks and three overall, as Chris Wilcox (8th, Los Angeles Clippers), Juan Dixon (17th, Washington Wizards) and Lonny Baxter (44th, Chicago Bulls) all were selected from draft proceedings at Madison Square Garden. Wilcox, chosen eighth overall, was Maryland's first lottery pick since Steve Francis three years earlier. When Dixon was made the 17th pick of the draft, Maryland had placed two players in the first round for the first time since 1981.

Buoyed by three first and second round draft picks during the 1999 NBA draft also, Maryland and Gary Williams have asserted themselves in recent years among the most prominent schools in developing NBA talent.

In '99, Steve Francis was chosen as the second pick of the first round, followed by second-round selections Obinna Ekezie and Laron Profit. One year later, Terence Morris was taken in the second round of the draft.

What's more, Francis, the No. 2 pick in that '99 draft, went on to become the NBA's Co-Rookie of the Year. By the 2002 season, Francis was voted to the NBA All-Star Game.

Chosen on draft day by the Vancouver Grizzlies, Francis was traded in the preseason to the Houston Rockets for whom he led all NBA rookies with 6.6 steals in 1999-00, and was the second-leading rookie scorer with 18 points per game. He has become the centerpiece of the Rockets' franchise, which includes Morris who was also traded to Houston after his draft selection by Atlanta.

Had Francis been the No. 1 overall selection, Maryland would have become the first school in NBA history to have three No. 1 selections. Previously, John Lucas was the top pick by the Houston Rockets in 1976 and Joe Smith was picked first by the Golden State Warriors in 1995.

The Terps' 2002 draft windfall brought to five the number of all-time Maryland lottery selections — tied for fourth among all NCAA schools. Wilcox's selection brought the number of lottery selections at Maryland under head coach Gary Williams to four. Overall, seven Maryland players and nine overall since 1987 have played for Gary Williams and become first-round draft picks with guaranteed contracts.

Since Williams' arrival at Maryland to begin the 1990 season, a total of 14 players (over one per season) have begun their professional careers as NBA draft choices. During his career, an incredible total of 27 players have been NBA draft choices.

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

University Of MARYLAND

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Fourteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

About The University

The Campus

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality, beginning with the quality of our students. For more than 10 years, every freshman class has been the most talented in the university's history, including this year's. Not only are their grade-point averages and SAT scores stellar, about half of them finished in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating class.

But Maryland students excel in more ways than just the classroom. They are leaders in the arts and culture, community service, civic engagement and athletics.

What's more, the student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 65 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, reaching $308.5 million for FY 01. Private giving has increased even more dramatically, from $17 million to $77 million in FY01. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, current enrollment stands at 25,099 undergraduate and 9,061 graduate. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs, and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

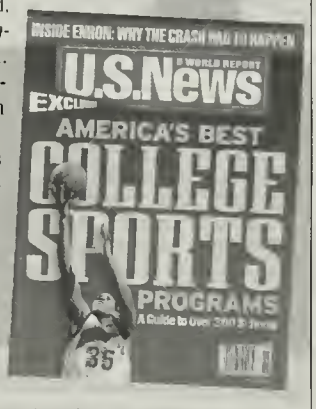
With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

Did You Know?

- In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 65 programs ranked among the nation's elite.
- A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.
- Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university 12th in graduating black males with baccalaureate degrees in all disciplines. (Maryland is second among non-historically black schools.) Maryland is 23rd in black male undergraduate enrollment figures among all schools.
- The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 13 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 4 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.



- In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report–business and engineering–both the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 21) and A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25. In business, the management information systems specialty was No. 7; entrepreneurship No. 12; general management specialty No. 21; e-commerce No. 8; human resources specialty No. 10. In engineering, the aerospace/aeronautical/astronautical specialty was No. 11.
- An economic impact study conducted by the economists with the Jacob France Center, an applied economics analysis center at the University of Baltimore, concluded that the University of Maryland generates $5.93 of economic activity for every dollar appropriated by the General Assembly, for a total statewide effect of nearly $1.8 billion.
- Maryland appointed William Phillips, a Nobel laureate in physics, to its faculty during the spring. Phillips will establish a world-class atomic, molecular and optical physics group on campus. The Philip Merrill College of Journalism now has five Pulitzer Prize winners on its faculty. A sixth faculty member, Eugene Roberts, directed the Philadelphia Inquirer to multiple Pulitzers as managing editor.

More, Better Students Go To Maryland

The University of Maryland has boasted its best freshman class ever for each of the last 10 years, and the entering freshmen for 2002 are no exception. The academic credentials — high school grades and SAT scores —are again the best ever. And more of those accepted by Maryland are now choosing to enroll here.

This year,half of our freshman finished high school in the top 10 percent of their class. And the average new freshman has taken at least 11 honors or advanced classes in high school. What's more, the student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

What is more remarkable this year is how the university's successes in establishing quality programs – academic and athletic – and cementing a major role in the community, have attracted more of the best students than ever.

In its survey of the colleges of choice of top graduates in Maryland high schools last year, the Washington Post found that more than half picked the University of Maryland. No other single school was even close.

COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Dr. C.D. Mote Jr.

University President (California '51) Fifth Year

When C.D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998 he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Four years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community, and in the world.

The University of Maryland is the state of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

Fulfilling that responsibility is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, taught engineering and eventually became vice chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

One of Mote's first tasks here was to serve on a governor's task force to examine the funding and organization of the University System of Maryland. The task force recommended, and the General Assembly enacted into law, a reaffirmation of the university's flagship status and a commitment to funding at levels comparable to the best public universities in the nation.

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by creating a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, continuing to emphasize the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's internal and external connections, and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress in each of these areas can be measured by the quality of its programs; the stature of its faculty; the talent of its students; partnerships with business; impact on the state's economy; its ability to apply discoveries to global, national and regional problems; and its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, Maryland's programs have been improving by leaps and bounds. We currently have 65 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the top 25 nationally by U.S. News & World Report, compared with just one program a decade ago.

While the university's academic successes are across the board, it has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, education and journalism. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has achieved top 10 rankings from such beacon publications as the Financial Times of London and the Wall Street Journal. Every department in the College of Education has programs ranked in the U.S. News top 25, and the Counseling and Personnel Services Program has long been ranked tops in the nation.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. More than 30 faculty are members of the national academies in their fields, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including politics, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the past 10 years, it has become a virtual cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2002 is expected to exceed 3.90, while the average SAT score is nearly 1300.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. As many as 40 percent of all new freshmen are now enrolled in such programs as Honors, Gemstone, College Park Scholars and other living-learning communities that bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting.

Business Partnerships

In order to fulfill its role as the state's most important asset, Mote has emphasized that the university must be engaged with the business and government communities in substantial and meaningful ways. Under his leadership, Maryland has provided its technological expertise to help the state improve its business processes through a Web portal and has consulted with hundreds of Maryland businesses through its Technology Extension Program.

In recent years, the university also helped to attract Fujitsu Laboratories of America to open a research facility in College Park. Fujitsu, the third-largest communications company in the world, shares a building with the Joint Global Change Research Institute, a research partnership between the university and the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.

Research with Impact

Sponsored research funding has more than doubled at the University of Maryland since 1990, adding significantly to the university's value as both an economic and an intellectual resource. In FY 2001, the university received $250 million in research grants, much of it directed at projects that will directly improve our social, educational and economic well-being.

Recent highlights of research funding include more than $10 million from the National Science Foundation to study a wide range of issues related to information technology, from hardware to sociological impacts of the Internet. NSF also funded two major teaching initiatives in the College of Education totaling more than $20 million and taking the university's expertise directly into Maryland schools to improve math and science instruction. Mote himself chaired an NSF-sponsored task force last year to study the feasibility of voting over the Internet.

World-Class Facilities

During Mote's second year in office, the university began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities.

Highlights of the construction activity on the campus include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, scheduled to open in fall 2002; new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering; extensive renovations to the Adele Stamp Student Union; and new parking structures.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience, not just a showcase to impress visitors and friends. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in last season's NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America.

"That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Deborah A. Yow

Athletics Director Ninth Year

Deborah A. Yow is in the ninth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a year that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's eight years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships as Maryland athletics has soared to new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics two years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was recently singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow, who recently served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America. Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all eight of the annual department's budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $40 million annually and the sizable prior operating debts have been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 240 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 25 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.

- Selected in 2002 by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, won the ACC regular season in 2002, as well as the NCAA national championship. In football, won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl. The Terps are among only a few NCAA institutions to have achieved at this distinguished level in these sports in the same year.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S.
- Field hockey played for the national championship.
- Women's lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001.
- Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center.

• In 2001-02 10 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.

• The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past eight years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to""raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as""a coach's AD," while also being a highly organized, strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and at the University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin men's basketball program, Maryland's director of athletics points out, "Our national championship men's basketball program has been a big element in our emergence as a nationally recognized athletics program. Coach Gary Williams and his staff represent our University with skill and competitive excellence. They are a credit to collegiate basketball and to our university. We are very proud of Coach Williams, his staff and our men's basketball student-athletes."

Summing up the entire athletics program, Dr. Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success ... and the basis for our bright future."

Kathleen Worthington

Executive Senior Associate Athletics Director

Kathleen Worthington was named associate athletics director for internal operations in May 1999, and promoted to executive senior associate athletics director in September 2002. She came to Maryland from Morehead State University, where she had served as associate athletics director since February 1998 after spending two years as an assistant athletics director.

At Maryland, Worthington is responsible for supervision of the department's internal operations including sports medicine, academic support, facilities and operations, personnel and compliance.

During her time at Morehead State, her primary focus was business operations, policy development, and strategic planning. Prior to Morehead State, Worthington spent two years as the assistant to the AD at the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

She earned her bachelor's degree in mass communications from the College of Notre Dame in Maryland in 1985. She earned a master's degree in public relations from Syracuse and a master's in athletics administration from Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

She was inducted into College of Notre Dame's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1997 and in 1999 was named an NCAA Leadership Fellow. In 1996, she earned the graduate student achievement award from University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

Larry Leckonby

Senior Associate Athletics Director Business and Finance/Chief Financial Officer

Larry Leckonby was hired as the Chief Financial Officer for the Athletics Department in September. As the department's CFO, he manages the athletic department's annual $38 million operating budget and long-range financial forecasting. In addition, he will have some sport supervision responsibility and be responsible for coordinating departmental construction projects

Leckonby came to Maryland after serving as the senior associate director of athletics at the University of Houston for the past five years. For Maryland, Leckonby oversees the business operations and advises on financing for facilities enhancements, while focusing on keeping the department fiscally solvent through creative revenue opportunities and various cost containment initiatives.

At Houston, Leckonby was appointed as the senior associate AD in January 1998, with responsibility for the daily administration of the department and specific areas of duty involving finance, planning, fund-raising and marketing. He also served as interim athletics director for six months in 2001 and 2002.

Prior to his arrival at Houston in January 1998, Leckonby served as the associate AD for business affairs at Boston College for four-and-a-half years (1993-98), and the assistant AD for finance and operations at Old Dominion University for five years (1988-93). He was the ticket manager and assistant business manager at Boston University from 1982 to 1988, after beginning his athletics business career at the University of Massachusetts(Amherst) where he was an administrative assistant to the business manager beginning in 1981.

A former lacrosse player at Duke University, he graduated with a bachelor's degree in management science in 1979. He earned a master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1983. Leckonby is an active member of the College Athletic Business Managers Association. Besides serving on numerous finance and planning committees during his career, he also has helped direct several NCAA and conference championships including NCAA Baseball Super Regional events in 1999, 2000 and 2002.

He and his wife, Cris, have two daughters, Hunter and Katie, and a son, Liam, and resides in College Park.

Joe Hull

Senior Associate A.D./External Operations

Joe Hull is in his fifth year at the University of Maryland following 12 years in various athletic fund-raising, ticketing and marketing capacities at North Carolina State University.

Hull was promoted to senior associate athletics director for external operations in June 2002 after serving in that role on an interim basis during the previous year. At Maryland, he oversees all fund-raising efforts for the Terrapins' athletic program. During his tenure, athletic fund-raising has increased by 500 percent. Hull also oversees the media relations and marketing offices in addition to the men's and women's tennis teams.

In addition, Hull serves as the point person for the Comcast Center, the university's new arena that opened in October 2002. His duties relevant to the arena process have included coordinating the efforts to find a naming gift, designing and managing a capital campaign to help fund arena construction, and working with the architects, construction manager and Maryland Stadium Authority to design and build the arena.

Prior to his arrival in College Park, he was associate director of the NC State Student Aid Association (Wolfpack Club), which raises more than $7 million annually for athletic scholarships from its more than 14,000 members/contributors. The Wolfpack Club also was responsible for raising more than $50 million for the construction of a 20,000-seat sports arena through a campaign designed by Hull.

Hull earned his bachelor's degree in business management from North Carolina State University in 1978 and played four years of collegiate golf for the Wolfpack while earning ACC Honor Roll status. He also earned a law degree from Campbell University in 1981 and a master's in sports administration from Ohio University in 1985.

His wife, JoAnn, formerly served as an assistant attorney general for the state of North Carolina. They have two children, Josie (11) and Josh (8).

Dave Haglund

Associate A.D./Media Relations

Dave Haglund joined the University of Maryland athletic staff in January of 1998 following a 16-year career in the sports information office at Fresno State University. At Maryland he serves as the administrative head of the Terrapins' media relations unit, overseeing the development and implementation of initiatives to provide publicity for the university's 25 varsity sports and more than 600 student-athletes.

He was elevated to associate athletics director in February 1999, and also serves as sports supervisor for gymnastics.

A 1981 graduate of Oregon State University, Haglund began his sports information career as an assistant SID at Fresno State in 1981 and was elevated to sports information director in 1996. During the course of his career at Fresno State, he served as the primary contact person for the Bulldogs' nationally ranked Division I football, basketball, baseball and soccer programs. He also served as information director of the California Bowl (1982-83) for two years.

Haglund and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of two children: Samantha (9) and Matthew (6).

Robert Koonce

Associate A.D./Academic Support

Robert Koonce joined the Maryland athletic staff in January 2001 as associate athletics director for academic support and career development. Koonce directs all academic support and career development programs and services for the Terps.

Most recently, Koonce served as the assistant athletics director of student services at Tulane for three years. While at Tulane, he was a member of the department's senior cabinet, and managed all aspects of the student services operations, including full-time staff, tutors, and other staff members.

Koonce earned his bachelor's degree in economics and sociology from Union College in Schenectady, N.Y., and his master's degree in higher education administration from the University of Michigan in 1990. Upon graduation from Union College, he was named the assistant dean of admissions and financial aid/coordinator of minority recruitment at his alma mater before moving to Michigan.

Koonce worked at Michigan for five years, eventually assuming the responsibilities of assistant academic advisor in the department of intercollegiate athletics for the last three years. He then moved to Skidmore College where he served as the assistant director of admissions/coordinator of multicultural recruitment for a short time in 1995 before entering a three-year stint at the University of Pennsylvania as the assistant athletics director of academic services and recruitment before joining the Tulane staff.

Curt Callahan

Assistant A.D./Operations & Facilities

Curt Callahan, a veteran member of the Terrapins' athletic staff, is in his 15th year overseeing Maryland's athletic operations and facilities. He also served as an assistant wrestling coach with the Terps for 23 years under head coach John McHugh. Callahan was named the department's facilities coordinator in 1988 and was elevated to assistant athletics director in 1997.

As the key contact person on operations and facilities, Callahan manages the department's vast athletic complex. In recent years, he played an instrumental role in three major building projects: the upper deck addition to Byrd Stadium, the construction of the Gossett Football Team House, and the completion of the James H. Kehoe Track and Field Facility and Ludwig Field. His game management responsibilities have included overseeing numerous NCAA lacrosse tournaments held in College Park.

His tenure at the university dates to his undergraduate days as a wrestler in the late 1960s, when he played an integral role in the Terps winning four consecutive ACC wrestling championships. Callahan was a two-time conference champion, winning individual titles in 1969 and '70. He was 22-1 as a junior, his only loss coming to NCAA and eventual Olympic champion Dan Gable of Iowa.

Callahan was a two-time qualifier to the U.S. Olympic Trials and final elimination camp. In both 1972 and '76, he finished fourth nationally in Greco-Roman at 149.5 pounds.

Shawn Flynn

Associate A.D./Internal Operations

Shawn Flynn is in his first year as associate athletics director for internal operations and championships coordinator. He is responsible for overseeing baseball, men's lacrosse, men's soccer, women's soccer, and the men's and women's swimming programs. In addition, he supervises the facilities and operations unit.

Flynn came to Maryland in 1988 as a graduate assistant for Intramurals and Sports Clubs with Campus Recreation Services. In 1990 he was hired as the Campus Recreation Coordinator for Facilities and Sports Clubs. In that role he administered a 25-club Sport Club Program in addition to establishing a First-Aid/CPR program. In 1994 his responsibilities expanded when he was promoted to assistant director for facilities and sports clubs.

Two years later Flynn was promoted to associate director for facilities. He played an integral role in the development, opening and operation of two major facility initiatives, the Campus Recreation Center and Ritchie Coliseum. Flynn served as the department liaison with various campus departments and worked with university committees and working groups. Flynn was the event director for the 1999 and 2000 FINA United States Swimming World Cup.

In addition to his work at Campus Recreation Services, Flynn served as the site director for the Nationals Futures Tournament/Super Camp for the United States Field Hockey Association since 1996. He was also a member of the 2000 U.S. Swimming Olympic Trials event team and has assisted the Washington Regional 2012 Coalition.

Flynn earned his bachelor of arts degree in business/economics from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown in 1988. He went on to earn a master's in kinesiology with a concentration in sport management from the University of Maryland in 1992.

Cheryl Harrison

Assistant A.D./External Operations

Cheryl Harrison was promoted to assistant athletics director for external operations in July 2002 after serving as interim AD for external operations since September 2001.

Harrison is responsible for overseeing the development office, including the Terrapin Club, Major Gifts, M Club and the Walk of Fame and History in addition to funding capital campaign projects.

Harrison came to Maryland in 1996 as the assistant director of major gifts. In July 1997 she was promoted to director of advancement projects and was again promoted in September 1999 to director of development for major gifts. She became the interim AD for external operations in August 2001. Since her arrival in 1996, capital campaign gifts have increased by 300 percent. Harrison planned and implemented campaigns to provide funding to capital campaign projects including the Comcast Center and the expansion and renovation of the Gossett Football Team House. She managed day-to-day activities of the Building Partners Campaign for the Comcast Center that surpassed its $20 million goal. Harrison also managed the execution of travel programs for Terrapin Club members to the 2002 Orange Bowl and 2002 NCAA Final Four.

Lisa Peterson

Assistant A.D./Business

Lisa Peterson is in her seventh year on the athletics staff and her first as assistant athletics director for business operations.

A 1994 graduate of St. John's University, Peterson joined the Maryland staff in January 1997 as assistant business manager. She was promoted to business manager in 1999 and was elevated to her current position in August 2002.

Prior to joining the Terps, she was the assistant business manager at the University of Miami (Fla.) from Sept. 1995 through Jan. 1997. She also worked in the business office at St. John's as an undergraduate and graduate student. She earned her MBA from St. John's in 1997.

At St. John's Peterson was a four-year letterwinner on the track and field team where she captured a Big East title in the hammer throw and set a conference record in the event with a mark of 180-3. She later participated in the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Michael Lipitz

Assistant A.D./Administration

Michael Lipitz joined the Terps staff in August 1999 and has served as assistant athletics director for administration since January 2001.

Lipitz works closely with the athletics director in managing the day-to-day operations of the athletics department. He is responsible for many of the department's annual reporting requirements, oversees a variety of internal and external projects, and serves as a liaison to Dr. Charles Wellford, the faculty athletic representative, and the Student Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C).

Lipitz also supervises the Terps' wrestling and women's golf programs and manages entertainment bookings in the Comcast Center. Recently, he spearheaded the department's successful recertification through the second-cycle of the NCAA Division I Athletic Certification Self-Study.

Lipitz graduated cum laude from the University of Maryland with a degree in government and politics and concentrations in English and Political Leadership. He was a four-year varsity starter and two-year co-captain on the men's tennis team and received the Geary F. Eppley Award as the senior letterwinner with the highest overall grade point average.

Before returning to Maryland, Lipitz earned his law degree from Villanova Law School, where he debated for the moot court team and specialized in domestic relations.

Dr. Charles Wellford

Faculty Athletics Representative

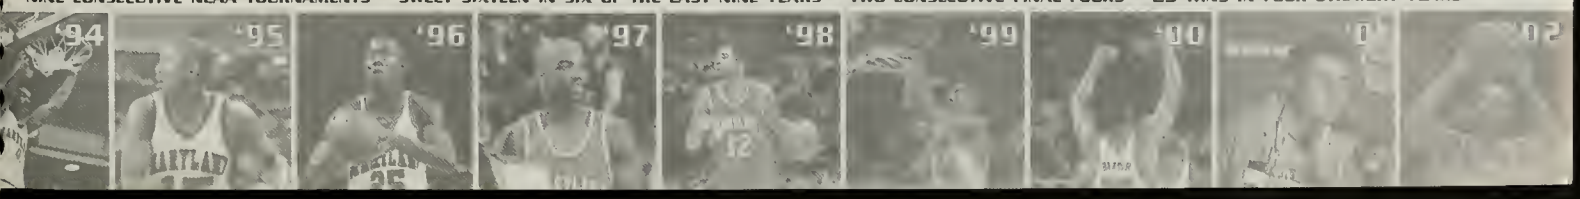
Dr. Charles F. Wellford, professor and chair of the Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, is in his seventh year as the University of Maryland's faculty athletics representative. In this role, he represents the University of Maryland and its faculty in the institution's relationships with the NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference. Dr. Wellford also serves as director of the Maryland Justice Analysis Center.

He served as president of the Atlantic Coast Conference for the 1999-2000 academic year, and has chaired the University of Maryland's Athletic Council since 1995-96. He previously served on the Athletic Council from 1986-89 and 1992-95.

At the University of Maryland, Dr. Wellford has been involved in a variety of leadership roles. He was interim associate provost for research and for continuing education. He is chair of the law and justice committee at the National Academy of Sciences.

He serves on numerous state and federal advisory boards and commissions, and is a past (1995-96) president of the American Society of Criminology (ASC).

Dr. Wellford received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Maryland and his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania.



Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for seven professional academic counselors, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for two professional counselors, a program assistant and a 16-station desktop computer center.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success Program (C.H.A.M.P.S.) and the NCAA Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

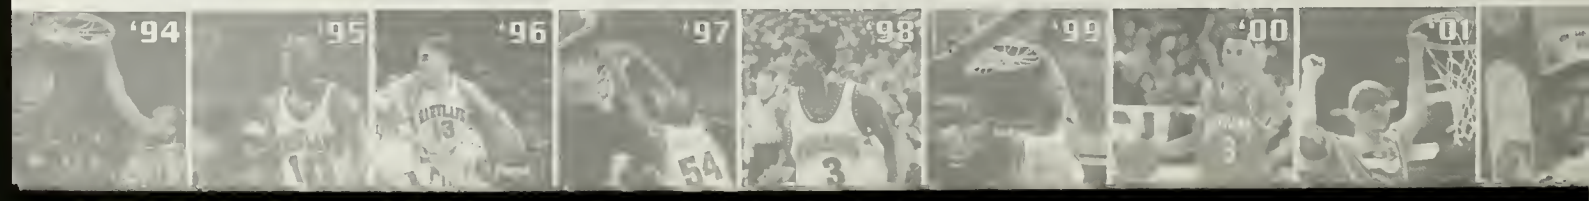
CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs Commitment Statements

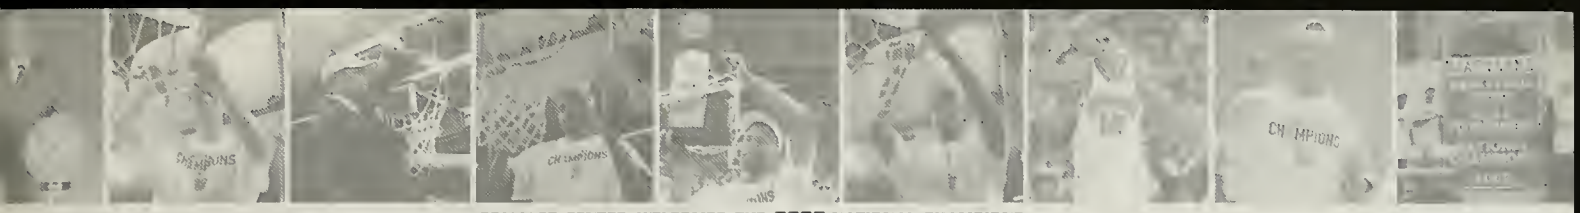
Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation. At Maryland, ASCDU offers a variety of programs and services including: prospective student-athlete orientation, academic counseling, NCAA academic eligibility monitoring, academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops, accredited tutorial support, individualized learning program, in addition to the following academic courses: EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills), EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills), and UNIV 100/101 (First-year transitions to the university).

Holden Serves As SAAC President

Maryland men's basketball senior Tahj Holden is in his second year as the president of the Student-Athlete Advisory Council. During the 2001-02 academic year, Holden served as the Atlantic Coast Conference's vice president of S.A.A.C. Currently, he is the ACC's S.A.A.C.'s chair of legislative affairs. Holden has participated in various S.A.A.C. events at Maryland. He also was an active participant at student-athlete day this past winter, signing many autographs for students (right).





COMCAST CENTER WELCOMES THE 2002 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

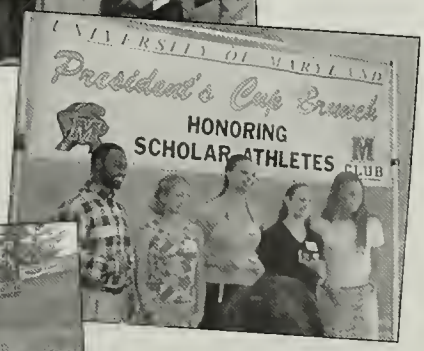
2002 ASCDU Events



Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete. ASCDU hosts the spirit games that bring together student-athletes from various teams to support fellow student-athletes at home events.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging the emotional well-being, personal growth and decision making skills. ASCDU sponsors workshops and seminars that address issues pertinent to the student-athlete, including the HERO Campaign.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club. It is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process and is distributed to more than 800 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities. ASCDU community service events include National Student Athlete Day, the Terrapin Enrichment Reading Program (T.E.R.P.), hospital visits and the Midnight Madness canned food drive.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to returning its former athletes for degree completion. Maryland is recognized in the NCAS Degree Completion Honor Roll's top-25. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student is provided with a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.

Sports Medicine

Medical Staff

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

Brian M. Crites, M.D.

Head Team Physician
Orthopaedic Surgeon

Dr. Crites is in his first year as team physician. He is a graduate of Indiana University School of Medicine. Dr. Crites completed his residency in orthopaedic surgery at Duke University Medical Center and his sports medicine fellowship at University of Maryland Medical Center.

Dr. Crites is an assistant professor in the department of orthopaedic surgery at University of Maryland School of Medicine. In addition to his duties at Maryland, he is also the head team physician for the Baltimore Bayhawks professional lacrosse team and an orthopaedic consultant for the Baltimore Ravens and Coppin State University. A two year starter on the football team at Hanover College, Dr. Crites earned four varsity letters and was team captain.

He and his wife, Susan, are the parents of Ted (7) and Audrey (4).

Yvette Rooks, M.D.

Primary Care Physician

Dr. Yvette Rooks is in her fifth year as a primary care physician for Maryland's athletic program. Dr. Rooks graduated from the Upstate Medical School/Health Science Center in Syracuse, N.Y., in 1993. She completed her residency in family medicine and a sports medicine fellowship at the University of Maryland, Baltimore. She currently is an assistant professor in the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine. Dr. Rooks also serves as a team physician at Coppin State.

She graduated with honors from the State University of New York at Albany where she was a four-year starter on the volleyball team.

Sean Curtin, M.D.

Primary Care Physician

Sean Curtin is in his fourth year as a primary care physician with the University of Maryland's athletic program. Dr. Curtin is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Medicine residency and fellowship training programs. He is board certified in both internal medicine and sports medicine.

Dr. Curtin is in private practice in Bel Air, Md., specializing in primary care and sports medicine, and is currently a clinical instructor at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

Dr. Curtin played collegiate baseball at Villanova. He and his wife, Yolanda, are the parents of Calvin, 6, and Matthew, 4.

Student Health Center

Dr. Sacared Bodison, Dr. Stephen Fahey, Dr. John Lucas and Dr. Janice Ragland are four full-time University Health Center physicians who specialize in sports medicine. Dr. Bodison is the assistant director for medical services at the Health Center and has been involved with the care of student-athletes since 1982. Dr. Fahey is an emergency physician who is in his 16th year working with the Terrapins. Dr. John Lucas, a family practice physician, is in his fourth year of affiliation with the university's athletic teams. All three doctors are available to treat student-athletes daily on an as-needed basis in the Health Center. In addition, Dr. Janice Raglund serves as director of the University Health Center and is a member of the Maryland Athletic Council.

Sandy Worth

Head Trainer

Sandy Worth, who has been affiliated with Maryland's athletic program since 1973, coordinates and directs the medical care for the Terps' football program in addition to her responsibilities as the university's head athletic trainer.

A native of Timonium, Md., Worth supervises and schedules a professional staff of six full-time assistants and approximately 25 student trainers who combine to provide medical assistance to the university's more than 600 student-athletes. Worth, a 1973 graduate of Maryland, joined the Terps' staff that same year as an associate trainer. She was promoted to head trainer in 1992.

During her career at Maryland, Worth has worked directly with five teams that have captured national championships — four in women's lacrosse and one in field hockey. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball program when it won eight ACC titles and advanced to three NCAA Final Fours.

Strength and Conditioning

In the highly competitive world of collegiate basketball, the off-court preparation of the basketball athlete is a critical component in the on-court success of any Division I program. Kurtis Shultz, Maryland's strength and conditioning coach for men's basketball, believes strongly that a solid off-court training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development and, in turn, has resulted in great success on the basketball court.

Shultz's philosophy consists of allowing the players to gain strength, speed and change of direction capabilities through drills that are basketball oriented. He believes that the team must be prepared to run and play the up-tempo style of basketball that is Gary Williams' trademark. Shultz trains the team so that it will be able to run Williams' style.

The members of the men's basketball team have the use of a fully-equipped weight training facility located across the hall from the men's basketball office and the team's locker room in the Comcast Center. The conveniently located 4,000 sq. foot facility features a combination of Sorinex weight training equipment and York free weight equipment. The strength staff utilizes this facility specifically during the season as basketball team members are personally trained after practice.

Terrapin Club

Championships Begin With Scholarships

The Terrapin Club is composed of alumni, friends and fans of University of Maryland athletics. Your Terrapin Club contribution provides annual athletic scholarship support to our student-athletes. As a Terrapin Club member, you will enjoy the camaraderie and fellowship unique to this organization. Supporting the Club is a great way to stay connected with the University of Maryland, the state's flagship institution. Most importantly, you will feel the pride and satisfaction in providing a University of Maryland student-athlete with a quality education.

Your donation is vital. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant university funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. We are challenged to fund the 271 full scholarships presently offered and, in the future, to fund the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for our 25 sports. We cannot reach this goal without your participation.

How Do I Get Involved?

Direct gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover). For your convenience, a personal checking account can be debited a set amount every month.

In many cases, corporate matching gifts may be used to make your Terrapin Club contribution. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

How Much Should I Contribute?

Silver	$125 - $249	Coaches Club	$5,000 - $9,999
Silver 250	$250 - $599	Top Terp	$10,000 and More
Gold	$600 - $1,199

Still Have Questions?

Major Gifts Fundraising

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to providing its student athletes the resources they need to excel athletically and academically. It also strives to provide fans an exciting game day environment in which to enjoy the exhilaration of collegiate athletics. The Athletics Major Gifts staff works with alumni and fans to raise funds for facility construction or renovation projects, and endowments for scholarships and programs.

Cooper Jones
Director, Major Gifts

Our current project, the Gossett Football Team House Campaign, is an effort to provide funding so that Coach Ralph Friedgen and his staff and team will have the tools necessary for Maryland Football to resurge as a national powerhouse. The funds raised through this vital campaign will help to make significant improvements to our football facilities and fields. Over 20,000 square feet will be added to the existing team house through this expansion project, with the addition of: (1) an academic support area for football student-athletes that will have fully-wired computer work stations, group study areas and private space for tutoring and counseling; (2) a multi-purpose room with full kitchen that will serve as the team training table for one meal a day, and will provide much needed space for hosting recruits, their families and high school coaches; and (3) a team meeting auditorium that will be fully technologically capable, and will have sufficient space for the team to meet together as a group as they prepare for competitions. As a part of this project, we will also expand the team house entrance and lobby, to include a football Hall of Fame area.

The renovated team house will make a positive and strong impression to prospective players, our team, alumni and visitors, and will ensure that the Terps have the best possible facilities. Without improvement and enhancement of our football facilities, we may not be able to attract the caliber of students who can assist in making Maryland Football exciting, competitive and a source of pride for University of Maryland students, alumni, faculty, staff and fans.

To obtain information on the Gossett Football Team House Campaign, contact the Major Gifts Office at (301) 314-7020, or toll free at (800) 653-7667, or visit our website at www.terrapinclub.com.

Maryland Educational Foundation

The primary mission of the Maryland Educational Foundation (MEF) is to provide scholarship endowment funds in support of the athletics department's annual athletic scholarship expenses. By supporting talented, deserving student-athletes, donors ensure that our legacy of excellence will continue and grow. For more than 50 years, the MEF has provided financial support for Maryland athletics and is an important part of the department's gift-giving program. The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of permanently funding many of the athletics scholarships now being awarded.

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used (in part or whole) for scholarships. The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. An endowment gift is truly a significant investment in the future of Maryland athletics. Contact the Major Gifts office at 301-314-7020 if you would like more information.

M Club

A 79-Year Tradition of Athletes Helping Athletes

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,200 former Maryland varsity athletes.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the 25 varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund and support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts. Members receive the monthly athletic department publication (TerpTalk) and electronic newsletters for information about the current teams and news about former teammates.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Dotti Warren at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.themclub.org. Remember the M Club, "Athletes Helping Athletes."

NINE CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS • SWEET SIXTEEN IN SIX OF THE LAST NINE YEARS • TWO CONSECUTIVE FINAL FOURS • 25 WINS IN FOUR STRAIGHT YEARS

Terrapin Radio Network

All of Maryland's games will be broadcast live on the Terrapin Sports Network, which boasts one of the strongest coverage areas in collegiate sports. Terrapin Sports Marketing, a division of Viacom Sports Marketing, manages the Terrapin Sports Network in College Park. In its first year as the multi-media marketing rights partner for University of Maryland athletics, Terrapin Sports Marketing is building a stronger network that will provide coverage in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and Washington, D.C.

Johnny Holliday will again serve as the voice of the Terps. He will be joined by color analyst Chris Knoche.

Maryland's broadcasts of both home and away games will be accessible on the Internet via the Terps' official athletics website, www.umterps.com.

Johnny Holliday

Play-By-Play

Johnny Holliday, who is in his third decade as the Terps' play-by-play announcer, has broadcast more than 600 Maryland basketball games, 39 NCAA Tournament games and will call his 23rd ACC Tournament this season.

Holliday, now in his 24th year as the "Voice of the Terps" is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the country. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland football and basketball teams, Holliday hosts the award-winning Gary Williams and Ralph Friedgen television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he also handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletics department, ranging from banquets to golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of the 2000 and 1996 Summer Olympics and the Winter and Summer Olympics in 1984, 1988 and 1994. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters, and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disc jockey during his rock 'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coaches' television shows on Comcast SportsNet, the region's premier sports channel. Holliday is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts. Additionally, Holliday was named one of the top 16 radio announcers for college basketball by ESPN's Dick Vitale.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey.

In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Washingtonian magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons.

In 1998, he was honored by the Greater Washington, D.C. Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland M Club Distinguished Citizen Award. He earned the Touchdown Club Award for outstanding achievement in sports broadcasting in 1991, and was the recipient of the Maryland basketball service award in 1999. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa and the nniversity's Alumni Association.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who recently graduated from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia and works for Discovery.

Chris Knoche

Color Analyst

Chris Knoche, a former player and head coach at American University who has worked in radio and television for the past four years, is in his fourth season as the color analyst for the Terp men's basketball radio broadcasts.

Knoche spent 17 seasons at American, playing the 1979-80 and '80-81 seasons under current Terp coach Gary Williams before moving into an assistant coaching position and later serving seven seasons (1991-97) as the Eagles' head coach.

Prior to joining Maryland's broadcast crew, he worked 40-50 games each of the previous two season as a color commentator, including stints on the Ivy League Game of the Week on Westwood One/CBS Radio and Ivy League Game of the Week for DirecTV and for HDTV. He has also worked telecasts for ESPN and CSN, in addition to doing radio and television analysis for George Mason University games. Currently he makes regular guest appearances on the highly rated "The Sports Reporters" on Sportstalk 980 in Washington, D.C.

"Chris Knoche brings an outstanding background as a player, coach and fan to our basketball broadcasts," said Williams, the Terps' 14th-year head coach. "Being able to work with Johnny Holliday, Chris provides the opportunity for Maryland fans to listen to someone who has very good experience as a color commentator. More important, he is someone who has a great feel for the game of basketball. I have known Chris as a player and a coach for more than 20 years. He has been an exciting addition to our basketball program."

Welcome To Maryland

Welcome to College Park and the home of the 2002 National Champion Maryland Terrapins.

Maryland basketball has become one of the finest programs in the country and Comcast Center is one of the nation's finest places to view college basketball. The Maryland basketball program and the University of Maryland thank you for making this stop along your "Road to the Final Four."

The media relations staff is available to serve you, and has prepared this media guide as a source of information for the 2002-03 season. Welcome to Maryland.

Before Your Visit

– reporters, photographers, videographers and directors/producers.

Working space in the press area of Comcast Center is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area.

Online and Internet agencies must have official affiliation with an opponent or other major news agency in order to receive credentials. All online or Internet agency requests will be approved on a space-available basis, only.

Credentials should be ordered at least one week before each game, and are issued by the media relations office. Requests for credentials should be made in writing, on letterhead. Requests may be faxed to 301-314-9094. Requests are accepted from sports editors and sports directors, only.

Credential requests are carefully scrutinized to insure proper working conditions in the press area. When time permits, a working press pass and parking pass will be mailed. When this is not possible, credentials will be left at the media will call window at the southeast ground floor entrance at Comcast Center, directly beneath the main ticket entrance on the south side of the arena.

Game Day Press Parking

Parking is located to the north of Comcast Center – in lots 4J, P1 and P2. Media parking is best accessed from the University Drive (Rt. 193) entrance to campus at Paint Branch Drive. Access to the media parking area is parking pass only, and is available on a limited basis

Photography And Camera Guidelines

All photographers and camera operators must remain seated in baseline photo areas, as per NCAA regulations. Locations will be assigned for more crowded games. Photographer and videographer positions are at the complete and absolute discretion of the basketball game officials and the Maryland media relations office at all times, without exception.

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in photography areas. Priority shall be given, in all instances, to photographers and videographers on assignment. Only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) shall have access to courtside photo areas.

Strobe lights may be installed in Comcast Center, but arrangements must be made through the media relations office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Press Seating and Media Work Room

The courtside press area and work room both are at the northeast corner of the arena. Both are available for working media only.

Working space in the press area of Comcast Center is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area.

Located on the court level of Comcast Center, the work room is directly across from the men's basketball locker room and directly behind the courtside press area. They are connected by the tunnel area adjacent to the loading dock and service entrance on the arena's northeast corner.

A limited number of long distance phone lines are available in the work room on a first-come, first-served basis, and require a credit card for billing. Dedicated phone lines in the courtside press area are available by placing an advance order with Gary Parker, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7127.

The work room opens well before game time and media representatives are welcome upon arrival at the arena. A pregame food service is served buffet style. A halftime and postgame beverage service is also available. The pregame buffet is available one hour before tipoff.

Telephones

Six complimentary phone lines are available in the Comcast Center press work room, as dictated by ACC policy (calling card or reverse charges required). Additional requests for dedicated lines, either for the work room or courtside, should be directed to Gary Parker, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7127. List Kevin Messenger as the contact for all installations.

Fax Machine Service

A fax machine is operated during, and after, all games. Media agencies desiring a box score or play-by-play faxed to their office may request this service with a member of the media relations staff.

Postgame Press Conference

The Maryland locker room is open to credentialed media for a brief period after Coach Williams concludes his comments to the media. The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school.

Postgame Statistics

A statistics packet including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores, and postgame notes and quotes, are compiled for each game and made available to the media at press row and in the media work room.

E-Mail Services

MediaTeamlink.com

Releases, statistics and other sports information from all ACC schools, as well as other conferences and institutions, are available by accessing www.mediateamlink.com.

Participating media may have updated documents delivered directly to your e-mail and/or fax machine the moment they are updated. You can also view documents on-line. MediaTeamlink is FREE to all accredited media.

Log on to www.mediateamlink.com if you do not already have an account, and click the "Sign Up Here" button and complete the short form. Documents requested via fax will incur a 15 cents per page fee. Pivotal Communications will conduct an audit to eliminate non-accredited media.

In-Season Interview Policies

All Maryland players and head coach Gary Williams will be available for interviews with accredited members of the media throughout the season. All interview requests must be made through the media relations office, contacting Kevin Messenger. Please give a minimum 24 hours notice.

Players' individual phone numbers will not be given to the media. Players will not be available for live call-in radio shows.

Weekly Teleconference

Beginning the first Tuesday in January and continuing each week through the end of the season, the Atlantic Coast Conference will conduct a weekly telephone press conference featuring all nine league coaches, beginning at 11 a.m.

Each coach will be available to furnish comments and take questions for 10 minutes, beginning with Clemson head coach Larry Shyatt and continuing in alphabetical order by school. Gary Williams is available from 11:40 to 11:50.

The weekly press conference can be accessed by calling 913-981-5507. Please contact Barb Dery at the ACC office (336-851-6062) for further information.

TERPS NO. 1

Longevity and Loyalty

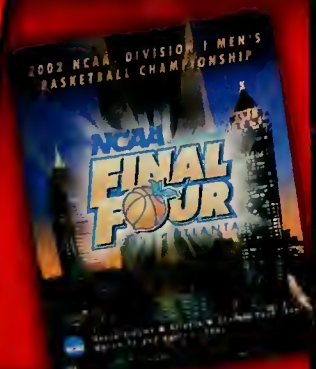
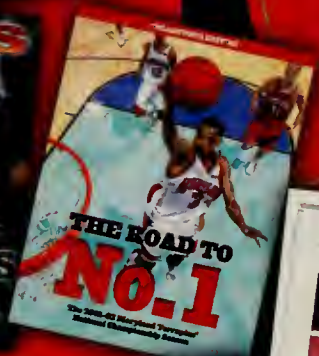
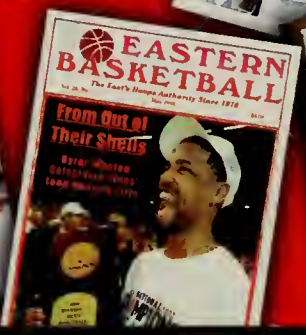
...at the White House...

...and at the Final Four







- Maryland won 19 of its final 20 games en route to its 32-4 record and the 2002 national title.
- The Terrapins became the first team ever to advance to the national championship game by playing the highest possible seed in each round of the NCAA Tournament (#16 Siena, #8 Wisconsin, #4 Kentucky, #2 Connecticut, #1 Kansas).
- Maryland became just the eighth team since 1970 to win every game of the NCAA Tournament by at least eight points.
- Since Feb. 17, 2001, Maryland has a combined record of 42-6. All six losses have been on the road against teams which finished in last season's Top 25.
- Maryland was the only team in the country last season to beat teams which were ranked No. 1 and No. 2 during the season.

Gary Williams

ACC & National Coach of the Year

- No other school in the country has won a national title, attended each of the last nine NCAA Tournaments and won 25 games in each of the last four seasons.
- Gary Williams is the sixth college basketball coach since 1980 to guide his alma mater to the Final Four and the first since 1974 to guide his alma mater to a national title.
- Williams is one of just 10 active coaches to boast a national championship.
- He is one of only two active coaches in America, and just the 12th overall, to guide his alma mater to two Final Four appearances.
- Gary Williams is only the eighth coach to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.
- Williams is the only active coach to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Four appearances.
- He is one of just six coaches to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in six of the last nine years (1994 to 2002), and one of six to boast a string of nine consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament (1994 to 2002). He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches on both lists.
- Gary Williams is a winner of 70 percent of his NCAA Tournament games while at Maryland.
